Where the Cactus Dahlias Blooming

March Song,
Written and Composed expressly for the
A·Y·P·Exposition.

Words by
Rene Bronner

Music by
Frederick Richard Benjamin,
AUTHOR OF
Welcome The Boys in Blue
ETC.

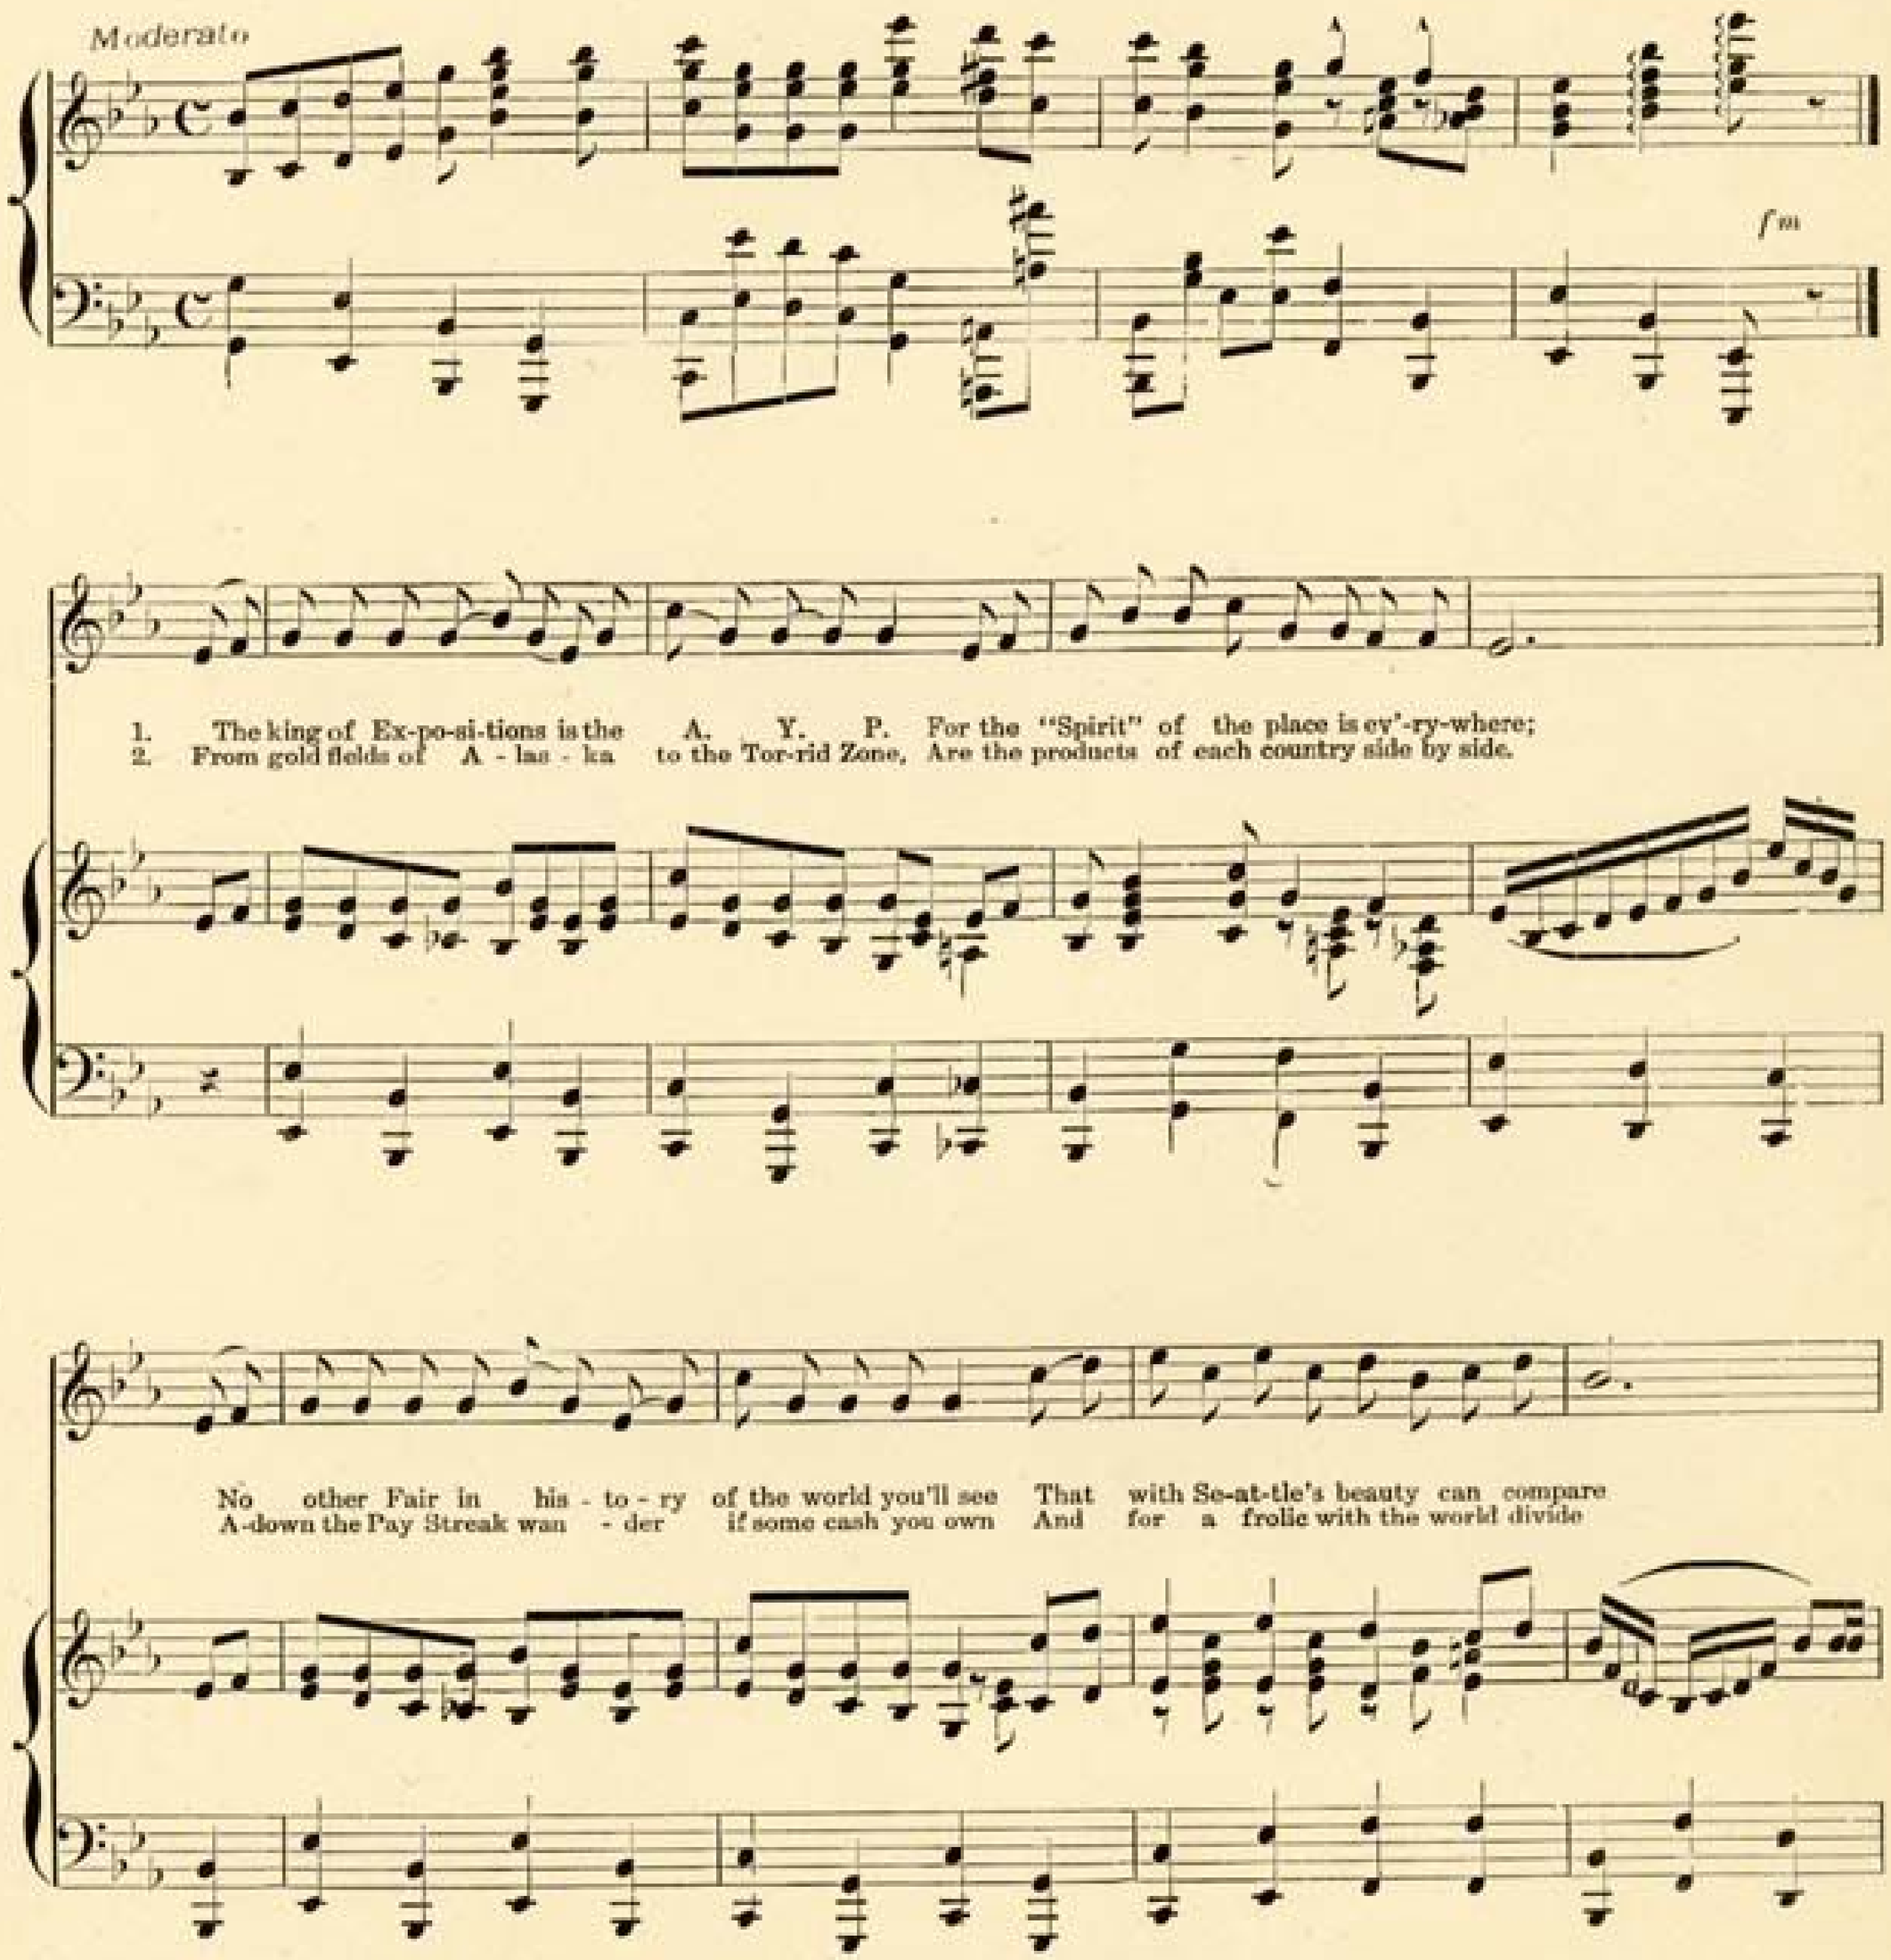
5

Property of the Music Library. University of Washington Libraries. Ashford Collection.

"Where the Cactus Dahlias Blooming."

—Words By—
Rene Bronner.

—Music by
Frederick Richard Benjamin.



Copyright, MCMIX by F. R. BENJAMIN.

Property of the Music Library. University of Washington Libraries. Ashford Collection.

The grandeur of its mountains, and the beauty of its shores, Fill the hearts of vis-i-tors with peace and rest.
The Pal-ace of Ex - hi - bits from the lands we never knew, Here will speak to us of wealth beyond the sea.

Tho' oth-er lands they've trav-eled in, their beaut-ies to explore, Yet they all ag-ree Se - at - tle is the best.
The harbor boats at anchor, manned with boys who wear the blue, Uncle Sam is for the A. Y. P.

Chorus.

Where the cactus dahlin's bloom - - - ing, 'Neath the sun - ny

p f

West - - ern sky ..... Where the bands are loud - ly boom -

Property of the Music Library. University of Washington Libraries. Ashford Collection.

ing And the mul - ti - tudes go by

Then the dreams of old Se - at - tle, To the world will bright - ly

p f

shine, Where the Cac - tus dahl - ias bloom - ing

In the year of nine-teen - nine, nine.

1 2

PRINTED BY LIBERAL PRINTING CO., 808 PIKE ST., SEATTLE, WASH.

Property of the Music Library. University of Washington Libraries. Ashford Collection.