ARANDA SHIELD

Central Australia

66 cm. long

An old painted inscription on the shield reads: Aranda Zentr. Australien Mc. Donnell Gebirge ehm. Sml. G. Liebler Hpt-Lehrer in Kitzingen 1911 ges. II/1570.

The inscription indicates that the shield came from the McDonnell Ranges area (in the Northern Territory, near Alice Springs), was formerly in the collection of G. Liebler, head-teacher in Kitzingen (Bavaria), and was donated in 1911. To which museum or institution is unknown.

Liebler is a well-known name in the field of Australian ethnography. Pastor Oskar Liebler served at the Hermannsburg Mission between 1910 and 1913 during which time he collected and sold more than 1,500 Arrente artefacts, many to the South Australia Museum and ethnographic museums in Hamburg, Munich and Stuttgart. It is not known if G. Liebler was related to Oskar Liebler but the date of its donation suggests that a family link is highly likely.

KALINGA SHIELD

Philippines

127 cm. long

Provenance

The shield retains a fragment of an old printed and inscribed label: leg. Dr. Mey [er?]. This could possibly be Hans Heinrich Josef Meyer (1858-1929) of the wealthy Leipzig publishing family, in which case it is likely to have been collected during his world tour of 1882. Part of the inscription on the label reads: schild der Guina... and during his trip Meyer collected amongst the Guinanes (the former name for the Kalinga); Many of the objects collected by Hans Meyer are now in the Museum of Ethnology in Leipzig.

Gustav Heinrich Ralph von Koenigswald (1902 -1982), one of the leading figures of 20th Century paleo-anthropology. Born in Berlin, von Koenigswald joined the Dutch Geological Survey of Java as paleontologist in late 1930 and went on to undertake a systematic survey of the country, making numerous discoveries of great importance to the understanding of human evolution. He became a Dutch citizen in 1937 and after the war filled a chair in Palaeontology created for him at Utrecht university, a position he held for twenty years. After his retirement he directed the paleontological research centre in Frankfurt until his death in 1982.

Another in the South Australia Museum, acquired in Rabaul by the Edgar Waite Expedition in 1918, is illustrated in Howarth, C., Myth + Magic: Art of the Sepik River, Papua New Guinea, Canberra, 2015, p.78. Howarth attributes the Edgar Waite loincloth to the area at the mouth of the Sepik River. He states that in the Murik Lakes area a ceremonial event, called a „loincloth feast“, involves dressing a first born male child in regalia including the loincloth itself.

For another see Smidt, D. et al., Sculpture from Africa and Oceania, Otterlo, 1990, p.253, cat.96. Such masks were attached to a W-shaped painted palm spathe screen, in the form of a stylized bird landing in the canoe. The mythical bird symbolises the fighting force of the clan and offers protection to the men in the canoe behind its outspread wings as they set out on head-hunting expeditions.

According to the owner this head was found along with others during excavations to construct a road near Jayapura on the north coast of Western New Guinea. Anthony Meyer (Oceanic Art, Cologne, 1995, Vol.1, p.65) illustrates a complete figure in similar style, which he states is an ancestor figure from Nafri Village, Yotefa Bay area, behind Humboldt Bay, and was found circa 1975 or earlier. The two carvings are therefore very likely from the same group.

BIWAT CEREMONIAL CARVING

Yuat River area, Papua New Guinea

108 cm. high

Although the owner informs us that this carving came from the Museum für Kunst und Gewerbe, Hamburg, the accession number, G216, inscribed on the back does not appear to correspond to the museum's accession register. The museum does not hold an Oceanic collection today, but a number of items from the Bismarck Archipelago were transferred from its collection to the Museum für Völkerkunde, Hamburg, in the 1950s.

Cf. Kelm, H., Kunst vom Sepik, vol.III, Berlin, 1698, fig.253, for a similar carving in the Museum für Völkerkunde, Berlin, collected in the village of Mubuanum during the Sepik Expedition of 1912/13. Another can be seen hanging on the wall of Arthur Speyer's home in Berlin Wilmersdorf in 1924 (Schindlbeck, M., Gefunden und verloren : Arthur Speyer, die dreissiger Jahre und die verluste der Sammlung südsee des ethnologischen Museums Berlin, Berlin, 2012, p.109, fig.52 and p.114, fig.56). Other examples were collected by Margaret Mead on the Yuat River in 1933 (Museum of Natural History, New York inventory nos. 80.0/8275 and 80.0/8277). Ernest Wauchope collected a group of similar carvings in the 1930s which are now in the Australian Museum. He recorded a number of uses for such carvings. Small carvings were described as 'fish charms' and larger ones are said to have been used for dancing during initiation, 'paraded' in front of initiates, and also placed at fishing traps.

ASMAT CEREMONIAL COSTUME

Western New Guinea

Gerardus Zegwaard (in Asmat Art: Woodcarvings of Southwest New Guinea, Leiden, 1993) relates that these rope dance costumes were worn during the jipae feast by relatives of the deceased to celebrate the passage of the dead from the world of the living to the world of the spirits. Amongst the Central and Northwest Asmat the jipae feast is organised every few years during which the important people who have died since the previous jipae feast return for a single evening and night after which they take leave of the community permanently. After the ceremony their successors are installed and any orphaned children of the deceased are formally passed to new parents.

ASMAT CEREMONIAL CARVING, OMU

Western New Guinea

200 cm.

According to Tobias Schneebaum (Asmat Images, Agats, 1985, p.104), omu come from the Northwest Asmat, from the villages of Pupis, Momogu, Irogo, and perhaps Djakapis and Weo. The meaning of the word omu is not known; it apparently does not represent a spirit of any kind, human or otherwise. Two omu were found tied head to head on to the central beam of a feast house built by the people of Irogo, deep in the jungle. The carvings were incised with the designs of a butterfly, shell nosepieces and a tongue. The openings were stuffed with sago leaves. Limited descriptions of the feast vary from village to village, although all indicate that men and sometimes women danced along the beam and probably had sexual contact as well.

Cf. Heermann, I. (Ed.), Form Colour Inspiration: Oceanic Art from New Britain, Stuttgart, 2001, pp.158-163, figs.93, 98, 99. The designs on such cloths were made from memory and never copied and sometimes more than one man would work on a design. Beatrice Blackwood in her research in the 1930s recorded that when a design could be interpreted by an owner or painter, its interpretation was not necessarily universally recognised. Inspiration for the designs were said to include pig's tusk ornaments, fishing nets, creepers and snakes.

TATANUA MASK

Northern New Ireland

27 cm. high

The mask was acquired by the Linden Museum in 1899 from Arthur Bässler and was recorded as coming from the 'Gardner Insel' area, the island off the north coast of central New Ireland. It was given to Ludwig Bretschneider in exchange in 1961.

Arthur Bässler was born in Glauchau, Saxony, into a family of merchants and craftsmen. His father owned a textile factory.

Bässler studied Natural Sciences, Geography and Anthropology in Heidelberg, Munich and Berlin.

Between 1887 and 1889, he travelled throughout New Guinea. This journey was followed by an expedition to Australia from 1891 until 1893 and research trips to New Zealand, Polynesia and Peru between 1896 and 1898. Throughout these years, he collected a large number of artefacts and also a wide range of ethnographic data.

On his return to Germany, he donated his collection to ethnological and anthropological museums in Berlin, Dresden and Stuttgart and established a foundation for Oceanic anthropological research. He died in Berswalde in 1907.

Provenance

Wilhelm Heinrich Solf (1862-1936), first Governor of German Samoa

Wilhelm Solf was born into a wealthy family in Berlin. He joined the German Foreign Office in 1888 and served in Calcutta but resigned after three years to study for a doctorate in law. His advanced degree qualified him for a higher position in the diplomatic service and he joined the Colonial Department of the Foreign Office. In 1898 he was appointed district judge in Dar es Salaam in German East Africa. In 1899 he was posted to the Samoan Islands, where he served as council chairman in the provisional government of the municipality of Apia, Samoa.

Following the division of the Samoan Islands as a result of the Tripartite Convention of 1899, the western islands were assigned to Germany and Eastern Samoa to the United States of America. Wilhelm Solf, at the age of 38, became the first Governor of German Samoa on 1 March 1900. He was known as a liberal, painstaking and competent administrator. Under Solf's direction, plantation agriculture was encouraged and the enhanced tax revenues enabled the establishment of a public school system and the construction of a hospital. Road and harbour facilities were improved and the Samoan colony achieved self-sufficiency shortly before Solf's recall to Berlin.

After his return from Samoa, Solf served as Secretary of the German Colonial Office until 1918, travelling extensively to the German protectorates in West and East Africa in 1912 and 1913. He later served as ambassador to Japan. He was married to the former Johanna Dotti, who later formed the anti-Nazi Frau Solf Tea Party get-togethers with their Samoan-born daughter So'oa'emalelagi, also known as Lagi. Solf died in Berlin in 1936.

Provenance

Professor Carl Otto Czeschka, Hamburg (1878-1960)

Carl Otto Czeschka was born in Vienna and studied at the Vienna Academy of Fine Arts from 1894. After graduating in 1897 he became an assistant teacher at the Academy. He became a member of the Wiener Werkstätte in 1905 and worked with Josef Hoffman on designs for the Palais Stoclet in Brussels where he designed seven windows with allegorical scenes for the music hall and two marble reliefs 'Archangel Michael' and 'Allegorical female figure on the crescent moon' for the hall. From 1907 he taught graphic design, typography, book illustration, scene design, textile design and interior decoration at the Kunstgewerbeschule in Hamburg. In the late 1920s Czeschka became one of the foremost masters of Neue Sachlichkeit in Hamburg. After World War II he was selected to design the logo of the weekly newspaper 'Die Zeit', a logo which is still in use today. Czeschka formed a large collection of ethnographic objects mainly acquired from his friend Julius Konietzko, whom he met in 1909 and would later become godfather to his two sons. After the death of Czeschka's wife, Martha, in 1951, Konietzko's wife, Elfriede, was one of the people who took care of him. Julius Konietzko died in 1952 and Czeschka and Elfriede married shortly before Czeschka's death. Some 600 objects from Czeschka's collection are today in the Museum für Völkerkunde, Hamburg.

The present figure is one of a group of four, two male and two female, offered for sale in W.D. Webster's catalogue no.22 of 1899. The other female was acquired by Lt. Gen. Pitt Rivers and was sold by Sotheby's London on 15 July 1975 as lot 237.

Louis Perrois, writing about a Cameroon Fang figure offered for sale at Sotheby's New York, on 17 May 2002, as lot 138, cites the Webster group of figures, which he attributes to the Beti. He states that they are very old and notes their distinct dry patina. For two other figures of similar style see Sotheby's London, 15 July 1975, lot 236, for a male acquired by Lt. Gen. A.H.L.F Pitt Rivers from W.D. Webster in 1897; and Zwernemann, J. and Lohse, W., Aus Afrika, Ahnen-Geister Götter, Hamburg, 1985, p.149, fig.142, for a female figure donated to the Hamburgisches Museum für Völkerkunde in 1879.

The back of the head of the present figure is inscribed in red paint: 55 Ashanti W.Africa though to which collection or institution this relates we do not know.

Conditions of Sale

I. In General

The art auction house, Lempertz N.V. (henceforth referred to as 'Lempertz') conducts public auctions as commissioning agent in its own name and on behalf of the accounts of the submitter. The identity of the submitter remains in principle unknown.

These conditions of sale are applicable to all contracts concluded by Lempertz. Anyone who makes a commitment with Lempertz or who attends an art auction, viewing day or any other similar event, acknowledges and accepts these conditions of sale.

These conditions of sale are originally drawn up in the Dutch language. In case of conflict or discordance between the Dutch version and the translated version, the Dutch version is conclusive.

The lots are sold in the state in which they are found at the moment of the allocation ('as is'). The absence of any reference to the state of the lot does not mean that the lot is in a good state or is free from damages, defects or restorations.

The United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods is not applicable.

II. The Auction process & the process of bidding

II.1. Submission of bids

1. Bids in attendance – The floor bidder receives a bidding number on presentation of his identity card. Lempertz reserves the right to grant entry to the auction. Lempertz reserves the right to deny access to her premises or participation in the auction.

2. Bidding in one's own name and on one's own account – Every bidder is considered to act in his own name and on his own account and is personally liable for making the payment.

3. Bids in absentia – Bids can also be submitted either in writing, telephonically or via the internet. The placing of bids in absentia must reach Lempertz at least twenty four (24) hours before the beginning of the auction to ensure the proper processing thereof.

The lot must be mentioned in the bid placed by the bidder, together with ticket number and lot description. In the event of ambiguities, the listed ticket number becomes applicable. The instruction to bid must be signed by the bidder. The buyer does not have a right of withdrawal (art. VII 53,11° and VII 73,11° Belgian economic law code).

Telephonic bids – Lempertz cannot vouch for the establishment and maintenance of a connection. In submitting a bid placement, the bidder declares that he agrees to the recording of the telephone conversation.

Bids via the internet – Lempertz only considers bids via the internet if the bidder has registered himself on the internet website beforehand. Lempertz treats these bids in the same way as placed bids in writing. Lempertz cannot vouch for the establishment and maintenance of a connection.

4. Bank guarantee and other guarantees – Lempertz has the right to require a bank guarantee or any other guarantee from the bidder to prove his creditworthiness.

5. Obligation to provide information (anti-money laundering legislation) – The bidder provides a copy of the identity documents of the bidder and, as the case may be, of the actual buyer on whose account the bidder occurs.

II.2. Carrying out the auction

6. Allocation – The hammer will come down when no higher bids are submitted after three calls for a bid. In extenuating circumstances, Lempertz is entitled to refuse the acceptance of a bid or to reserve the allocation.

The bidder, who places the highest bid (the buyer), himself or through a third person, buys the lot at the hammer price. The sales contract is concluded between Lempertz and the buyer.

7. Bids for an absentee bidder – Bids for absentee bidders are only played to an absolute maximum by Lempertz if this is deemed necessary to out-bid another bid.

8. Reserve – Lempertz can bid on behalf of the submitter up to the agreed limit without revealing this and irrespective of whether other bids are submitted.

9. No liability of Lempertz – Even if bids have been placed, Lempertz is not liable if the hammer has not come down, except in the case of wilful intent.

10. Dispute or error with respect to the allocation – Lempertz decides to whom the lot is allocated in case of error or dispute with respect to the allocation.

If several individuals make the same bid at the same time, and after the third call, no higher bid ensues, then the case is decided by lot/fate.

If a higher bid that was submitted on time, was erroneously overlooked and immediately queried by the affected bidder, or if any doubts arise regarding its allocation, Lempertz can cancel the sale and reoffer and resell the lot in dispute.

11. The refusing of bids – Lempertz reserves the right to refuse certain bids.

12. Lempertz's discretion – Lempertz has the right at its absolute and sole discretion to withdraw any catalogue lots from the sale, to offer any lot in an order different from that given in the catalogue, to transfer the catalogue lots to a later auction, and to divide or combine any catalogue lots.

13. Once a lot has been knocked down, the successful bidder is obliged to buy it – The bidder to whom the lot was allocated, is obliged to buy the lot at the purchase price. If a bid is accepted conditionally, the bidder is bound by his bid until four (4) weeks after the auction unless he withdraws from the conditionally accepted bid at the latest one day after the auction.

14. Transfer of ownership and risk – The risk relating the allocated lot is directly transferred to the buyer upon the fall of the hammer. The transfer of ownership to the buyer takes place after the reception of the full purchase price by Lempertz.

III. The Completion of the auction transaction after the allocation of the lots

15. Calculation of the purchase price – The purchase price consists of the hammer price, plus the premium, the VAT and the resale right.

16. Buyers' premium – The Buyer pays a premium of 24 % calculated on the hammer price up to a hammer price of € 400.000 and 22 % on any amount surpassing € 400.000.

17. VAT – The Buyer pays 21 % VAT on the premium (margin scheme – article 58 §4 W.BTW). The Buyer pays a VAT of 21% on the net invoice price (hammer price + premium) for the lots which are characterized in the Catalogue by an asterisk (*) (normal VAT regime).

The exports to third countries (i.e. non-EU) are exempted from VAT, and so will be exports made by companies from other EU member states if they state their VAT identification number.

If an auction participant personally exports a lot to a third country (i.e. non-EU), Lempertz refunds the VAT as soon as Lempertz has received the proof of export and import, and provided that it was included in the purchase price.

18. Reservation for invoices – An invoice issued during the auction or immediately after the auction requires verification. Lempertz cannot be held liable for errors in these invoices.

19. Payment – Successful bidders attending the auction in person pay the purchase price to Lempertz immediately after the auction. The purchase price is immediately due and payable, also for buyers who did not attend the auction in person.

Bank transfers are to be made exclusively in Euros. Cheques cannot be accepted. When the purchase price amounts to €3.000,00 or more, the buyer cannot pay in cash (anti-money laundering legislation). This also applies when the purchase price of different lots together amounts to €3.000,00 or more.

The payment is not deemed to have been effected before Lempertz has received it in cash or before the bank account of Lempertz has been duly credited.

The payments of the buyer to Lempertz always firstly serve for the settlement of the oldest outstanding debt of the buyer to Lempertz.

20. An invoice corresponding to another client – The request to issue an auction invoice in the name of a client other than the bidder has to be made immediately after the auction. Lempertz reserves the right to refuse such a request. The bidder and the buyer are jointly and severally bound by all obligations arising from that bid.

21. Late payment and non-payment – In case of late payment, interests amounting to 1% of the purchase price a month are, automatically and without any prior notice of default, charged from the due date onwards.

In case of non-payment within five (5) working days after the auction, Lempertz is entitled (at its discretion):

- o to insist on performance of the agreement; and/or
- o to dissolve the purchase agreement by simple written notification, without any prior notice of default and without any intervention by the courts. Lempertz can reoffer and resell the lot at an auction; and/or
- o to claim damages for non-performance from the buyer in default, such as – but not limited to – the payment of the difference between the agreed purchase price and the new purchase price of the lot after a new auction, plus the cost of resale. Under no circumstances the defaulting buyer is entitled to the possible surplus when the lot is sold at a higher purchase price at the new auction; and/or
- o to retain the lot as well as any lot allocated to the buyer at the same auction or at any other auction. Lempertz has the right to release the lots only when the total amount due for all the lots has been duly paid. Lempertz can transport, store and insure the lots at the expense of the buyer.

Lempertz has the right to reject or not take into account any bids placed by or on the account of the defaulting buyer during future auctions.

22. Collection of purchased lots – The buyer is obliged to collect the purchased lot immediately after the auction. The lot will not be surrendered to the buyer until the reception of full payment by Lempertz. Lempertz is not liable for the purchased lots, except in the case of wilful intent.

23. Transport, dispatch or shipping – Every transport, dispatch or shipping of purchased lots is organised by the buyer on his own responsibility. Without any exception the transport, dispatch or shipping takes place at the expense and the risk of the buyer.

24. Failure to collect purchased lots – In case the buyer does not collect the purchased lots within four (4) weeks after the auction, Lempertz is entitled to store and insure the not-collected lots at the expense of the buyer. In that case, the store and insure costs are 1% of the hammer price a month. Lempertz is not liable in the event of loss or damage, except in case of intentional acts.

IV. State of the purchased lots

25. The Buyer' duty to investigate – All lots put up for sale at the auction can be viewed and inspected prior to the auction. The buyer undertakes to inspect and investigate the lots before the auction. The buyer is considered to be fully and personally informed at its own risk about the state and quality of the lots, as well as about the authenticity of the lots and the conformity of the lots with the description in the catalogue. The buyer bears the risk of the identification of the lot.

26. The awareness of the buyer – The buyer acknowledges that it is not possible for Lempertz to examine all lots in detail. The buyer acknowledges that Lempertz is reliant upon the information of the submitter for the description of the lots such as for example in the catalogue.

The buyer acknowledges that every statement in the catalogue, the brochures or any other publicity, as well as in any condition report from Lempertz, in relation to authorship, origin, creation, age, attribution, quality and state of the lot is only an opinion and not a fact. The buyer acknowledges that Lempertz does not warrant and cannot give any warranty as to the authenticity of the lot.

The buyer acknowledges that the lots submitted are usually from a certain age, so that it is impossible that the lots are in perfect condition.

27. statements and descriptions of the lots – All statements and descriptions in the catalogue and related specifications on the internet are compiled in good faith. They are derived from the status of the information available at the time of compiling the catalogue.

Every statement or description in the catalogue, the brochures or any other publicity, as well as in any condition report from Lempertz, in relation to authorship, origin, creation, age, attribution, quality and state of the lot is an opinion and not a fact and cannot be considered as a reality. The statements and descriptions in the catalogue are provided for information purposes only, without any warranty. The same applies for illustrations and images in the catalogue, as well as any other oral or written information.

The statements, descriptions and illustrations are no part of the contractual agreed characteristics. The certificates or certifications from artists, their estates or experts are no part of the agreement, unless if they are explicitly mentioned in the catalogue text.

28. The state of the lot at the moment of the allocation ('as is') – The buyer purchases the lots in the state in which they are found at the moment of the allocation, with their defects and imperfections. The state of the lot is not always mentioned in the catalogue. The absence of any reference to the state of the lot does not imply that the lot is in a good state or that the lot is free from damages, defaults or restorations.

V. Copyright

29. Photography and publicity – The submitter and the buyer grant the right to Lempertz to photograph and publish each lot in its possession in relation to the auction and in any other relation. Lempertz acquires and preserves the copyright on all images and can use them at its own discretion, even after the lot has been sold.

VI. Liability and warranty

30. The nature of the obligations – The obligation of the buyer and the submitter resulting from the contractual relation are result obligations ('obligation de résultat'), unless expressly provided otherwise. The obligations of Lempertz arising from the contractual relation are best efforts obligations ('obligation de moyen').

31. Joint and several liability – The buyer, the bidder and anyone who buys for joint account, are jointly and severally liable for all obligations arising from the sale.

32. No liability/warranty for the lots – The buyer buys the lots in the state in which they are found at the moment of allocation, with their defaults and imperfections. Lempertz does not give any warranties in this regard. Lempertz cannot be held liable for the damages resulting from a default, a loss or a damage to the purchased lot, irrespective of the legal basis, except in the case of wilful intent.

33. No liability for the catalogue or condition report – Lempertz is not liable if the lots differ from the statements, descriptions and illustrations in the catalogue or from any other information (for example online). Lempertz is not liable for a condition report drawn up at the request of bidder.

34. No liability/warranty for non-authenticity – Lempertz does not warrant the authenticity of the lots and is not liable for non-authenticity of the lots, except in case of wilful intent. The liability for bodily injury or damages caused to health or life remains unaffected.

35. Limitation of liability – In any case the liability of Lempertz is limited to the total purchase price which was effectively paid by the buyer.

36. Claims against the submitter – In the event of variances from the catalogue descriptions which result in negation or substantial diminution of value or suitability of the lot, Lempertz is entitled to pursue its rights against the submitter through the courts. In the event of a successful claim against the submitter, Lempertz does only reimburse the buyer the total purchase price paid. Under no circumstances this amount exceeds the amount of the claim against the submitter which was granted and effectively paid.

Lempertz, has the right to transfer its claim for damages against the submitter for any damage arising from the inauthenticity of the auctioned lot to the buyer, without any further liability.

VII. Miscellaneous

37. Place of performance – The place of performance of the obligations resulting from the contractual relations is Brussels.

38. Applicable law – Belgian law is applicable to the contractual relations. The provisions of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG) are not applicable.

39. Dispute settlement – All disputes resulting from or relating to the contractual relation will be resolved exclusively by the courts and tribunals of Brussels.

40. waiver of set-off or merger confusion – The buyer and the submitter waive their right to invoke set-off or merger confusion. The buyer is not entitled to invoke article 1653 of the Belgian Civil Code in relation to buyer's disturbance.

41. Partial nullity – If one or more provisions of these conditions of sale would be declared completely or partially null and void, then this nullity is limited to this provision and the remaining provisions of these conditions of sale are not affected, unless otherwise provided.

Export

Exports to third (i.e. non-EU) countries will be exempt from VAT, and so will be exports made by companies from other EC member states if they state their VAT identification number. Persons who have bought an item at auction and export it as personal luggage to any third country will be refunded the VAT as soon as the form certifying the exportation and the exporter's identity has been returned to the auctioneer. Our staff will be glad to advise you on the export formalities.

Exports to countries outside the European Community are subject to the regulations of the 1970 UNESCO-Agreement.

CITES

Items marked ‡ are subject to CITES export restrictions. For these items, export licences to non-EU countries are usually not granted.

All works of art of more than € 2.500 were compared with the database contents of the Art Loss Register Ltd.
