... And Many More!

Dear Friends and Customers,

Here we are again! It is with great pleasure that we present you the 4th MonacoLegendGroup auction since I started my joint venture with Claude in 2019. It was a great adventure that gave me a lot of new energy and good feelings which made me able to meet and reach new passionate of vintage and collectible timepieces all around the world! This time again, I think, we did a great job to ameliorate our selection of rarities, and I truly think we will be able to satisfy all kinds of collectors and passionate, starting from the vintage to the rarest modern and contemporary pieces that the market can offer. Thank you very much to you all for your continuous support and the trust you demonstrate in MonacoLegendGroup every event we make. I really Hope you will enjoy our catalogue as we did.

ROLEX

VERY WELL PRESERVED AND DESIRABLE GMT-MASTER AUTOMATIC WRISTWATCH IN STEEL, REFERENCE 1675, WITH SWEEP CENTER SECONDS AND DATE

Brand	Rolex
Model	GMT Master
Reference	1675
Case Material	Stainless Steel
Bracelet Material	Stainless Steel
Year	1984
Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	3075
Case N°	8450948
Dimensions	39 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

At the beginning of the '50s, the famous airline company Pan Am was looking for a small instrument which could allow the pilots to keep track of time in two locations. Therefore, in 1954 was presented the first GMT model, reference 6542, and after only 5 years later in the light of the success of this model the reference 1675 was presented, which remained in production until 1980. Reference 1675 (the present watch) followed in 1981 introducing the quick set feature and a new higher beat caliber 3075 movement. With this update the order of the hands changed from GMT/Hour/Minute/second on to Hour/GMT/Minute/Second. The lot offered here is a beautiful specimen of 1675, it comes with the unusual but really fascinating totally black bezel and the classical 40 mm tonneau shaped case in stainless steel. The black matte dial features very nice painted indexes and hands and matches with the bezel. This watch is sold with a solid Oyster bracelet in stainless steel.

€ 7,000 – 14,000

ROLEX

SPECIAL AND REFINED DAY-DATE AUTOMATIC WRISTWATCH IN YELLOW GOLD, REFERENCE 18 078, WITH CHAMPAGNE DIAL RETAILED BY TIFFANY & CO, SERVICE AND BOOKLET

Brand	Rolex
Model	Day-Date
Reference	18078
Case Material	Yellow Gold
Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	1980
Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	3055
Case N°	6268940
Dimensions	36 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Service Bucherer and Booklet

The Day-date 18 078 offered here impresses for its conditions which have remained unchanged over time: the dial shows its mint conditions, with a highly unusual champagne dial, baton numerals and hands and centered seconds. Moreover the prestigious Tiffany & Co. signature located slightly below the hands, absolutely difficult to find and able to add charm and virtuosity to every watch. The classic tonneau case realized in yellow gold has withstood the passage of time in a remarkable manner and are kept in excellent condition with crisp hallmark on the underside of the upper right lug, and it is completed by the particularities of this reference, the bark textured bezel.

€ 8,000 – 16,000

ROLEX

STRIKING AND VALUABLE DATEJUST
AUTOMATIC WRISTWATCH IN STEEL AND
GOLD, REFERENCE 1625, BLUE KHANJAR
DIAL, MADE FOR THE SULTANATE OF OMAN

Brand	Rolex
Model	Datejust
Reference	1625
Case Material	Stainless Steel and Yellow Gold
Bracelet Material	Stainless Steel and Yellow Gold
Year	1972
Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	1570
Case N°	3068383
Dimensions	36 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

The present watch reference 1625 is a later reinterpretation of the original "Thunderbird", name deriving from the USAF demonstration squadron, and was in production from 1959 to 1977. With its iconic bi-directional bezel in yellow gold equipped on a stainless steel case with bimetallic jubilee bracelet fully well preserved, this lot is truly fascinating and eye-catching. The blue dial is also very rare not only for its color but mainly for the Khanjar logo at 9 o'clock.

€ 5,000 – 10,000

HEUER

SPORTY AND FASCINATING CARRERA
WRISTWATCH IN STAINLESS
STEEL, REFERENCE 3647, WITH
RED TACHYMETER SCALE

Brand	Heuer
Model	Carrera
Reference	3647
Case Material	Stainless Steel
Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	1960's
Movement Type	Manual
Caliber	92
Case N°	75142
Dimensions	34 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

Jack Heuer himself designed and launched the Carrera in 1963, as a simple-looking chronograph with minimalist applied baton hour markers and very clean chronograph registers. The present lot is a truly nice and fair reference 3647 made in stainless steel in great conditions. In production only until 1969, this Carrera has a sporty and elegant case with thick profile, sharp edges and solid massive lugs. It features the first execution silver dial with a red tachymeter scale and at 9 o'clock the sub-dial with the small second and at 3 o'clock the 45-minute counter of the chronograph. The heart of this vintage wristwatch is the reliable manual wind caliber Valjoux 92.

€ 1,500 – 3,000

HEUER

VERY FINE AND RARE DATOCOMPAX WRISTWATCH IN YELLOW GOLD, REFERENCE 2558, WITH TRIPLE CALENDAR AND PINK DIAL

Brand	Heuer
Model	Datocompax

Case N°	12303351
Movement N°	N.A. & 29515429
Dimensions	66 mm & 42 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

The present lot is a limited edition box made by Longines in 2000 and containing two chronographs: a wristwatch and a pocket watch, both of them preserved in almost new old stock conditions. The pocket chronograph is one of the 600 original pieces made by Longines for the 1968 Mexico City Olympics, and the wristwatch chronograph with vermer scale is a 1/10 second scale chronograph reader and takes the look of the 1968 Olympics chronograph. These chronographs were withdrawn from the house at the end of the Games, and kept until the year 2000, where they were then restored and serviced before being placed in this set for sale.

€ 2,000 – 4,000

CARTIER

VERY RARE TONNEAU-SHAPE WRISTWATCH IN PLATINUM, REFERENCE 2435, WITH SILVER GUILLOCHÉ ROMAN NUMBERS DIAL, BOX AND WARRANTY

Brand	Cartier
Model	Tonneau Cintrée
Reference	2435
Case Material	Platinum
Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	1993
Movement Type	Manual
Caliber	78/1
Case N°	A109579
Dimensions	46.5 x 26.5 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Box and Warranty

Most of the watches produced by Cartier over the years have always been amazed by its ability to totally break the mold with the aesthetic standards of the period in which they were designed. The Tonneau is one of those and was received with a bit of skepticism when in 1906 was presented to the world due to its particular elongated and curved shape able to remember that of a barrel (in Frances Tonneau). This lot is one of the nicest ever seen with its well-preserved platinum case and with "officier"-type screwed lugs. The engine-turned decoration of the dial is still very beautiful and the black Roman numerals still maintain their original vivid color. To complete the offer this lot is sold with its original box and Cartier Warranty.

€ 15,000 – 30,000

CARTIER

SPECIAL CEINTURE OCTAGONAL-SHAPED WRISTWATCH IN WHITE GOLD, WITH ENAMELED ROMAN NUMBERS DIAL.

Brand	Cartier
Model	Ceinture
Case Material	White Gold
Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	1980's
Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	2670
Case N°	170010268
Dimensions	27 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

The origin of the first Ceinture dates back to 1927 and in 1973 Cartier re-released this model in two cases with different sizes of 25 and 27 mm. It was named this way since the case looks like a belt's buckle with a very interesting square shape featuring corners that appear to be "cutted". In the past years yellow gold was the primary alloy used in the Cartier collection which means that find some in other materials is very rare. The present lot is a precious one since it has been realized in white gold and has been conserved nicely during all this time. The crown on these models have been discreetly and securely been set within the flank of the square-sided case and are also unusually shaped, octagonal sided rather than with sapphire cabochon making them far easier for the wearer to use. The dial is very minimal in the classic Cartier style with the inner closed minutes track and back Roman numerals.

€ 5,000 – 10,000

CARTIER

VERY RARE AND OVERSIZED BAIGNOIRE ALLONGÉE WRISTWATCH IN YELLOW GOLD, WITH GUILLOCHE ROMAN NUMBERS DIAL.

Brand	Cartier
Model	Baignoire Allongée
Reference	024-91
Case Material	Yellow Gold
Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	1990's
Movement Type	Manual
Caliber	78-1
Case N°	A108020
Dimensions	24 x 52 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

The Cartier Baignoire dates back to 1957 and its lines take inspiration from a watch that Louis Cartier gifted to the Russian Grand Duchess Pavlovna who is taught was one of the most important clients of the French brand. In 1973 this model took officially name Baignoire Allongée and it was simply an oversized version of the normal one. The present lot is a really precious example produced in yellow gold. It has been preserved in very nice over all conditions: the iconic oval shape of the case is well proportioned and the sapphire cabochon is intact. The very detailed engine turned decoration of the dial is incredible and the classic Roman numerals with guilloché patterns embellish the whole wristwatch.

€ 8,000 – 16,000

Caliber	28-255
Case N°	524769
Movement N°	1283074
Dimensions	35 x 33 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Extract from the Archives

Introduced in 1968, the Golden Ellipse certainly is one of the most instant recognizable design out of the Patek Philippe collection thanks to its bold shape and glamorous proportions. The present reference 3589 has a white-gold case finely preserved and fitted with a deep royal blue dial and applied baton numerals. It is, furthermore, powered by the LeCoultre based movement cal. 28-255, one of the most appreciated automatic movements at its time. The lot is offered with the Patek Philippe Extract from the Archives confirming production of the present watch in white gold in 1973 and its subsequent sale on 20th September 1973.

€ 5,000 – 10,000

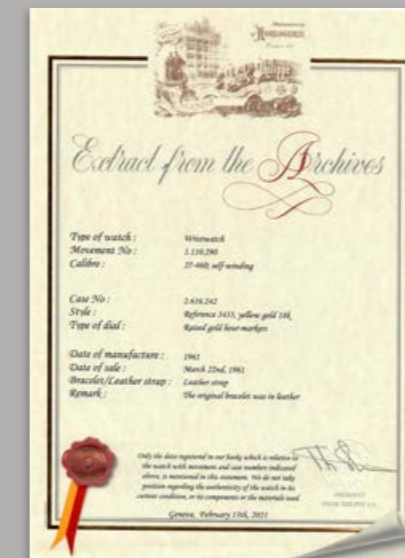

PATEK PHILIPPE

EXTREMELY RARE AND ATTRACTIVE CALATRAVA AUTOMATIC WRISTWATCH IN YELLOW GOLD, REFERENCE 3435, WITH SILVER SUBSIDIARY SECONDS DIAL AND EXTRACT FROM ARCHIVES

Brand	Patek Philippe
Model	Calatrava
Reference	3435
Case Material	Yellow Gold
Bracelet Material	Yellow Gold
Year	1961
Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	27-460
Case N°	2616242
Movement N°	1110290
Dimensions	33 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Extract from the Archives

Further exponent of the Calatrava family, the reference 3435 wristwatch surprises for its simple elegance and clean beauty. Launched in 1960 until 1970, the reference 3435 was created to replace the preceding reference 2584 of which it differs by a smaller case. According to scholars, fewer than 500 pieces were made with this reference in total. The present lot is a very fine specimen in 18k yellow gold with a two-body case, inclined bezel, straight lugs and snap on back in great conditions with clear hallmark on the lug. The silver dial has applied yellow-gold baton indexes and Arabic 12, subsidiary seconds dial and gold baton hands. To further enhanced this gorgeous timepiece, a precious tile-style Patek Philippe bracelet. Accompanied by a Patek Philippe Extract from the Archives confirming production of the present watch in yellow gold in 1961 and its subsequent sale on 22nd March 1961.

Belonging to the Calatrava family, the reference 3928 was in the Patek's catalogue from 1986 until 1999 and in its standard production was available in yellow or pink gold. Very few pieces were manufactured in stainless steel and were made upon the special request exclusively for Japanese retailer Isshin Dokei Co. Ltd., Tokyo, to commemorate Patek Philippe's 150th in 1989 and the present lot is one of these specimens. The two body case in steel is finely preserved with its concave lugs, stepped bezel and snap on back with no evident signs of wearing. The dial is silvered with applied faceted steel baton indexes, subsidiary seconds dial, outer minute division and steel dauphine hands. Accompanied by a Patek Philippe Extract from the Archives confirming production of the present watch in steel in 1987 and its subsequent sale on 19th February 1987.

Reference 1598 by Patek Philippe is one of the most elusive time-only watches to find, and the present example is, to the best of our knowledge, only the second example to appear in an auction. This very example has a yellow-gold case whose peculiarity is the fancy lugs with their absolutely particular and unusual shape. Fully well preserved, this 1598 presents a silvered dial with applied yellow-gold Arabic and baton numerals with seconds at 6. A pink-gold version with salmon dial has been sold by Monaco Legend Group in July 2019. Accompanied by a Patek Philippe Extract from the Archives confirming production of the present watch in yellow gold in 1946 and its subsequent sale on 17th August 1946.

This highly unusual and attractive Patek Philippe wristwatch is one of only very few white-gold examples of reference 4121/1 to have appeared at auction to date. In production between 1971 and 1974, the design of the case made by Weber is repeated on the integrated bracelet links. The careful craftsmanship applied in the making of this unusual timepiece is further enhanced by the nice frame around the dial and bracelet links. The fragmented and multi-shaped mirror-like pieces on the striking blue dial by Stern Frères and bracelet is called “blue gold”. This layout catches the eye and adds a playful note to the ensemble. Retailed by Asprey, the watch is also provided with the extract from the archives confirming its white-gold case and its production in 1972 and subsequent sale on the 15th of August 1973.

Caliber	727
Case N°	4028087
Dimensions	37 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

Reference 6263 such as the present lot is the last version of the Rolex Daytona made with a manual-winding Valjoux movement. The aggressive look of this very nicely preserved tonneau case in stainless steel is due to the screw-down pushers to increase water resistance and the black acrylic bezel featuring a tachymeter track. The dial is silvered with applied baton indexes and intact luminous dots, and the black subsidiary dials have aged till gaining a really fascinating brown tropical color.

Literature	Former property and published in John Goldberger book

In 1926, Rolex gave birth to the first totally waterproof case, named Oyster and only 5 years later the company introduced the world's first self-winding mechanism. The Oyster Perpetual wristwatch is very popular among collectors due to its unusually large size for the time. The present watch is very beautiful thanks to its stainless steel and pink-gold Oyster riveted bracelet in nice conditions and nowadays difficult to find. The case is in stainless steel and is surprising for the conditions of both case back and bezel. The dial has aged heavenly is still maintaining clear texts with applied pink gold baton hour markers and dauphine hands. It is important to underline the write "OFFICIALLY" is written in red, not commonly seen on this type of Oyster model.

Despite the well known oversized Portugieser, Aquatimer or Ingenieur, IWC also dared with slightly atypical cases for its standards, an example is the watch offered here with its unusual rectangular shape. Made of yellow gold, its massive 27 x 33 mm case recalls the style of the watches of the period with more square shapes. Its preservation is admirable considering its age, the numbers on the case back are extremely well visible and noted with a limited edition numbered. The white porcelain with applied yellow-gold baton indexes, subsidiary dials for the days of the month, of the week and the months, apertures for the moon phases and the 2-digit year display, outer minute track is perfectly preserved. Accompanied by its original box and guarantee.

CHRONOGRAPH WRISTWATCH IN STEEL,
REFERENCE 3716 WITH WHITE DIAL

Brand	IWC
Model	Portugieser
Reference	3716
Case Material	Stainless Steel
Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	2010s
Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	69355
Case N°	3172601
Dimensions	40 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

The Portugieser design is simple but surprisingly distinctive. The dial is characterized by Arabic numerals, dot minute track, and a spacious but symmetrical layout. Matched with the narrow bezel, the result is a recognizable and pleasing look that is also versatile, having gone from a time-only watch in the original to a chronograph. In 2018, IWC offered the first glimpse of the future when the brand celebrated its 150th anniversary. The new Portugieser Chronograph is essentially a ref. 3714 with a superior, in-house movement, in fact, among the commemorative editions is the Portugieser Chronograph Edition 150 Years ref. 3716, near identical to the ref. 3714 but powered by the in-house cal. 69 355.

Established in 1860 in the city of Renaissance, Florence, Panerai became the official supplier of the Regia Marina, the Royal Italian Navy, under whose request Panerai created, in 1936, watch resistant to extreme underwater conditions which took the name "Radiomir", a radium-based powder that gives luminosity to the dials of sighting instruments and devices. This example is a mix of classicism and innovation: the massive white-gold case 47 mm wide, the square rounded shape and the big lugs represent the typical Panerai feature while the dial is more complicated than the original one: it is composed by a Black dial with luminous Arabic numerals and baton indexes, subsidiary dial for the seconds and the 24-hour indication at 9, linear power reserve indication between 5 and 7, aperture for the date, independent adjustable 12 hour hand for the second time zone. The present lot, in almost NOS conditions, is offered with full set and is part of a limited series of 250 examples of which this is the number 105 as engraved on the case.

Caliber	P454/5C
Case N°	294303
Movement N°	453068
Dimensions	35 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

In the 1940s the Swiss brand gave life to a time-only wristwatch of authentic beauty with a nicely manufactured case and an even more special dial. The reference 4126 here offered is an example in 18k pink gold with a very thin case and the fancy teardrop lugs. This elegant style of lugs has somewhat become Vacheron Constantin's signature design from the '30s when they have been firstly introduced and then used on different specimens. The argenté dial is extraordinary for its complexity and structure: three different type of guilloché/linen decoration embellish the whole dial, three as well are the different applied indexes in yellow gold used to decorate it while a slim track for minutes/seconds with applied gold pearl dots enrich everything. On this 35 mm wide case has been equipped the caliber P453/3B. This is a wonderful example of a mid-century vintage Vacheron Constantin wristwatch.

Vacheron Constantin is mostly renowned for its chronographs or complicated wristwatches but the firm also produced some remarkable bejeweled lady's timepieces which nowadays are really difficult to find. The number of production of these kind of objects is really low and even lower is the number of pieces that has passed through the auction market: for this reason the lot offered here is a really rare chance and opportunity to purchase an unusual example of high craftsmanship. Made entirely in 18k pink gold, its unique structure with rectangular, concave and rounded links it's absolutely elegant. It is equipped with a mask really easy to open, under which is located a delicate square dial with dot and baton pink gold indexes, hidden when the mask is closed. Preserved in excellent condition, this timepiece must have been worn sparingly throughout its lifetime as it hardly displays any wear.

Skillful hands, passion, mastery and patience are the main characteristics when the goal is to create works of art of absolute value. It is precisely these attributes that characterized Stern Frères' master enamellers in giving life to absolutely unique and special dials, as in the case of the Vacheron Constantin specimen here offered. During the 1950's, Beyeler and Stern Frères produced some of the most iconic cloisonné dial wristwatches for main brands such as Rolex, Patek Philippe or Universal Genève. Vacheron was one of those receivers but very few were the enamels equipped on the cases of the Swiss brand. The lot here offered presents one of the most fascinating and charismatic topic ever produced on a quadrant and for sure one of the rarest to appear in public: the Americas with polychrome cloisonné. The case used was that of a reference 4724, with its massive and straight lugs, its flat bezel and snap on back. For many years, it has jealously kept in the collection of a very notable and meticulous collector, perfectly exemplified by the great conditions of the case but, most of all, of the very fragile dial. As previously said, the dial depicts a wonderful scene featuring a multi-colored North, Central and South America with compass rose at 8 o'clock topped with faceted baton hour markers. When admiring such a watch, it will completely take your breath away for its perfection and quality. This beauty also comes with the extract from the archives confirming the matching of case and movement numbers and, most important, that this very watch has been equipped with the polychrome enamel dial.

Literature	Published in John Goldberger book

Rolex in 1926 gave birth to a totally waterproof case, this innovation has been one of the founding elements of almost all Rolex production and is what lies at the base of the watch offered here. But being waterproof wasn't quite enough to make the wristwatch the essential item that Wildorf believed it could be, so in 1931 Rolex introduced the world's first self-winding mechanism with a free rotor and the Oyster Perpetual heralded a new era of convenience and functionality. The fascinating cushion-shaped case in steel of the lot offered here comes in great conditions and is the incarnation of the ideas and dreams of Hans Wilsdorf. A further rarity is the black gilt dial with unusual radium Arabic indexes completed with the outer minute track, radium hands and the screw down the crown for the waterproof resistance.

Launched in 1985, the present reference 3945 is an elegant example which bears the classic perpetual calendar layout of Patek Philippe. Extremely well preserved, this watch is equipped with a very elegant argenté dial with applied baton numerals. The two counters at 3 and 9 o'clock for the date surround the sundial with the fascinating moon phases display. Although this reference is still considered young, it has already reached a state of absolute prestige among the perpetual calendar with moon phases and is now a must-have for every collector of complicated wristwatches. It is presented with a solid screw back able to guarantee waterproofing and it was produced with an integral gold bracelet whereas the reference 3940 features lugs that allow a detachable leather strap or gold bracelet. This watch is also provided with the extract from the archives confirming its white-gold case and its production in 1988 and subsequent sale on the 14th of October 1988.

Dimensions	39 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Certificate and Bulletin de Marche

In 1954, was presented the first GMT model, Reference 6542 with its immediately recognizable Bakelite bezel insert. Only 5 years later, in the light of the success of this model, the reference 1675 was presented, which made significant and important innovations able to solve some flaws of the previous model. First of all, the Bakelite ring was replaced with a more resistant steel bezel and were added the crown guards to protect the crown from any hits. The lot offered here is a beautiful specimen of 1675 with special features: the stainless steel case is in great conditions with a well-preserved chapter ring and very attractive gilt printing. Important to underline is the dot radium index at six o'clock called from collector "Exclamation Point" and very rare to find on this reference as it is a transitional dial from Radium to Tritium. The rarity of this timepiece is further enhanced by the presence of pointed crown guards, nicknamed "Cornino", as well as the original small arrow tip of the 24-hour hand, usually changed to the later version during services. This watch definitely lavish, together with the appealing feature just described, is also equipped with the always fascinating stainless steel Oyster riveted bracelet, its original warranty and the bulletin the marche.

The Day-Date is Rolex's most prestigious line of dress watches since it was launched in 1956. Predominantly produced in either gold or platinum, Rolex introduced a special variant of the series during the 1980s. Reference 18 129 is a whimsical stylistic exercise by Rolex, a remarkable timepiece, realized in what Rolex called "tridor": a combination of the three gold colors using 18K yellow gold, pink gold and white gold in a blend to display these different materials on the center link of the bracelet. Referenced the 18 239, the production of the Tridor seized in the early 2000s. With very nice conditions of both case and bracelet, the present lot also strikes for the vivid blue dial with applied baton indexes, outer track for minutes and Roman numerals and the English calendar.

Dimensions	38 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

Innovative watchmaking is the cornerstone of Omega's heritage that is inspired by sports timekeeping, this is what is written on the Omega website showing that for all its history, it has always been specialized in the production of very reliable and efficient wristwatches. For this reason, in the 1960s the Pakistan Air Force decided to rely on Omega for the supply of a special model. The reference 135 004 was released in 1964, with baton hands in two versions: the first with fewer than 100 pieces with a serial number of 20'476'XXX such as the present watch, while the second with an estimated 100–200 pieces and serial number of 21'087'XXX. The present lot is a very nice specimen of this rare configuration: produced in stainless steel, the case has been preserved nicely with the engravings on the case back still very clear and deep. The dial has aged wonderfully now presenting a beautiful patina and a fascinating color of the indexes and hands. The crystal is still the original one and is demonstrated by the minuscule Omega logo found at its center. This is for sure the perfect and a very rare example of military watch.

UNUSUAL AND SPECIAL CHRONOGRAPH
WRISTWATCH IN STEEL, WITH BLACK MULTISCALE DIAL

Brand	Omega
Model	Chronograph
Case Material	Stainless Steel
Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	1940's
Movement Type	Manual
Caliber	33.3 CHRO
Case N°	9979551
Movement N°	9389423
Dimensions	37.5 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

Omega began its journey in La Chaux de Fonds, Switzerland from the visionary idea of Louis Brandt who decided to open a small workshop in 1848. In 1933 Omega introduced one of the most important calibers of its history: the 33.3. This manual winding movement was firstly introduced as a mono pusher in 1933 but was later readapted and used for two pushers chronographs given birth to the first water-resistant watch. The stainless steel circular case with rounded edges is simply perfect for proportions and preservation. The olive shaped pushers and the worked winding crown fit perfectly in the structure. Moving the gaze towards the dial, one is fascinated by the beauty of its composition: black color spread on the background while above it the tachometer and tele-metric scales stand out together with the two subsidiary dials and the second scale in a symphony of colors.

Case Material	Stainless Steel
Bracelet Material	Nato Strap
Year	1942
Movement Type	Manual
Case N°	361094
Dimensions	40 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

Nowadays it seems normal to see large watches, with diameters of 40 mm or more. Though, in the middle of the 20th century, fashion and style demanded smaller sized timepieces. It was in this scenario that Breitling, around the '60s, decided to go against the current and began to produce large specimens, also considering the type of use to which these objects were destined. The present pilot's chronograph offers fantastic value to the discerning collector, as it is a rare find among vintage Breitling wristwatches. The heavy all-steel case does not appear to have ever been polished and still shows its original conditions. Absolutely in near-mint condition, the black dial with its famous Art Deco Arabic Numerals filled in radio is definitely charming. This is an object that represents the style and ability that has always distinguished Breitling in all its history and object of merit for every collection.

MOVADO

NICE AND BEAUTIFUL CALATRAVA-STYLE AUTOMATIC WRISTWATCH IN PINK GOLD, REFERENCE R8483, WITH PINK GUILLOCHÈ DIAL

Brand	Movado
Model	Calatrava
Reference	R8483
Case Material	Pink Gold
Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	1954
Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	115
Case N°	A2131950
Movement N°	7280
Dimensions	35 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

Movado was founded by 19-year-old Achille Ditisheim, a talented watchmaker who opened his workshops in La Chaux de Fonds in 1881 along with six watchmakers and the name chosen derives from the constructed language Esperanto meaning “always in motion”. This idea is at the base of the lot here offered, an automatic wristwatch in pink gold made in the 1950s and preserved in very notable conditions. The case is finely preserved with no evident signs of wearing: the straight downturned lugs are untouched, the screw back shows no signs while the sloped bezel is still very nice. The pink dial is absolutely fascinating with a guilloché decoration on the outside while internally is located a smooth, shiny square with a semicircle for the constant seconds. The dial is completed with applied baton indexes, dauphine hands and the Movado signature.

In the 1940s, Omega was able to provide excellent insights that led Omega's master watchmakers to create the reference 2088. The case's architecture is composed of 3 parts with snap on back—typical of the 1930s–1940s chronographs—with beautifully strong beveled lugs in great overall conditions. It can be considered a bit oversized for that time but this is easily explained because on the dial are depicted many different scales which needed enough space to be easily read. Highly elaborate, this dial presents a colorful composition with blue outer tachymeter scale, black seconds track and Arabic numerals, red pulsometric scale and an unusual smaller inner tachymeter scale, added, to allow the measurement of speeds lower than 60 km/h, down to 12 km/h. Moreover to make this precious chronograph beat, we find the caliber 33.3, of the greatest chronograph movements of all times, milestone of the Omega production. This watch is a very rare and attractive example of chronograph from the '40s produced by one of the most important and influential watchmaker brands preserved in incredible condition and for this reason a missing piece for the perfect chronograph collection.

Jewel watches represent a small but significant part of the history of watchmaking. The present Audemars Piguet is a combination of elegance, refinement and innovation, as well as a remarkable demonstration of skill. The integrated 18k white-gold bracelet has a very special structure of great effect, capable of being at the same time very robust but also delicate while the deployant still shows all the extremely light and deep punches. The circular case has a special bezel decorated with a ring of diamonds each crowned with a white-gold detail. The dial offers a splendid pavé-diamond texture with the AP logo at 12 o'clock, completed by a set of sapphire hour markers and a black baton hands. Fascinating and glamorous, the present watch is offered in remarkable conditions and quality with the extract from archives confirming its production the 30th of April 1991.

This Audemars Piguet Quantieme Perpetual Calendar watch has been realized in 18k yellow gold with tang buckle. It has been retained in close to new condition and cased in a yellow-gold case with a very rare gold woven bracelet and diamonds set applied on the bezel. Its automatic caliber powers the day, date, month indication of the perpetual calendar and moon phase. The thin and circular stepped case in yellow gold with a snap on the back is definitely elegant and became even more attractive with the addition of the special enamel dial with the subsidiary dials for the months, days of the week and date, and moon phase. To further embellish the dial Audemars applied round sapphire for the hours markers that makes it a unique configuration for this model.

When hearing the name Audemars Piguet, thoughts immediately go to the legendary Royal Oak. Iconic as very few other models have been in the history of horology, it is the umpteenth creation of the immortal designer Gerald Genta. Released in 1992 to celebrate the 20th anniversary of Gérald Genta's timeless design classic, Audemars officially introduced the reference 14802ST, such as the present lot in a limited edition of just 1000 pieces. The present example is absolutely remarkable for its conservation: the whole bracelet and clasp are in excellent conditions and also the back still presents the case number engraved very crisp. The case and the immediately recognizable bezel are still maintaining their original proportions. The surface of the originally black dial with the guilloché mini-“tapisserie” pattern—a texture found on all early Royal Oak dials—is still nice and well defined. It is decorated with applied baton indexes and the AP logo at 12, while at 3 o'clock is located the date window. Offered with box, certificate d'originality and additional links, the present lot is a lavish example of one of the most appreciated models ever produced.

Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	1575
Case N°	4063078
Dimensions	39 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Original Warranty

The capacity of immersion of Rolex timepieces constantly increased, and in 1967 was presented the first Sea-Dweller model reference 1665, one whose exponent is the lot offered here. The case has the same characteristics as the Submariner with the exception of a helium and gas escape valve positioned on the band at 9 o'clock to withstand the compression and allow a greater immersion capacity up to 2000 feet (610 meters). “Rolex patented Oyster Gas escape valve” is also visible on the case backs, exactly like the present lot. Its remarkable conditions make this specimen a very nice opportunity for every watch collector: the stainless steel case 39 mm wide is simply beautiful and the case back still shows the engravings in a very crisp way. The well preserved unidirectional bezel is the representation of the iconicity with its black color and the graduated scale. The dial features one of the most rare—and at the same time most peculiar—versions with 2 write in red under the hands. The whole dial has aged gracefully, exhibiting warm and all-matching patina on the hands and numerals. It is sold with its original warranty.

For nearly 70 years now, the Day-Date has been an icon of luxury and sophistication for the 20th and 21st centuries watch connoisseurs. Among the most collectable of all Day-Dates are ones fitted with lacquer "Stella" dials, such as the present specimen. This reference 1803 in yellow gold is in astonishing conditions with a great president bracelet. Rolex experimented with many clouds for Stella dials and one of the most graceful and at the same time appreciated by collectors is the orange one. The lot here offered watch has a vivid orange dial with rare variant of applied baton indexes instead of diamonds. But the main peculiarity is the customization for the Sultanate of Oman with the gilt Khanjar at 9 o'clock still untouched. Further preciousness is the Arab day and date calendar, a true gem for the Day-Date aficionados.

In 1966, Audemars Piguet in conjunction with Jaeger LeCoultre and Vacheron Constantin, started working on creating an ultra-thin automatic movement. The present lot houses one of the most historically important movements ever made. From the mid-1950s, brands were searching for ways of proving their technical mastery, like this “Tourbillon Automatique” model, launched in 1986, at the time believed to be the world’s thinnest and smallest self-winding tourbillon movement. It was, furthermore, the first tourbillon carriage in the history of mechanical watches made of titanium. The fascinating gold and mother-of-pearl dial is decorated sunrays style. The very thin case is absolutely elegant, the case back is totally shiny and almost never worn.

Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	1960's
Movement Type	Manual
Caliber	189
Case N°	102350
Dimensions	34 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

In 1963 two great lines of chronographs started: Rolex with the Cosmograph Daytona and Heuer with the Carrera. The present Heuer Carrera Dato 3147 is a rare iteration of the fairly extensive Carrera line. Known also as the Dato 45 (due to the sole 45 minute register on the right-hand side of the dial) these watches feature a date window and were the first chronographs to feature a rotating "date disc". This very specimen has a typical 60s style Carrera case in stainless steel with thin lugs all nicely preserved. The back is slightly modified in order to house the Landeron caliber 189 instead of the classical Valjoux 72. The black dial presents a single subsidiary dial for 45 minutes, date aperture at 9 o'clock and oversize minute counter making it really highly legible.

Dimensions	38 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Extract from Archives

The 30CH caliber was equipped on watches with more sporty design if compared to the previous one, following the fashions and demands of the post Second World War society. The request of solid cases reliable and with a good aesthetic taste led Longines to create some very sophisticated and dressy versions of wristwatches such as the present wristwatch. This lot is a reference 7415-3 and has been manufactured in 18k pink gold, in contrast to the preference for steel for that time, and it seems has almost never been worn considering the almost perfect conditions of the circular water-resistant-type case with screw back and two round chronograph buttons in the band. The dial as well is untouched and never cleaned with silvered brushed color, applied gold baton numerals, Arabic five minute divisions, outer red telemeter and blue tachometer scales, two subsidiary dials for constant seconds and 30 minutes register. Accompanied by the Longines Extract from the Archives confirming case, movement, production and subsequent sale on 13 August 1968 to the company S.F.L. (Société Française Longines), which was at that time the Longines agent in France.

The 1988 is the first year of the introduction of the reference Submariner in Rolesor 16 613, equipped with the caliber 3135 and the calendar with quick functions. This particular example features a beautiful blue dial that perfectly matches the color of the aluminum bezel, as well as two-tone 40 mm Oyster case and bracelet. The present lot has been preserved in very nice conditions, the yellow gold and stainless steel bracelet and the steel case still have the original proportions with no signs of wear and the bezel still displays the original blue factory color. The blue dial is spotless while the hands and applied hour markers with white-gold edges are luminescent and matching in tone but the main peculiarity that makes this watch absolutely desirable are the ten letters slightly above the hands. Their composition creates the important retailer and jeweler name Tiffany & Co. In fact, any model bearing the prestigious name of New York retailer on the dial is an exceedingly rare breed.

Oak represented a real novelty in the Audemars universe as it was the brand's first true sporting pride. It was the first luxury watch in steel with integrated bracelet and since its inception was produced in a variety of materials including full gold, platinum, tantalum, and often embellished with precious stones, the versatility of the Royal Oak helped make it a model adored by the brand's elite clientele. The present watch is a very rare example of the two-tone reference 5402 in stainless steel and yellow gold. Its remarkable conservation strikes at a first glance with no evident sign on both the bracelet and on the case with the iconic octagonal bezel. The champagne dial with applied baton indexes and hands is untouched and further special quality of this lot since it's one of the most rare variants to be found. On the case back the serial number 435 and the unusual inscription "OR-ACIER".

Born in Draguignan, France in 1951, Richard started his career in the watchmaking industry in 1974 and had management roles in various watch brands then becoming, in the early 1990s, managing director (and shareholder) of the watch division of renowned French jewelry firm Mauboussin. In 1999, Richard Mille decided to create his personal brand of luxury watches with the objective to break the traditional codes related to high-end watches, often associated to a baroque style and precious materials like gold and platinum. Showcased at the 2016 Edition of the Salon International de la Haute Horlogerie in Geneva, the present lot, the RM 67-01 became the sleekest model among all tonneau shaped Richard Mille timepieces. This reference introduced lots of features: most important is the caliber CRMA6, Skeletonised automatic-winding movement with hours, minutes, date and function indicator with a POWER RESERVE of circa 50 hours ($\pm 10\%$). The watch case undergoes brushing and polishing, all executed by hand, followed by assembly with sapphire glass and sealants. The mechanical aspects of creating a thin automatic present their own set of difficulties, but one of the challenges is to pair this type of movement design with a sense of visual depth within the movement—a central tenet of the Richard Mille approach. The extreme skeletonization seen in the RM 67-01 is one significant avenue to achieving this.

The Mido Ocean Star reference 5907, part of the Ocean Star Series, was apparently released in 1961 through 1965. Known also as the "Rainbow Diver" and "Powerwind 1000", the Mido ref 5907 is known best for its colorful "exotic" dial, with bright concentric rings highlighting decompression times for depths down to 149 feet. The watch is a patented Bernard Taubert in June 1960 front-loading design, measures 38 mm across all patches, 45 mm lug to lug and featuring a bidirectional bezel, with black paint for the numbers, marks, and dot. The colorful Dial is designed to prevent confusion during dives, with each concentric circle representing the decompression period necessary completed by the black outer edge of the dial, beyond the last light-blue ring. The white center circle and black background color where depths are shown at 12 o'clock. Inside the center concentric circle are numerals 3, 6, 9 and 12, with the applied "Mido" emblem just below the 12. Combination of dauphine hour and pencil minute with luminous material finish the dial. The bracelet is the particular Bonklip Style, manufactured by B. H. Britton and Sons.

Accessories	Extract from the Archives

The reference 96 is undoubtedly a cornerstone of Patek Philippe production and represents the first example of what is today possibly the most elegant lines of wristwatches: the Calatrava. The 96 was launched in 1932 and further changed the way of defining watches because it became the first model in history to which the reference number was added. The present lot is a wonderful specimen pink-on-pink. The 31 mm 18k pink gold case is simply great for its conditions and still very sharp edges, crisp as they were in 1945 when the watch left Geneva. The hallmark at 4 o'clock is deep, testifying that the present watch has been worn very limited times. The pink dial is very elegant with subsidiary seconds at 6 o'clock, the dauphine hands, the applied pink gold baton indexes and the outer perlage for the minutes. Discontinued in 1973, this is one of the longest in Patek Philippe production and was equipped with the caliber 12–120, one of the rarest equipped on a Patek Philippe Calatrava. Among connoisseurs, reference 96 is the benchmark par excellence when measuring the elegance of a watch, as well a true example for the category. With Patek Philippe Extract from the Archives confirming production of the present watch in rose gold in 1945 and its subsequent sale on 8 October 1945.

The present watch is an outstanding Calatrava for a number of reasons. Most notably, the watch is a special request for the Middle Eastern market and specifically it is a special order commissioned by Colonel Muammar Kadhaf to commemorate his speech given on Labor Day in Libya in 1978. The dial colour was a reference to his "Green Book" and is made of a pale green hardstone, and was further enhanced with part of Colonel Kadhaf's personalized quote. Moreover the yellow-gold case of this reference 3601 has a very simple design with a stepped bezel and snap on back very well preserved. The yellow-gold bracelet is untouched with particular decoration untouched as well and has a signed folding claps. The dial, in addition to presenting all these particularities, present baton hands and a date aperture at 3 o'clock.

Accessories	Box, Warranty, Tag, Additional Glass and Links

The capacity of immersion of Rolex timepieces constantly increased, and in 1967 was presented the first Sea-Dweller model reference 1665, one whose exponent is the lot offered here. The case has the same characteristics as the Submariner with the exception of a helium and gas escape valve positioned on the band at 9 o'clock to withstand the compression and allow a greater immersion capacity up to 2000 feet (610 meters). "Rolex patented Oyster Gas escape valve" is also visible on the case backs, exactly like the present lot. Its remarkable conditions make this specimen a very nice opportunity for every watch collector: the stainless steel case 39 mm wide is simply beautiful and the case back still shows the engravings in a very crisp way. The well preserved unidirectional bezel is the representation of the iconicity with its black color and the graduated scale. The dial features one of the most rare—and at the same time most peculiar—versions with 2 write in red under the hands. The whole dial has aged gracefully, exhibiting warm and all-matching patina on the hands and numerals. It is sold with its original Box, Warranty, Tag, Additional Glass and Links.

The life of the legendary Speedmaster firstly start in 1957 with the reference 2915 from a creation by Pierre Moinat, head of Omega's "creative" department with the case designed by Claude Baillod and continued in 1959 with the reference 2998 like the present watch. Very similar to each other, these models were the first chronograph to feature a tachymeter scale on the bezel, hence rendering the dial more legible while simplifying the calculation of speed—They differ from each other only in small details and graphic variations on the tachymeter scale. The lot offered here is a very remarkable exponent of this family immediately visible for the conditions of its stainless steel tonneau case and the screw back with the Speedmaster logo engraving still clearly visible. The dial as well is changing its original black color assuming that tropicalization that so much fascinates collectors around the world. The alpha hands still present the aged luminous material while the hour/minute numerals have assumed a copper color.

The present Omega CK 2077 chronograph is an astonishing object and a very rare wristwatch for its unusual dial layout combining the two tone black and tachymeter scales dial, all in very good overall condition. When reference CK 2077 was first launched in 1937, it was Omega's first water-resistant chronograph and can also be considered a turning point in the firm's history equipped with the famous caliber 33.3. This manual winding movement is an icon among collectors: it was firstly introduced as a mono pusher in 1933 but was later readapted and used for two pushers chronographs given birth to the first water-resistant watch. As we have seen, the present timepiece is a wonderful, early example of these water-resistant chronographs with its oversize, for that time, stainless steel case measuring 38.5 mm and two round pushers in contrast with the classic olive or square buttons. The screw back in still very fresh with clear engravings "waterproof model+depose". The black dial is wonderfully aged with its Arabic indexes and the white tachymeter scale in contrast and is completed by the fantastic steel bracelet. This watch is also published on "Omega Sportswatches" by John Goldberger at page 20.

Developed during the quartz crisis which strongly hit the Swiss watch industry in the late 1960s and beginning of the 1970s, the Royal Oak revolutionised the industry becoming one of the first "stainless steel sports watches". Over the years it has been embellished with the use of noble material such as the present reference 26330OR. The watch here offered has been manufactured in 18K pink gold and preserved in fancy and great condition: the three-body case with octagonal bezel set with 8 octagonal white gold nuts and screw back is very well preserved and charming. The dial has a gorgeous black Clous-de-Paris with applied luminous pink gold baton indexes, subsidiary dials for the date and days of the week layout giving the whole watch an elegant yet sporty design. The watch is also sold with its original box, warranty, booklets and tag.

REMARKABLE OVERSIZE PRECISION
SHOCK RESISTING WRISTWATCH IN STEEL,
REFERENCE 4370, WITH SILVER DIAL

Brand	Rolex
Model	Precision
Reference	4370
Case Material	Stainless Steel
Bracelet Material	Stainless Steel
Year	1957
Movement Type	Manual
Case N°	289064
Dimensions	37 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Gay Freres Bracelet

Rolex first decided to concentrate on the quality of the movements and its relentless quest for chronometric precision rapidly led to success. In 1914, Kew Observatory in Great Britain awarded a Rolex wristwatch a class "A" precision certificate, a distinction which until that point in time had been reserved exclusively for marine chronometers. It's not a case that the English origin brand decided to call one of its models simply "Precision", to emphasize and make this their ability and peculiarity even clearer. The Reference 4370 here presented to all of you is probably one of the nicest in all its simplicity. The circular steel stepped case is refined with very nice and well-preserved fancy lugs and a snap on back with no evident signs of wearing completed by the silvered dial with subsidiary seconds at 6 o'clock that match with its Gay Freres Bracelet.

Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	1941
Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	9 3/4
Case N°	142727
Dimensions	32 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

This reference 3548 perfectly captured the Rolex's essence of ingenuity adding a distinctive flair. Its style is essential and basic, set mainly on an elegant aesthetic and a delicate shape. The water resistant two-body Empire-style case with screwed-down case back and winding crown and straight lapped lugs has been manufactured in stainless steel and despite the almost 80 years of age is conserved amazingly. The black gilt dial has Arabic and baton numerals so called from the collector "California" dial, outer minute track, with a charming patina but in real nice conditions. The caliber that powers this watch is the 9 3/4" nickel-finished lever movement.

Caliber	1030
Case N°	838271
Dimensions	34 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Black Laquered Dial

This watch with its black two-tone dial is among the most collectable of Rolex's Time Only watches. This model is nowadays very difficult to find and the present lot is probably one of the nicest ever produced by Rolex for its special configurations of the dial. It is indeed a demonstration of the highest craftsmanship: the outer ring has the always appreciated pink color with applied dot minute track, internally the rarest peculiarity: a black laquered circle with gold hour markers for the hour. This special decoration is further enhanced by the gold lettering and dauphine hands with internal luminous material. The case is perfect well preserved maintaining sharp edges and right proportions. The pink-gold bezel is the perfect frame for an absolutely astonishing dial. With the typical Oyster case to prevent the water entering in the movement, this watch represents an unusual, rare and striking alternative to classic Oyster models.

Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Serpico y Laino

This very nice and unusual watch immediately catches for its conditions and rare composition of pink-gold structure. Its style is essential and basic, set mainly on an elegant aesthetic and a delicate shape. The 18k pink gold case is an absolute rarity, because the classic production of this reference included the use of a smooth case while a small handful of them were made with these special lugs. The silver guilloché dial has applied baton numerals, outer dot minute track, pink Dauphine hands, subsidiary seconds at 6 with a charming patina but in real perfect conditions. The dial also offers the special designation "chronometer" and under it is printed the Serpico Y Laino signature as on the back of the case, the famous Venezuelan retailer active from 1925 to 1966. Interesting thing is the super rare original pink gold bracelet with lines in gold in exceptional conditions.

Rolex has always loved experimenting and daring in its productions using the most particular materials to make absolutely unique dials. These creations are now at the center of a whirling interest from collectors and anyone looking for something rare and unusual. In some cases it is not necessary to be an expert to be able to appreciate certain details on a dial, and this is even easier when the whole dial is special: Rolex has therefore produced models of Datejust and Day-Date with special stones, such as onyx, malachite, lapis lazuli, meteorite or coral, all very appreciated and sought after. Due to their fragile nature, many of these dials break during production which increases the manufacturing cost, so these watches are highly sought after by collectors. This specimen here is one of the rarest stone ever produced by Rolex, the Red-Jasper dial. The delicate stone dial features an aperture for the date and minute hands with sweep center seconds. Made in 18 kt white gold, the overall New Old Stock conditions of the watch, displaying sharp milling on the bezel, as well as a crisp hallmark on the underside of the upper right lug, make this watch a rare find. Moreover, it also bears its South American Dagosto white-gold bracelet and full set of original box, tag, and Rolex Venezuelan certificate of valuation. This watch will always remain a one-off ever appeared.

Rolex launched the Datejust in 1945 and is one of the most iconic watches ever produced by the Rolex brand. The reason why it has been called Datejust is pretty logical since this model has the capability to show “just” the date at the stroke of midnight. Equipped its beautiful yellow-gold tile bracelet has been conserved finely in these years, this watch features the classical waterproof Oyster case with the “cyclops” helping to read the roulette black/red date better. The dial is the peculiarity of this watch with the magnificent tropical silver-yellow color which turned the original white dial, decorated with applied dagger numerals and alpha rhodium hands. Exactly under the Rolex Oyster Perpetual stands the red writing “Officially” that is very uncommon to find for this model.

VERY FASCINATING AND RARE OVERSIZED CALATRAVA-STYLE WRISTWATCH IN STEEL, REFERENCE 3675, WITH TWO-TONE DIAL, GAY FRÈRES BRACELET, RETAILED BY SERPICO Y LAINO

Brand	Rolex
Model	Calatrava
Reference	3675
Case Material	Stainless Steel
Bracelet Material	Stainless Steel
Year	1937
Movement Type	Manual
Caliber	10'''
Case N°	042097
Dimensions	37.5 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Gay Freres Bracelet - Serpico y Laino

Exactly five years after inventing the Oyster case, Rolex created, in 1931, a self-winding movement that would rotate 360° with the natural movement of the wearer's wrist to generate power and was supported by a half-moon shaped oscillating weight. This is the best and greatest Rolex steel oversized Calatrava of all time, with its 37.5 mm diameter of the case, it is something uncommon for Rolex standards considering the stylish and elegant lugs, apparently a bit less massive if compared to the rest of the whole case. The watch is also equipped with a cool Gay Freres bracelet. The dial is rare and matches perfectly with the material of the case given its two-tone color which has aged nicely conferring charming patina while the black printed closed outer minutes track and printed Arabic numerals are still untouched. It also offers the special write of the retailer signature Serpico Y Laino, the Rolex celebrated reseller in Caracas founded in 1925 by two Italians transferred to South American soil. Totally groundbreaking and unconventional, this lot is a must-have for every watch aficionados who aspire to possess a collection of absolute level for rarity and above all quality.

The ref.49820 here offered is called the "Shadow" and is a unique sports version of Girard-Perregaux's iconic world-wide time control watch collection. The black ceramic case with big lugs is a mixture of elegance and sportiness with double crown and rectangular chronograph pushers. The in-house caliber made Girard-Perregaux caliber GP03387 powers chronograph complications with flyback feature, the date and, of course, the World Time complication, indicated by the ring with cities and the red/black 24 hours indication ring. The black dial with white and red text is incredibly well printed with everything being proportional making the reading very comfortable despite a busy dial. Made as a unique piece for the Only Watch charity auction, Monaco, 2009.

In the '20s of the 1900s, watches had increasingly found a place on the wrists of many businessmen. Two years earlier than the Great Depression of the 1929 market, Patek Philippe manufactured the present wristwatch in the perfect standard of style of the time. The case has a two-body composition with hinged case back very thin straight lugs and has been manufactured in 18k yellow gold. The shape has been ideated to fit perfectly on the wrist and despite its age it has been preserved in a nice way with little signs of oxidation spreading somewhere on the carrier. The silver sector dial has black painted and applied baton hours markers to make it easier to read, outer minute track, subsidiary seconds dial and gold leaf hands. The watch is offered with the extract from the archives confirming production of the present watch in yellow gold in 1927 and its subsequent sale on 1st November 1935.

Constantly in production until the present day, this dynasty of chronograph with perpetual calendar and moon phases was born in 1941 with the legendary 1518 replaced only a few years later by the equally iconic 2499 (in 1950). The 3970 and 3971 were introduced in 1986, and distinguished them from the previous model by the Lemania movement instead of Valjoux and the size that fell to 36 mm in diameter. When Patek Philippe first launched this new series of watches the ref. 3970 was the model bearing a metallic back, while ref. 3971 was equipped with a sapphire back. Very soon, the reference number of this model was standardized to ref. 3970 so very few examples of the present watch bear Ref. 3971. The yellow-gold case of the lot offered here is exceptional, equipped with a very elegant argenté dial with applied baton numerals and completed by two windows for day and month are positioned slightly above the signature while the date surrounds the sundial with the fascinating moon phases display. An icon and a piece of history is offered here for true lovers and enthusiasts. Accompanied by a Patek Philippe Extract from the Archives confirming production of the present watch in 1990 and its subsequent sale on 22nd July 1990.

Rolex decided to launch the Zenith series of Daytonas in 1988. Taking advantage of the increased size of the case from 37 to 40 mm, these models came equipped with the legendary 4030 caliber with Zenith El Primero ebauche. The present Daytona is a reference 16 520 which means that its case and bracelet are entirely made in stainless steel. Preserved in almost NOS conditions, this specimen left the Rolex manufacture in 1999 and impresses for the quality of its case and rare black dial. Moreover, this Daytona is even more special for the presence of the rare and always appreciated Khanjar logo. Emblazoned on Oman's white, red, and green flag it is the national emblem: the Khanjar has been used in Oman since at least the 3rd millennium BCE, and even in the distant past, they appear to have fulfilled a ceremonial as well as practical purpose. It has become known in the recent years for being depicted on special watches directly commissioned by the Sultan of Oman, His Majesty Sultan Qaboos bin Said al Said. Now deeply located into the history of the legendary Rolex brand this insight is absolutely rare to find and they became even more unique if embellished with the Khanjar logo.

Dimensions	36 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

Made for approximately 20 years, the family of Dato Compax includes references 4767, 5036, 6036, and 6236 and has to be considered a landmark model as it represents the first foray of Rolex into the market of complicated timepieces: offering a chronograph function with triple calendar, there was no other Rolex chronograph model presenting more complications. These models were available in either stainless steel, yellow gold, or pink gold, with a variety of different dial designs. Reference 6036, such as the present watch, is probably the best known representative from this family, and was in production for most of the 1950s. The present specimen has an unbelievably crisp and well preserved two body yellow-gold case retaining excellent definition to all edges and preserved in original conditions. The two-tone dial is highlighted by the applied gold numerals and the outer blue date indication with French indication of the triple calendar displayed by the two windows at 12 o'clock. With yellow-gold alpha hands and a wonderful gold Oyster extensible bracelet, the here offered Jean-Claude Killy, name derived from the fact that the Olympic skier wore one of these models, is an outstanding rarity and one of the best and most original examples ever appeared on the market. A most prominent trophy in any Rolex collection in the world.

Among all Patek's masterpieces, in the last years there is one which has gained a really special place in people's heart thanks to its unique design: the Nautilus. It first saw light in 1976 and it has been advertised as a watch that worked equally well with a wet suit as with a dinner suit. Coming from yet another great idea by Gerald Genta it has been realized in many different materials and with many complications, all having in common the shape of the case looks like a porthole with protruding “ears” on each side of the case and with an eight-sided, curved bezel. The present Nautilus is a superb representative of the exceedingly rare reference 3700/1, launched in 1976. Its stainless steel and yellow-gold case features a beautiful bezel and the double-material bracelet as well is preserved perfectly. The dark blue sigma dial is pure featuring yellow-gold baton minute indexes. Preserved in excellent overall condition, this further enhances its overall appeal making it a highlight for the collector of rare timepieces. Launched at Baselworld in 1972 the Royal Oak represented a real novelty in the Audemars universe as it was the brand's first true sporting pride. The origin of the name has distant roots, namely from the tree under which King Charles of England was hidden to save his life, which was called Royal Oak. The present example is a beautiful, automatic example of the ref. 25 654 with Perpetual Calendar, produced between 1982 and 1993, in a limited edition of 800 examples, including 422 in yellow gold, 272 in steel, 72 in two-tone, 33 in platinum, and one in white gold. This lot is really beautiful in all its aspect, from the two-tone bracelet with original AP deployant, passing to the case with the octagonal bezel and 8 gold screws, till finish with the dark tapisserie dial with the beautiful configuration with applied baton numerals, hands and with indication of day, date, moon phases, month and leap years. The distinctive design of this watch has now become extremely sought after and recognizable and the present lot with its sporty look is perfect for every occasion.

Jewel watches represent a small but significant part of the history of watchmaking. It is precisely from the use of an old and small jewel watch tied to the wrist with a piece of cloth by a nurse in order to better control a child that the modern concept of a wristwatch was born. The present Audemars Piguet is a combination of elegance, refinement and innovation, as well as a remarkable demonstration of skill. The integrated 18k white-gold bracelet has a very special structure of great effect, capable of being at the same time very robust but also delicate while the deployant still shows all the extremely light and deep punches. The circular case has a ring decorated with 32 round diamonds with brilliant cut. The dial offers a splendid and unusual Opal color completed its white-gold baton hands. Fascinating and glamorous, the present watch is offered in remarkable conditions and quality with the extract from archives confirming its production the 31st of August 1993.

In the ultra-centenary history of Panera, the golden period can certainly be inscribed in the 1920s and 1930s, when it became the official supplier of the Royal Italian Navy and gave birth to the Radiomir and Luminor models, its two most recognizable designs. The PAM 21 is a special edition wristwatch from 1997, INCREDIBLY equipped with a vintage Rolex 618 movement. Made in 60 pieces, it was the first special edition wristwatch that Richemont produced following the conglomerate's purchase of the brand. This PAM 00021 aesthetically comes very close to the famous Reggio Marina (Marina Militare) combat swimmers military watch, the PANERAI Rolex 3646 during WWII. In fact, the cushion-shaped Radiomir 47 mm case has been realized in platinum with the typical massive style of Panera: like the historic watches it has an elegant symmetrical construction divided into three parts, with case back in sapphire and the 12-sided bezel in brushed steel with smoothed polished angles presenting the same engraving as the classic model. Offered with full set composed of box and original warranty, this watch is the perfect piece of every collection of military pieces.

The reference 570 was one of the first, among the many produced during the history of Patek Philippe, to be detached in a decisive and evident way from those that were the fashions of the period. Absolutely in contrast with its smaller sister, the reference 96, similar in style but much smaller with a width of 30 mm, the 570 became the largest time-only watch to join the Patek Philippe roster, remaining in production until to 1972. This elegant model was made using various materials: mainly produced in yellow gold there are some and very rare specimens in rose gold, white gold, stainless steel and platinum. This lot is offered here with perfect dial with a superb mat silver finish, applied steel baton numerals, central seconds, outer perlage minute division and steel dauphine hands. This reference is undoubtedly one of the most famous timepieces of the '40s and any enthusiast, collector or even curious on watch cannot remain indifferent to this preciousness. This 18k large white-gold case is one of the most charismatic examples coming to the auction market in recent years still in very good state of preservation showing two sharp hallmarks to the back which are so deep and crisp. A Rolex Daytona timepiece is one of the most iconic watches that Rolex has ever produced: much of the success of the modern-day Daytonas can be attributed to the various Rolex chronographs that came before them. Preceding the Cosmograph Daytona family of watches, the Oyster chronograph reference 6234 is one of Rolex's most sought-after watches, effortlessly combining a sporty look with elegant flair. This model followed the reference 6034 composed by a two-body case made in solid yellow-gold that shows intact and very crisp stamps. The yellow-gold dagger numerals and alpha hands are the original one with still the same luminous material and the silver dial is aged perfectly with a charm champagne patina completed by the black outside tachymetric scale. Examples of any reference 6234 presented in such excellent condition fitted with such dials have rarely appeared on the market so far, making the present lot a must-have for collectors of vintage Rolex sports watches.

PRECIOUS AND ESTEEMED MILITARY
SUBMARINER AUTOMATIC WRISTWATCH
IN STEEL, REFERENCE 1680, WITH BLACK
MATTE DIAL, MADE FOR LIBYAN MILITARY

Brand	Rolex
Model	Submariner
Reference	1680
Case Material	Stainless Steel
Bracelet Material	Stainless Steel
Year	1977
Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	1575
Case N°	5110198
Dimensions	39 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

The Submariner is among the most iconic—if not the most iconic—timepieces Rolex has ever produced and beyond any doubt one of Rolex's most coveted models in the history of horology. An important change came with the introduction of the 1680 model in the late 1960s: the 1680 was the first Submariner to be equipped with a date function, marking the completion of the transition of the Submariner line from specialist tool watch to mass-market fashion accessory. The lot offered here is clearly a member of the latter group and its black matte dial feature a closed six on the depth rating and a perfectly centered "L" in the name ROLEX in respect to the base of the crown symbol. Confirmed as being delivered to Libya in 1977, the Arabic inscription says "Alhanout Alaskari" which translates to Military Surplus store. An unusual and interesting find to add to a Rolex collector of military timepieces.

Year	1966
Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	1520
Case N°	1297704
Dimensions	40 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Box and Sticker

Rolex launched the references 5512 and 5513 in 1962 as the next generation of the legendary Submariner line. Unlike their earlier predecessors, the new references featured crown guards, which gave this tool watches a more robust look, as well as protected the crown during diving of any unnecessary mishaps. The color of the dials can alternatively be glossy with golden or mixed gold/silver graphics or, from 1964 ca., mat with white graphics such as the present watch. The present 5513 from 1966 impresses by its original condition, the well-preserved black graduated bezel and the attractive black mat dial beautifully harmonizing with the ivory tone of the luminous numerals and hands. The tonneau-shaped stainless steel case shows crispy edges and is equipped with its original box and most important the Sticker on the back which shows the almost New Old Stock conditions.

When thinking about the most recognizable watches in horology's history, thoughts of hundreds and hundreds of people surely immediately go to the name of this unforgettable creation is simple and unmistakable: Submariner. Preserved in excellent original overall condition, the present timepiece is a very rare and highly attractive example of the Submariner reference 5508. This 1959 gorgeous specimen has a three-body tonneau screw down back case with 6 mm winding crown in stainless steel of esteemed quality with a nice oyster riveted bracelet also in steel. The bidirectional revolving bezel graduation is likewise correct for the model, with the first fifteen minutes indicated by individual strokes. The dial immediately hits the observer for its beauty, the radium indexes are very evident, the external seconds/minutes track has a very vivid color that stands out in an excellent way. The gold Submariner signature perfectly matches the Rolex oyster Perpetual one such as the Mercedes hands and the indexes. This watch is one of those objects that capture and fascinate, the perfect representation of a status symbol but with a more sophisticated taste.

Patented in 1955 and released only a year later, the Rolex Day-Date presented itself as a watch of undoubted charm but often also very undervalued given its complication that could indicate the day of the week and the date. This particular reference is one of the few examples of Day-Date due to a number of reasons. Firstly, the perfect conditions of the 18k yellow-gold case but, most important this watch features a very rare "bark finish" bezel and bracelet. This special decoration is really hard to find on such watches, the fact that this motif is also repeated in the central band of the bracelet makes the present watch really exceptional. Moreover, the dial as well is something spectacular with the unusual combination of yellow-gold indexes filled with glossy black lacquer applied on a champagne dial, and all completed by the desirable red Khanjar logo at 9 o'clock. It has become known in the recent years for being depicted on special watches directly commissioned by the Sultan of Oman, His Majesty Sultan Qaboos bin Said al Said. When found on a wristwatch, the Khanjar automatically makes them extremely rare and are considered among the world's most sought-after collectable pieces such as the present lot.

The Explorer I was created especially for mountain climbers, while the Explorer II, with its 24-hour graduated bezel and its large, luminescent 24-hour hand arrow, was intended for those spending extended time in dark environments, such as spelunkers. It was 1971 when the first Explorer II reference 1655 was presented like this watch. The dial of the present "Freccione" reference 1655 displays a "T Swiss T" designation underneath 6 o'clock, instead of "T Swiss <25 T", which later generation dials would feature. The lot offered here is one of these wonderful examples with also its very nice indexes with luminous material which is turned to an exciting yellow. This Explorer II delights with its hardly worn condition, crisp, unpolished case, and beautifully aged dial.

Rolex has always had water as a favorite element for new and increasingly efficient watch tools since, in 1927, it put the first completely waterproof watch on the wrist of the British swimmer Mercedes Gleitze. From that moment on, the capacity of immersion of Rolex timepieces increased more and more and in 1967 was presented the first evolution of the Submariner 5514 and was created the Sea-Dweller model reference 1665, one whose exponent is the lot offered here. The case has the same characteristics as the Submariner with the exception of a helium and gas escape valve at 9 o'clock to withstand the compression and allow a greater immersion capacity up to 2000 feet (610 meters). "Rolex patented" Oyster Gas escape valve also visible on the case back, exactly as the present lot. The dial has a mat black color with white text but the most important thing to underline is the presence of the Khanjar symbol, a part of the national emblem of Oman. Watches fitted with "Khanjar" dials were made on a special request from His Majesty Qaboos bin Said Al Said, the Sultan of Oman, and presented as gifts to his closest dignitaries and servants. Rolex scholars hypothesize that around 80 to 90 Sea-Dwellers with Omani text were manufactured. The emblem printed in gold tones above 6 o'clock, it complements the black background graphics incredibly well and, moreover, the case is preserved in beautiful condition, featuring crisp edges and keeps its charm intact and offers the chance of owning one of the most legendary and iconic dive watches ever produced.

Accessories	Box, Papers, Booklets and Tag

Rolex in 1926 gave birth to the first totally waterproof case, named Oyster. Only 5 years later the company introduced the world's first self-winding mechanism, a totally new era of convenience and functionality. In 2020, after almost 100 years, Rolex made a new style for this watch with that stand out of the ordinary, the dial was made in some particular colors: the "candy pink", turquoise blue", "green", "yellow", and finally "coral red" like the present lot. These are today known as "Stella dials". Whilst the colorful dials of the Oyster Perpetual 36s are not Stella dials, they do remind of a very interesting part of Rolex's history. It was during the 1970s and 1980s that Rolex presented these dials, which were lacquered with hard enamel. The caliber of this watch is the 3230, and is a movement developed and manufactured in-house entirely by Rolex. Preserved in New Old Stock conditions with box, original card warranty, booklets and tag, it is a like new watch for every day.

The Cartier Asymmetric is one of the most memorable and fascinating watch models. Launched in 1936, its sloping shape was designed to make it easier to read the time while driving, without having to take your hands off the wheel and the sight of the road. This would also explain the very large and dark Arabic numerals positioned on the beautifully illuminated light silver dial with wave guilloché decoration and blued steel hands, a distinctive feature of Cartier's classic wrist designs. This modern reissue created to pay homage to a model that has in any case marked the history of Cartier was produced in only 300 examples, of which the present lot is the number 191 as can be seen from the engraving on the case back which also presents the date 1996, being the year in which this new edition was presented. The yellow-gold case has a slight oxidation due to time, but its charm remains absolutely unchanged. Perfect for elegant and everyday situations even if its ideal environment is a pilot's wrist.

Among some of the most important members of the Calatrava family, the reference 2526, launched in 1953, is the first wristwatch ever made by Patek Philippe with a self-winding movement and waterproof case. The case was produced by Baumgartner and conceals inside the caliber 12-600AT. Another important characteristic is the fascinating enamel dial, always very difficult to realize and really appreciated when in perfect conditions. The present lot realized in 18k yellow gold is preserved in very nice condition, the case with screw back is crisp and with a nice hallmark between the lugs. The enamel dial has a creamy-white color with yellow gold applied indexes and dauphine hands still undamaged. The reference 2526 is surely one of the nicest of Patek Philippe's whole production which has been able to become a historically important watershed between what was produced before and after it. With the Patek Philippe Extract from the Archives confirming production of the present watch in yellow gold in 1956 and its subsequent sale on 21st March 1957.

Reference 2554 made by Patek Philippe such as the present watch is one of the most appreciated by collectors, launched in 1952, it was available in yellow, rose and white gold in addition to platinum. The present watch is one of the most interesting examples: fully realized in 18k yellow gold with a gorgeous, well preserved and solid bracelet in yellow and white gold, the case has been conserved amazingly. The dial is already rare for its 18K bicolor gold (yellow and white) dial with applied gold indexes set with four baguette-cut sapphires and eight round-cut sapphires, a very unusual feature to be found on such a watch. The caliber is the iconic manually wound 9''90 one of Patek Philippe's most highly regarded form movements. A true piece of collection, this lot is an opportunity not to be wasted by possessing an extremely fascinating object. Accompanied by a Patek Philippe Extract from the Archives confirming production of the present watch in 1966.

FINE AND UNCOMMON CALATRAVA "SPYDER LUGS" WRISTWATCH IN PINK GOLD, REFERENCE 1578, RETAILED BY HAUSMANN & CO WITH CERTIFICATE OF ORIGIN AND BOX

Brand	Patek Philippe
Model	Spider Lugs
Reference	1578
Case Material	Yellow Gold
Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	1951
Movement Type	Manual
Caliber	12'''
Case N°	660471
Movement N°	967223
Dimensions	35 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Certificate Of Origin and Box

Patek Philippe has always been very careful to the needs and demands of its customers: the 1579 is in fact the chronograph version of 1578 which, instead, is a "time-only" watch yet the case that makes them up has the same design except, of course, for the two chronometric pushers. The model offered here is a beautiful and rare specimen of 1578, also known as "spider lugs" or alternatively called "anse a ragno" by Italians collectors for the particular profile of the case that reminds precisely that of a spider. The lugs of this watch have in fact an absolutely unusual shape, characterized by very prominent edges which, over time, tend to wear out. It's still extremely fresh and perfectly preserved case in pink gold. Excellently aged, this dial features dagger and dot numerals with baton hands. The gold signature is completed by the separate seconds counter at 6 o'clock, the closed external track for minutes, and is even more special is the rare signature Hausmann & Co., an important retailer located in the historic center of Rome. Its iconic look, technical proficiency and overall rarity make this piece highly appealing. This watch is sold with its original Certificate of Origin and box.

Caliber	10'200
Case N°	647579
Movement N°	951253
Dimensions	28 x 28 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Extract from the Archives

The production started for the reference 2422 started in 1946 and remained in production until approximately 1956, soon became really appreciated among watch-ers' aficionados for its particular shape. The present lot is the only platinum example currently known with Breguet numerals. A total of 15 other ref.2422 wristwatches are known with a platinum case, however, all of those feature either applied markers or diamond set numerals. The square shape of 28 x 28 mm case excluding lugs with snap on back has been realized in platinum, the lapidated lugs are very sturdy compared to the delicacy of the rest of the case and the crown as well is rather massive, but are the unusual stepped edges of the bezel to surprise us. In addition to this, they also fascinate the particular Breguet indexes applied inside a very clean silver dial with seconds at 6 o'clock. This watch is certainly the demonstration and represents the almost unique possibility of buying an absolutely exceptional watch. With Patek Philippe Extract from the Archives confirming the movement, case material, caliber, reference and the sale on 5th April 1948.

Accessories	Box, Papers and Extract from Archives

This oversized watch anticipated the times for its big dimensions and can now be considered in the standard size with its 47 mm case diameter. Born as a tool watch, this watch has to be worn over an aviator suit and handled with very bulky gloves. Giving this, there's another important and distinctive characteristic of the "Weems" and is the large ball-sized winding crown, allowing a pilot to rewind the movement without taking off the gloves. The present watch is very special since it is in incredible conditions. The stainless steel hinged cuvette has been really well preserved still very clean and reflective. The two-tone dial with white enamel chapter ring and silvered rotating inner disc to set the time in seconds shows Breguet numerals blued steel moon hands. A true "time capsule" piece, its pristine state of preservation makes it a trophy watch for the connoisseur. With the Longines Extract from the Archives confirming case, movement, production and subsequent sale on 28 June 1948 to the company Longines-Wittnauer Watch Co., which was at that time the Longines agent for the U.S.A.

Accessories	Box, Papers and Additional Strap

The brand HYT was launched only in 2012 but has already gained a spot as one of the most interesting independent manufacturers in the field of watchmaking. Introduced in the same year, the H1 was the first wristwatch released by the firm at Baselworld and immediately making a statement through its groundbreaking innovative approach to tell time. The present example is one of the many new models launched at Baselworld 2014, enlarging the company's portfolio and building on its continued commercial success. Its main peculiarity, despite the massive case in aluminum and titanium, is the way it tells the time: it is in fact the first ever timepiece to tell time via fluid. A capillary tube encircles the dial of the HYT H1 Alumen Blue containing two liquids, an aqueous green one and a colorless oil-like liquid. These liquids are transported through a capillary tube, employing two pumps located at 6 o'clock and thanks to them is possible to read the time.

Literature	Published on the book "White Cartier Bianco" by Osvaldo Patrizzi on page 168

The present lot is a precious one since it has been realized in platinum and it is very important to underline that Cartier commissioned two platinum "Cloche" timepieces made exclusively for the auction "The Magical Art of Cartier" in 1996, but with different dials to make each of them unique. The dial is the classic Cartier style with the inner closed minutes track and back Roman numerals. It is the number 1/1 as can be seen from the engraving on the case back which also presents the date 1996, being the year in which this edition was presented. This Cartier with this asymmetric design is one of the most memorable and fascinating watch models. The present watch is published on the book "White—Cartier—Bianco" by Osvaldo Patrizzi at page 168.

Model	Lady Watch
Case Material	Yellow Gold
Bracelet Material	Yellow Gold
Year	1950's
Movement Type	Manual
Case N°	90737
Dimensions	13 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

As a creative designer and a pioneer in horology, most of the watches produced by Cartier over the years have always been amazed by its ability to totally break the mold with the aesthetic standards of the period in which they were designed. The here offered bracelet watch for lady is a bald and fine creation made in yellow gold and elegantly preserved. Despite being a jewel watch, this very model can also be worn in the everyday life thanks to its craftsmanship of links composed of three rings hinged together. On the back of the small circular case are clear the engravings, M.N 12.25.1951 making us imaging that it was a Christmas present.

CARTIER*ORIGINAL AND EXCEPTIONAL TANK CINTRÉE DUAL-TIME WRISTWATCH IN PLATINUM, REFERENCE 11 061

Brand	Cartier
Model	Dual Time
Reference	11061
Case Material	Platinum
Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	1990's
Movement Type	Manual
Caliber	2412
Case N°	A112941
Dimensions	45 x 25 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

Unlikely basically all the other brands, Cartier, in order to create a dual time watch, decided to mechanical movements into one case and a dial split in two sections for the time indication, giving the watch a particularly vibrant look. The Tank Cintrée was always produced in limited quantities and the present watch a very limited piece made in fully platinum with. Its seductive case with long sides and curved back is definitely well preserved and on the band presents two faceted crowns with sapphire cabochons. The silvered dial, as said, is bipartite: the upper part has the classic Tank configuration with large, black painted Roman numerals while the lower one has black painted markers and Roman quarters.

Most of the watches produced by Cartier over the years have always been amazed by its ability to totally break the mold with the aesthetic standards of the period in which they were designed. The lot offered here is a Limited Edition Cartier Diabolo Platinum Minute Repeater made in 2 pieces only with cabochon sapphires on case and crown. It is set on a black alligator strap with white-gold Cartier deployant buckle. The always fascinating complication of minute repetition with two hammers is activated by a button with a sapphire cabochon, the white guilloché dial with circular Roman numerals and second at six is completed with a beautiful set of blue swards hands. The present watch is published on the book "White—Cartier—Bianco" by Osvaldo Patrizzi at page 62.

Dreamed and conceived by the marvelous genius Gerald Genta and subsequently released in 1976, the Nautilus stood the test of time to become one of the most sought-after timepieces in the world. In the course of history, many complications were added to this legendary model in recent times such as chronograph, dual time zone or annual calendar. In 2018, Patek Philippe took the collecting world by storm with the launch of the instantly legendary reference 5740/1G-001 with a perpetual calendar function: One of the thinnest perpetual calendar produced by the manufacture, fitted into a white-gold case is the self-winding caliber 240 Q. The classic dial with the horizontal ribbing also boasts an absolutely magnificent new shade of blue and white printing and embodies the perfect layout and configuration of the three subsidiary dials of the perpetual calendar. Extremely difficult to obtain, this reference is proposed only to very special clients and the present watch is offered in NOS conditions, never worn, with its full suite of accessories and documentation: the ultimate chance to purchase a really elusive wristwatch.

The watches that mostly made Patek Philippe brand famous are certainly those belonging to the chronograph family with perpetual calendar and moon phases. Constantly in production until the present day, this dynasty was born in 1941 with the legendary 1518 replaced only a few years later by the equally iconic 2499 (in 1950). This model remained in production for about 35 years when Patek decided to renew the style of this special object giving rise to the reference 3970. Introduced in 1986 until around 2004 (when it was replaced by 5970 and later by 5270) what distinguished it from the previous model was the Lemania movement instead of Valjoux and the size that fell to 36 mm in diameter. The Patek Philippe 3970 here offered is entirely made of platinum with a bracelet also in platinum and an astonishing black diamond-set dial. Preserved in astonishing conditions with sharp hallmarks to the side of the lugs and provided with its original warranty, box and solid case back, the present specimen is definitely special and a must-have for every collector of complicated wristwatches.

The watches that mostly made Patek Philippe brand famous are certainly those belonging to the chronograph family with perpetual calendar and moon phases. Constantly in production until the present day, this dynasty was born in 1941 with the legendary 1518 replaced only a few years later by the equally iconic 2499 (in 1950). Introduced approximately 1995 to 2005, reference 3990 is virtually identical to the celebrated reference 3970E, with the addition of a diamond-set with 40 baguette-cut diamonds and diamond set hour indexes on the dial the model featured its own unique reference number. The reference hardly ever appears on the market, having been produced in exceedingly low numbers. Entirely made of platinum with the diamond bezel, as certificated by the original Patek Certificate, this series presented a solid screw back able to guarantee waterproofing. Extremely well preserved, this watch is equipped with a very elegant gray ardesia dial and the two windows for day and month are positioned slightly above the signature while the date surrounds the sundial with the fascinating moon phases display. On the sides, at 3 and 9 o'clock, the other two sunken counters. Although this reference is still considered young, it has already reached a state of absolute prestige among the perpetual calendar chronographs with moon phases and is now a must-have for every collector of complicated wristwatches.

The most beautiful discovery for a collector is to find a watch that combines a specially shaped case, a historically important movement and a unique and special dial. The present lot fully reflects these characteristics and with good reason is a candidate for being a piece of absolute value. Vacheron occasionally devoted itself to the manufacture of watches with special designs and the wide, mobile hinged lugs of this watch testify it perfectly. This elegant style of lugs has somewhat become Vacheron Constantin's signature design from the '40s when they have been firstly introduced and then used on different specimens. The two tones argentè dial is extraordinary for its complexity and structure with Arabic printed indexes, outer minutes scale, inner gold hour scales and subsidiary seconds at six. This is a wonderful example of a mid-century vintage Vacheron Constantin wristwatch.

The Rolex Daytona has been, since the beginning of its history, inextricably linked to the world of motor racing. Elegant and very sporty, this model didn't immediately enjoy great success but year after year it managed to climb positions in the list of the most desired and sought after watches among enthusiasts and collectors. Its style has now become iconic and in these decades Rolex has also ventured and indulged in creating some absolutely fascinating and precious versions of the Daytona. It all started with two special models from the 1980s made on special request and in limited quantities: references 6269 and 6270. This lot is a truly fantastic example of a reference 16 568, considered a direct descendant of reference 6270 as both references are embellished with precious stones. Produced by Zenith, the caliber 4030, or "El Primero", was the very first automatic chronograph movement by Rolex, this lot is featuring an unpolished case with thick lugs and crisp hallmarks, highlighted by the fact that its original Rolex Sticker is still present on the case back. Most important to underline for this reference 16568 is that is further adorned with a baguette diamond bezel and a pavé—set diamond and emerald dial which was very uncommon for Rolex at the time. Thanks to its sharp yellow-gold case, screw-down pushers and matching the yellow gold Oyster bracelet, it achieves an unmistakable presence on the wrist.

OUTSTANDING AND RARE CHRONOGRAPH WRISTWATCH IN WHITE GOLD, REFERENCE 5170, WITH BLACK BREGUET NUMERALS DIAL, CERTIFICATE OF ORIGIN AND BOOKLETS.

Brand	Patek Philippe
Model	Chronograph
Reference	5170G
Case Material	White Gold
Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	2017
Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	29-535 PS
Case N°	6085749
Movement N°	5942402
Dimensions	39 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case
Accessories	Certificate of Origin, Booklets and Leather Wallet

The reference 5170 was launched in 2010 in yellow gold and in 2013 in white gold featuring white pulsometer scale. Replacing its predecessor, the 5170 was updated with a wider case (39 mm), and a new caliber (29-535 PS), modern touches, still remaining faithful to the classic and timeless styling. Introduced in 2015 the piece here offered has been realized in 18k white gold and is preserved in almost unworn conditions. The most important feature is the spectacular dial with black color and absolutely rare white-gold Breguet numerals and hands for both time and subsidiary dials. The perfect combination of gold case, black dial, white lettering and gold details are sensational and this alone would be enough to make this watch unmissable. It is, furthermore, accompanied by its original accessories such as the Certificate of Origin and all booklets.

FINE AND SOUGHT AFTER SUBMARINER
AUTOMATIC WRISTWATCH IN
STEEL, REFERENCE 5514, WITH
BLACK DIAL, MADE FOR COMEX

Brand	Rolex
Model	Submariner Comex
Reference	5514
Case Material	Stainless Steel
Bracelet Material	Stainless Steel
Year	1977
Movement Type	Automatic
Caliber	1520
Case N°	5228407 - 791
Dimensions	40 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

The successful collaboration between Rolex and COMEX (Compagnie Maritime d'Expertise) started in the early 1970s when all divers were progressively equipped with watches especially made for COMEX: the present reference 5514 was one of those specimens specifically developed for the French company. Its stainless steel case is notably well preserved with very deep engraved with the COMEX issue number 791 and on the self-band the special gas escape valve designed to release built-up pressure from the case during a diver's resurfacing and decompression. The black dial has applied white-gold luminous round, triangular and baton indexes and the iconic COMEX signature logo.

Accessories	Box, Warranty and Booklets

In 1969 references 6263 and 6265 were simultaneously launched in stainless steel, 14K gold and 18K gold versions, both with the wording "Oyster" on the dial, present for the first time in the history of the Daytona and the innovative screw pushers. The present lot offered here is a high quality specimen made in 18 kt yellow gold is a specimen of 6263 which means that it is equipped with the acrylic black, graduated bezel. The acrylic bezel strikes for the untouched conservation matching perfectly the champagne color with applied baton numerals, ocher luminous dots and black subsidiary dial. Very well preserved, the case still has the initial features with sharp lugs, showing 3 deep hallmarks on the case back and featuring a manual winding cal. 727. In addition, to complete the offer, it comes with its original box, papers and booklets.

Case Material	Stainless Steel
Bracelet Material	Stainless Steel
Year	1964
Movement Type	Manual
Caliber	72B
Case N°	2004735
Dimensions	37 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

The very first model of the iconic Cosmograph Daytona family was the reference 6239, launched approximately in 1963 and discontinued in 1969 like the present lot. The stainless steel case is offered in superb conditions with sharp lugs and well-preserved pushers and crown. The steel bezel calibrated to 200 unites per hour is the trademark of this model, the first one presented on the bezel instead of on the dial, it is the correct one for a watch of this period and appears in really good conditions with absolutely no evident sign of wearing. The watch is the simply astonishing dial with its vivid and shiny black color with white counters nicely aged and conserved. To further embellish it, the very rare and special light blue Daytona signature at 6 o'clock, usually on 6262 references and on the last examples of 6239, such as the present specimen.

ROLEX

SOUGHT AFTER AND ATTRACTIVE
PRE DAYTONA MANUAL WRISTWATCH
IN YELLOW GOLD, REFERENCE 6238,
WITH SILVERED MULTISCALE DIAL

Brand	Rolex
Model	Pre Daytona
Reference	6238
Case Material	14kt Yellow Gold
Bracelet Material	Leather Strap
Year	1966
Movement Type	Manual
Caliber	722
Case N°	1422471
Dimensions	36 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

Produced from the early 1960 until 1967, the reference 6238 became known as the "Pre-Daytona" because following this model, Rolex removed the tachymeter scale from the dial and added it to the bezel. The present specimen of Pre Daytona 6238 enchants for its really beautiful preservation and aging. The three-body yellow-gold case is in perfect proportions with sharp edges and clean screw down case back. The argentè dial has that charm that only some watches are able to emanate, with a catching conservation that has been able to survive in all these years. The applied dagger indexes and the hands with luminous material are a further preciousness that increase the attractiveness of this watch together with the typical sunken subsidiary dials. Moreover, the dial configuration is the most sought after with blue tachymeter and red telemeter scales, both perfectly intact.

€ 80,000 – 160,000

ROLEX

HIGHLY ATTRACTIVE AND VERY RARE DAYTONA CHRONOGRAPH WRISTWATCH IN STEEL, REFERENCE 6263, BLACK "BIG RED" DIAL

Brand	Rolex
Model	Daytona
Reference	6263
Case Material	Stainless Steel
Bracelet Material	Stainless Steel
Year	1979
Movement Type	Manual
Caliber	727
Case N°	6043683
Dimensions	37 mm
Signed	Dial, movement and case

A reference point for Daytona collectors, the 6263 is the last version of the Rolex Daytona and is one of the most desirable vintage Daytona models. The present wristwatch is definitely well preserved: its stainless steel case has still the original proportions, the satin finish on the lugs, sharp edges and crisp and legible serial numbers. This, in combination, with the black acrylic bezel insert, characteristic to this reference, trick the eye to perceive the dial as somewhat larger than it is and serves to give the watch great presence. It also features the very coveted black dial with the attractive big red "Daytona" script and contrasting subsidiary registers, preserved in very good original overall condition.

Like all great masterpieces,
 it could not be hurried.

The making of this unique timepiece was a collaboration of perfectionists. A team of Patek Philippe craftsmen including goldsmiths, enamellers, engravers, watchmakers and gem-setters labored meticulously for more than 5,000 hours to create this extraordinary clock.

Comprised of 278 separate pieces, "The Dolphin" is designed after the Baroque and Renaissance styles of the Italian masters Bernini and Borromini. Its framework is composed of eighteen karat gold and sterling silver panels and exquisitely decorated with a layer of deep blue translucent enamel.

A garland of fruit and flowers in green and yellow gold frames the dial of white opaline enamel set with a solitaire diamond. The dome's four dolphins are set with two and one-half carats of diamonds. The sea motif is complemented by the liberal use of lapis lazuli on the base, leaves and columns.

This clock, along with a collection of other exceptional timepieces, will be on display at the Patek Philippe Exhibition at Tiffany & Co., New York, from October 28th through November 6th.

YEAR	1980
MOVEMENT TYPE	Quartz
CALIBER	33

ACCESSORIES	Box and Extract from the archives

It took a team of Patek Philippe craftsmen including goldsmiths, enamellers, engravers, watchmakers and gem setters a total of 5 234 hours and 278 individual pieces to create one of the world's most magnificent and unprecedented baroque style dome clocks. With a weight of 6.390 kilograms, the framework of the case is composed of 18k solid gold with sterling silver panels, exquisitely decorated by layers of baroque style opaline-colored enamel. A yellow-gold garland of fruit and flowers frames the dial composed of white opaline enamel, set with a solitaire diamond. Completed in 1980, it was named the "Dolphin Clock" after the dome's spectacular four gold dolphins, set with 2.5 carats of diamonds, which give the clock its sea motif. The liberal use of cabochon lapis lazuli on the base, leaves and columns was complemented to further enhance this theme. To the best of our knowledge, after its completion the masterpiece was purchased by the prominent Patek Philippe retailer J. Farren Price of Sydney, today one of Australia's most venerable shops offering an extensive range of luxurious Swiss watches and beautifully crafted and original jewelry designs. They displayed the clock at a "Watch and Clock Exhibition" held in Australia where it was featured in an article as "the most valuable piece in the exhibition", priced at 750 000 US dollars. Still under the property of J. Farren Price, the clock was then displayed at the Patek Philippe exhibition at Tiffany & Co., New York, in 1985, before being sold in 1987. Designed after the baroque and renaissance styles of Bernini and Borromini, Italian dramatic and controversial artists, the "Dolphin Clock" sets a mark in the history of refined watch making and stands today as one of the most important and exceptional clocks ever made by Patek Philippe. Presented in excellent conditions, it is accompanied by its original presentation box and extract from the archives confirming its production in 1980 and its subsequent sale the 11th December 1987.

The exportation has to be done within the legal delays and a maximum of 3 months of the date of the sale.

CURRENCY CONVERSION

Auctions are conducted in Euro in Monaco. A currency conversion board is made available in the saleroom and online, indicating approximate exchange rates for various major currencies.

INDICATIVE NATURE OF THE ESTIMATES

Estimates are listed for each lot and are an indication of the price range the lot is expected to fetch. Estimates do not include the buyer's premium or sales tax.

NO RESERVE

Unless the no reserve lots, all lots in the catalogue are offered subject to a reserve. This is a confidential value established between Monaco Legend Group and the seller.

CONDITION OF THE LOTS

Lot descriptions provide technical data carefully compiled by our experts for each lot in the sale and are often enhanced by historical or biographical comments. Auction catalogue can be viewed online on www.monacolegendauctions.com

We are at your disposal to provide you a detailed report on the conditions of the lots.

All lots are sold in the condition in which they were offered for sale with all their imperfections and defects. Dimensions, colors and weight of the products are provided for information purposes only and are not binding.

No claim can be accepted for minor restoration or small damages. It is the responsibility of each prospective bidder to inspect each lot prior to the sale and to rely on their own judgment to acquaint with the characteristics and the potential repairs or restorations. No claim can be considered once the auction is pronounced. Restored or repainted dials regarded as protective measures and not as vices will not be reported. The conditions of the bracelets and the water resistance of the screwed-back watches are not guaranteed, and neither are the deployment clasps and tang buckles. It is important to note most of the waterproof watches have been opened to identify the type and quality of the movement.

There is no guarantee the watches are still resistant to water and it is recommended to consult your watchmaker before using the item.

Dimensions of the watches are provided for information purposes only. Absence of any indication of the existence of restoration work or of an accident by no means exempt the jewelry from having a defect.

Precious and semi-precious stones may have been subject to treatments with the intention to showcase them. (i.e.: oil treatment of emeralds, heat treatment for rubies and sapphires, whitening of pearls). These treatments are traditional and accepted by the jewels international market. Considering the rise of new treatments, the stones submitted to the auction with no certificates will be sold without guarantees about the treatment.

It shall be stated that the origin of the stones and their quality (color and purity of the diamonds) reflect the opinion of the laboratory issuing the certificate. No claim will be accepted in case another laboratory gives another opinion, and will in no way engage the responsibility of the auctioneer and expert.

The jewelry advertised in our catalogue as yellow-gold or white-gold with no hallmark are always in gold 18K, that is 750‰ – Gold 14K: 585‰ – Gold 9k: 375‰.

Relining, inlay work and varnishing are considered a protective measure and not a vice, they will not be reported. Dimensions are provided for information purposes only.

AUCTION PREVIEWS

Previews are conducted by Monaco Legend Group prior to each auction and details of these exhibitions are found at the beginning of the catalogue or online. Previews are open to the public and prospective buyers are encouraged to view and examine lots offered for sale prior to making their purchases. Our specialists are available to give advice and Condition Report.
