

INTRODUCTION

Exar has designed adaptor boards which allow Exar's AFE video chips to substitute for alternate vendor's AFE products. This allows quick and easy evaluation of the XRD98L59 in existing DSC's and Camcorders. The XRD98L59 CAM VSP2210 EVAL is a design module that solders directly into the PCB footprint of the VSP2210. Figure 1. shows the surface mount adaptor which solders to the PCB footprint, and the EXAR Adaptor Board which plugs into the backend of the surface mount adaptor. Figure 2. is a picture of the surface mount adaptor plugged into the EXAR Adaptor Board.

PROCEDURE

1. Solder the 48-pin surface mount adaptor to the VSP2210 PCB footprint in the DSC or Camcorder.
2. Plug the EXAR Adaptor Board into the backend of the surface mount adaptor using the four mounting screws provided.
3. Once the surface mount adaptor has been soldered, the XRD9861 can also be easily evaluated by plugging in a XRD9861 adaptor board. The XRD98L59 and XRD9861 adaptor boards are interchangeable. See the Ordering Information Section.

Note:

Input capacitor C3 for REF_IN (See schematic on page 4) to the XRD98L59 must match the value for the CCD_IN capacitor (Pin 15 on the XRD98L59).
