

Keysight Y1250A 4-Module Sync Cable and Y1251A 12-Module Sync Cable

Keysight's Y1250A is used to synchronize up to four M9195B (one master and three slave) modules. The Y1251A supports synchronization for a master M9195B and up to eleven slave M9195B modules.

General Use Recommendations

Use these cables to synchronize multiple M9195B modules when each of the modules has the Multi-Module sync upgrade option (M9195B-MMS) installed. All of the modules must share one driver.

Installation of the Y1250A and Y1251A Cables

The hoods on the cable ends provide a standard detent plus a custom thumb screw. The two following photographs show possible cable configurations. Note that not all slave module connectors need to be connected.
