

About FotoStation Easy

Keeping track of your pictures

FotoStation Easy is an image database application, designed for use with Nikon View 5 and your Nikon digital camera. It includes a useful editing program for resizing, cropping, and enhancing pictures, and a handy search feature that allows you to locate image files either by name or using text labels added to pictures with the Nikon Transfer IPTC information option. Images can be kept in pre-named folders created by FotoStation Easy, ensuring that you never loose a picture. You can also share pictures at the touch of a button through Nikon FotoShare, Nikon's free on-line photo community for customers in some European countries.

Organise your pictures by Folder, Filename or Text Label

Images can be selected in FotoStation and then dragged to a conveniently titled folder such as Hobby, Friends and Family or Work. FotoStation Easy has simple to use tools for making images look better as well as cutting them down in size and saving them to a Nikon on-line photo album on the Internet.

FotoShare

The FotoShare registration form appears automatically when FotoStation is started up for the first time. You will need to supply a valid e-mail address and possibly your postal code to register for Nikon FotoShare.

The entire process takes about five minutes, including waiting for a secret code to unlock your FotoSharing account. If you do not want to register when you first start up FotoStation Easy, you can register at anytime later from the FotoStation Easy Links menu:

You can also register for Nikon FotoShare by accessing the FotoShare web site at www.nikon-euro.com/nikoneuro1/fotoshare/registration.htm
