

The new AN-P30/37ARM articulating wall arm mount offers vast functionality in viewing large wide-screen AQUOS Liquid Crystal Televisions. This mount can extend up to 29-1/2 inches; when retracted, the screen is almost flush with the wall yet still provides up to a 5 degree vertical tilt. Three pivot points allow multiple viewing positions for virtually any location within a room. The articulating swivel arm offers a new sleek high gloss silver design with cable management that is consumer friendly versus industrial-like counterparts. The AN-P30ARM accommodates 30" AQUOS models and the AN-P37ARM accommodates 37" AQUOS models.

Features include:

Unique Three Point Swivel Action allows the AN-P30/37ARM to serve as a standard fixed-mount or tilt-mount bracket and permits the AQUOS to extend up to 29-1/2 inches. When fully extended, the AQUOS can be rotated horizontally up to 180 degrees for viewing positions anywhere within the room. When the mount is fully retracted, the panel is only 4 1/3 inches from the wall. Whether viewing requires the mount to be fully extended or retracted, it still offers 5 degrees of tilt action.

Cable management clips are included with this mount that contain and protect the main cable connection of the AQUOS to its AVC system.

Heavy Gauge Cold Rolled Steel Anti-Sag Construction can support up to a 90-pound television and still offer effortless articulation. The silver-fused epoxy finish is scratch resistant and matches the finish of the AQUOS exterior cabinet.
