This is to certify that

4405 Mobile Service Tester
Serial Number 0123456

is covered by Willtek Extended Warranty. This Willtek Extended Warranty extends the standard warranty and is valid from 1st December 2003 until 30th November 2004. The warranty covers repair service on below mentioned Repair Warranty Terms and is provided by Willtek Communications GmbH, Factory Service Centre. The Care Plan is bound to above mentioned unit and can not be transferred to a different product.

Repair Warranty Terms

Willtek Communications GmbH (we) warrant that the product meets specified characteristic features. We reserve the right to effect such changes in the product as do not impair the intended and contractual use or, if at all, impair it only insignificantly; such changes do not justify complaints or rejections.

The warranty period starts and ends with the validity time frame as stated above. The warranty expires if the customer or third parties effect changes or repairs on the products, or if the products are assembled, commissioned, used or operated inexpertly or contrary to the instructions. Precautionary and periodic maintenance work, calibrating as well as normal wear and tear are excluded from the warranty.

Any occurring defects must be reported to us immediately with a detailed error message. We are free to decide whether the fault is to be removed at the customer's seat or in our works respectively in a service place named by us. If the repair is not done at the customer's seat, the rejected products must be sent to us or to the service place named by us, in an appropriate packing, at the customer's risk and cost.

In the implementation of the warranty, it is at our discretion whether to rectify the defects or whether to provide a substitute, further claims being excluded. In the case of software defects we may also give hints on how to bypass the defect. If the defect is not repaired within a reasonable period, the customer is entitled to give notice of rescission of this Care Plan, any other claims being excluded. The reworking or the supply of a substitute does not extend or renew the warranty period.

In case it becomes evident during the checking of the products under objection that this is not a warranty case, we are entitled to charge all accrued costs to the customer.
