

We are grateful also to Copy Editor Ira Rosenfeld and Editorial Assistants Elena Carles and Teresa McLaughlin for their untiring and conscientious application of their expertise in our continuing efforts to maintain a high professional standard for the Journal of Aircraft.

Ultimately, the level of excellence of a publication such as ours depends on the work of reviewers who, without compensation except for the satisfaction of contributing to technical knowledge, have devoted many hours to assuring the accuracy, readability, and relevance of Journal articles. Necessarily anonymous during the reviewing process, their names are presented below, as an expression of our deep appreciation for their help.

Carl F. Schmidt
Editor-in-Chief
