

VOLUME 31 NUMBER 11

ACCOUNTS
of CHEMICAL RESEARCH®

NOVEMBER 1998

Registered in U.S. Patent and Trademark Office; Copyright 1998 by the American Chemical Society

EDITORIAL

Protein Folding Special Issue

Experimental studies of how proteins fold constitute an exciting area of current research at the chemistry–biology interface. Jay R. Winkler and Harry B. Gray served as guest editors for this special issue of Accounts of Chemical Research, which is devoted to recent advances in this multidisciplinary field. We hope readers will find this issue to be especially interesting and timely.

Joan Selverstone Valentine

Editor-in-Chief

AR980087H