Volume 13

A*Administration, Nursing*

- Theoretic exploration of human care and economics: Foundations of nursing administrative practice. (Nyberg) 1990;13(1);74-84.

Aging and Health (Vol 13 No 4, June 1991)

- An analysis of theory-research linkages in published gerontologic nursing studies: 1983-1989. (Murphy & Freston) 1991;13(4);1-13.
 ComputerLink: Electronic support for the home caregiver. (Brennan, Moore & Smyth) 1991;13(4);14-27.
 Factors promoting wellness in the aged person: An ethnographic study. (Miller) 1991;13(4);38-51.
 Health patterns in aging women as expanding consciousness. (Schorr, Farnham & Ervin) 1991;13(4);52-63.

- Home care of the elderly: A family perspective. (O'Neill & Sorensen) 1991;13(4);28-37.

- Toward a nursing theory of self-transcendence: Deductive reformulation using developmental theories. (Reed) 1991;13(4);64-77.

B*Body*

- Feminism, eating, and mental health. (White) 1991;13(3);68-80.

Bonding

- Of human bonding: The context of nursing as caring. (Rawnsley) 1990;13(1);41-48.

C*Caregivers*

- ComputerLink: Electronic support for the home caregiver. (Brennan, Moore & Smyth) 1991;13(4);14-27.

Caring (Volume 13 No 1, September 1990)

- Caring knowledge and informed moral passion. (Watson) 1990;13(1);15-24.

- Concepts of caring and caring as a concept. (Morse, Solberg, Neander, Bottorff & Johnson) 1990;13(1);1-14.

- Earth caring. (Schuster) 1990;13(1);25-30.

- Nurses' stories: The search for a relational ethic of care. (Parker) 1990;13(1);31-40.

- Of human bonding: The context of nursing as caring. (Rawnsley) 1990;13(1);41-48.

- Providing care in the NICU: Sometimes an act of love. (Swanson) 1990;13(1);60-73.

- Theoretic exploration of human care and economics: Foundations of nursing administrative practice. (Nyberg) 1990;13(1);74-84.

- Therapeutic reciprocity: A caring phenomenon. (Marck) 1990;13(1);49-59.

Chronic illness

- Health patterns in aging women as expanding consciousness. (Schorr, Farnham & Ervin) 1991;13(4);52-63.

Classification

- Nursing intervention lexicon and taxonomy study: Language and classification methods. (Grobe) 1990;13(2);22-33.

Cognition

- Expertise: The basis for expert system development. (Thompson, Ryan & Kitzman) 1990;13(2);1-10.

Computer information systems

- Becoming deprofessionalized: One aspect of the staff nurse's perspective on computer-mediated nursing care plans. (Harris) 1990;13(2);63-74.

Issues in designing an automated record system for clinical care and research. (Zielstorff, Jette & Barnett) 1990;13(2);75–88.

Structured analysis: Methodology for developing a model for defining nursing information system requirements. (Gassert) 1990;13(2);53–62.

Validating nursing theory for use within a computerized nursing information system. (Bliss-Holtz, McLaughlin & Taylor) 1990;13(2);46–52.

Computers, use of

ComputerLink: Electronic support for the home caregiver. (Brennan, Moore & Smyth) 1991;13(4);14–27.

Consciousness

Health patterns in aging women as expanding consciousness. (Schorr, Farnham & Ervin) 1991;13(4);52–63.

Context

Of human bonding: The context of nursing as caring. (Rawnsley) 1990;13(1);41–48.

Community health

Exploring gender and culture with Khmer refugee women. (Thompson) 1991;13(3);30–48.

Critical theory

Voices and paradigms: Perspectives of critical and feminist theory in nursing. (Campbell & Bunting) 1991;13(3);1–15.

Culture

Exploring gender and culture with Khmer refugee women. (Thompson) 1991;13(3);30–48.

Development, human

Toward a nursing theory of self-transcendence: Deductive reformulation using developmental theories. (Reed) 1991;13(4);64–77.

Dialectics

Concepts of caring and caring as a concept. (Morse, Solberg, Neander, Bottorff & Johnson) 1990;13(1);1–14.

Diffusion

Diffusion of technology innovation. (Romano) 1990;13(2);11–21.

E

Eating disorders

Feminism, eating, and mental health. (White) 1991;13(3);68–80.

Economics

Theoretic exploration of human care and economics: Foundations of nursing administrative practice. (Nyberg) 1990;13(1);74–84.

Empowerment

Feminist theory and nursing: An empowerment model for research. (Parker & McFarlane) 1991;13(3);59–67.

Therapeutic reciprocity: A caring phenomenon. (Marck) 1990;13(1);49–59.

Engineering, knowledge

Expertise: The basis for expert system development. (Thompson, Ryan & Kitzman) 1990;13(2);1–10.

A research-knowledge system (ARKS) for storing, managing, and modeling knowledge from the scientific literature. (Graves) 1990;13(2);34–45.

Environment

Earth caring. (Schuster) 1990;13(1);25–30.

Epistemology

Caring knowledge and informed moral passion. (Watson) 1990;13(1);15–24.

Concepts of caring and caring as a concept. (Morse, Solberg, Neander, Bottorff & Johnson) 1990;13(1);1–14.

Voices and paradigms: Perspectives of critical and feminist theory in nursing. (Campbell & Bunting) 1991;13(3);1–15.

Ethics

Caring knowledge and informed moral passion. (Watson) 1990;13(1);15–24.

Nurses' stories: The search for a relational ethic of care. (Parker) 1990;13(1);31–40.

Therapeutic reciprocity: A caring phenomenon. (Marck) 1990;13(1);49–59.

Ethnography

Factors promoting wellness in the aged person: An ethnographic study. (Miller) 1991;13(4);38–51.

Expertise

Becoming deprofessionalized: One aspect of the staff nurse's perspective on computer-mediated nursing care plans. (Harris) 1990;13(2);63–74.

Expertise: The basis for expert system development. (Thompson, Ryan & Kitzman) 1990;13(2);1–10.

F

Family

Home care of the elderly: A family perspective. (O'Neill & Sorensen) 1991;13(4);28–37.

Feminism and Nursing (Vol 13 No 3, March 1991)

- Exploring gender and culture with Khmer refugee women. (Thompson) 1991;13(3);30-48.
- Feminism, eating, and mental health. (White) 1991;13(3);68-80.
- Feminist nursing research without gender. (Allen, Allman & Powers) 1991;13(3);49-58.
- Feminist theory and nursing: An empowerment model for research. (Parker & McFarlane) 1991;13(3);59-67.

G

Gender

- Exploring gender and culture with Khmer refugee women. (Thompson) 1991;13(3);30-48.
- Feminist nursing research without gender. (Allen, Allman & Powers) 1991;13(3);49-58.

H

Holism

- Earth caring. (Schuster) 1990;13(1);25-30.

Home care

- ComputerLink: Electronic support for the home caregiver. (Brennan, Moore & Smyth) 1991;13(4);14-27.
- Home care of the elderly: A family perspective. (O'Neill & Sorensen) 1991;13(4);28-37.

I

Innovation

- Diffusion of technology innovation. (Romano) 1990;13(2);11-21.

Intuition

- Providing care in the NICU: Sometimes an act of love. (Swanson) 1990;13(1);60-73.

K

Knowledge development

- Caring knowledge and informed moral passion. (Watson) 1990;13(1);15-24.
- Concepts of caring and caring as a concept. (Morse, Solberg, Neander, Bottorff & Johnson) 1990;13(1);1-14.

L

Language

- Nursing intervention lexicon and taxonomy study: Language and classification methods. (Grobe) 1990;13(2);22-32.

M

Medicalization

- Feminism, eating, and mental health. (White) 1991;13(3);68-80.

Mental health

- Feminism, eating, and mental health. (White) 1991;13(3);68-80.

Metaphor

- Caring knowledge and informed moral passion. (Watson) 1990;13(1);15-24.
- Of human bonding: The context of nursing as caring. (Rawnsley) 1990;13(1);41-48.

Modeling

- A research-knowledge system (ARKS) for storing, managing, and modeling knowledge from the scientific literature. (Graves) 1990;13(2);34-45.

N

Narrative

- Nurses' stories: The search for a relational ethic of care. (Parker) 1990;13(1);31-40.

Neonatal care

- Providing care in the NICU: Sometimes an act of love. (Swanson) 1990;13(1);60-73.

Network theory

- Expertise: The basis for expert system development. (Thompson, Ryan & Kitzman) 1990;13(2);1-10.

Newman, Margaret

- Health patterns in aging women as expanding consciousness. (Schorr, Farnham & Ervin) 1991;13(4);52-63.

Nursing informatics (Vol 13 No 2, December 1990)

- Becoming deprofessionalized: One aspect of the staff nurse's perspective on computer-mediated nursing care plans. (Harris) 1990;13(2);63-74.
- Diffusion of technology innovation. (Romano) 1990;13(2);11-21.
- Expertise: The basis for expert system development. (Thompson, Ryan & Kitzman) 1990;13(2);1-10.
- Issues in designing an automated record system for clinical care and research. (Zielstorff, Jette & Barnett) 1990;13(2);75-88.
- Nursing intervention lexicon and taxonomy study: Language and classification methods. (Grobe) 1990;13(2);22-33.

- A research-knowledge system (ARKS) for storing, managing, and modeling knowledge from the scientific literature. (Graves) 1990;13(2);34–45.
- Structured analysis: Methodology for developing a model for defining nursing information system requirements. (Gassert) 1990;13(2);53–62.
- Validating nursing theory for use within a computerized nursing information system. (Bliss-Holtz, McLaughlin & Taylor) 1990;13(2);46–52.

O

Ontology

- Caring knowledge and informed moral passion. (Watson) 1990;13(1);15–24.

Organizational theory

- Diffusion of technology innovation. (Romano) 1990;13(2);11–21.

P

Paradigms

- Voices and paradigms: Perspectives of critical and feminist theory in nursing. (Campbell & Bunting) 1991;13(3);1–15.

Phenomenology

- Providing care in the NICU: Sometimes an act of love. (Swanson) 1990;13(1);60–73.

Philosophy

- Feminist nursing research without gender. (Allen, Allman & Powers) 1991;13(3);49–58.
- Theoretic exploration of human care and economics: Foundations of nursing administrative practice. (Nyberg) 1990;13(1);74–84.

Powerfulness

- Health patterns in aging women as expanding consciousness. (Schorr, Farnham & Ervin) 1991;13(4);52–63.

Practice, nursing

- Becoming deprofessionalized: One aspect of the staff nurse's perspective on computer-mediated nursing care plans. (Harris) 1990;13(2);63–74.
- Structured analysis: Methodology for developing a model for defining nursing information system requirements. (Gassert) 1990;13(2);53–62.

R

Reciprocity

- Therapeutic reciprocity: A caring phenomenon. (Marck) 1990;13(1);49–59.

Research methods

- An analysis of theory-research linkages in published gerontologic nursing studies: 1983–1989. (Murphy & Freston) 1991;13(4);1–13.

- Feminist nursing research without gender. (Allen, Allman & Powers) 1991;13(3);49–58.

- Feminist theory and nursing: An empowerment model for research. (Parker & McFarlane) 1991;13(3);59–67.

- Providing care in the NICU: Sometimes an act of love. (Swanson) 1990;13(1);60–73.

- Rigor in feminist research. (Hall & Stevens) 1991;13(3);16–29.

- Voices and paradigms: Perspectives of critical and feminist theory in nursing. (Campbell & Bunting) 1991;13(3);1–15.

Rogers, Martha

- Towards a nursing theory of self-transcendence: Deductive reformulation using developmental theories. (Reed) 1991;13(4);64–77.

S

Scientific adequacy

- Rigor in feminist research. (Hall & Stevens) 1991;13(3);16–29.

Self-care deficit theory

- Validating nursing theory for use within a computerized nursing information system. (Bliss-Holtz, McLaughlin & Taylor) 1990;13(2);46–52.

Self-transcendence

- Toward a nursing theory of self-transcendence: Deductive reformulation using developmental theories. (Reed) 1991;13(4);64–77.

Social support

- ComputerLink: Electronic support for the home caregiver. (Brennan, Moore & Smyth) 1991;13(4);14–27.

Story

- Nurses' stories: The search for a relational ethic of care. (Parker) 1990;13(1);31–40.

Symbolic interaction

- Becoming deprofessionalized: One aspect of the staff nurse's perspective on computer-mediated nursing care plans. (Harris) 1990;13(2);63–74.

T

Technology

- Diffusion of technology innovation. (Romano) 1990;13(2);11–21.

Theory development

- An analysis of theory-research linkages in published gerontologic nursing studies: 1983–1989. (Murphy & Freston) 1991;13(4);1–13.

- Concepts of caring and caring as a concept. (Morse, Solberg, Neander, Bottorff & Johnson) 1990;13(1);1–14.

Home care of the elderly: A family perspective.
