CHEMISTRY WEEK

3-11 November 2007

Find out how we will be
'Fuelling the Future'

What will you be driving in 2020?

Probably not a rocket, but more likely a vehicle driven by hydrogen power.

There is an increasing need to reduce our carbon emissions and alter our methods of travel. Chemistry is helping to provide some of the positive solutions to these challenges through the use of hydrogen power and other alternative fuels. To find out more about Chemistry Week events in your local area and the National Chemistry Week Tour visiting nine locations around the UK, visit www.rsc.org/chemistryweek
