

Call for papers!

RSC AD-18020526-c colour

Soft Matter

New for 2005 - a high quality interdisciplinary journal publishing research into soft materials, including complex fluids.

The international editorial board members include:

Ullrich Steiner (Editorial Board Chair)

University of Cambridge, UK

Darrin Pochan (Associate Editor for North America)

University of Delaware, USA

Colin Bain

University of Oxford, UK

Paula Hammond

Massachusetts Institute of Technology, USA

Geoff Maitland

Schlumberger, UK

Tom McLeish

University of Leeds, UK

Helmuth Möhwald

Max-Planck-Institut, Golm, Germany

Samuel I. Stupp

Northwestern University, USA

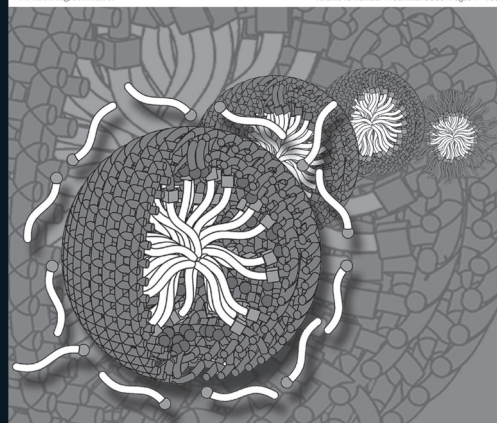

Kaoru Tsujii

Hokkaido University, Japan

Soft Matter

www.rsc.org/softmatter

Volume 15 Number 1 | Summer 2005 | Pages 1 - 100

RSC | Advancing the Chemical Sciences

Submit today!

RSC Publishing

www.softmatter.org

Elegant Solutions

Ten Beautiful Experiments in Chemistry

Where does the true beauty reside in experimental chemistry?

In the clarity of the experiment's conception? the design of the instruments? the nature of the knowledge gained or of the product made?

'Philip Ball is one of the most prolific and imaginative of contemporary science writers.'
Chemistry in Britain

Winner of the Aventis Prize for Science Books 2005, Philip Ball,
offers ten suggestions in his latest book

Hardcover | 0 85404 674 7 | 208 pages | 2005 | £19.95 | RSC member price £12.75

RSC Publishing

www.rsc.org/elegantsolutions