Take the global perspective

Chemistry World, the award-winning monthly magazine from the Royal Society of Chemistry, has something for everyone with daily online news, articles on all aspects of the chemical sciences, job vacancies and award-winning columnists.

Named Best monthly and business professional magazine of the year at the 2006 PPA Magazine Awards, Chemistry World reflects the ubiquitous importance of the chemical sciences in the world today, providing a more complete picture and informed opinion on the issues that matter.

Daily web updates and e-mail alerts give the magazine a strong online presence that enhances and expands on the monthly print issue. Plus, with the Chemistry World Podcast and Blog, there's a chance to go interactive.
