Aims and Scope

The Chemical Engineering Journal provides an international forum for the presentation of original research, interpretative reviews and discussion of new development in the areas of Environmental Chemical Engineering and Chemical Reaction Engineering. Papers which describe novel theory and its application to practice are welcome, as are those which illustrate the transfer of techniques from other disciplines. Reports of carefully executed experimental work, which is soundly interpreted are also welcome.

The Environmental Chemical Engineering section presents papers dealing with topics in environmental chemical and process engineering. Treatment processes, environmental risk analysis, environmental process control and measurement, clean process technology and sustainability are covered. Papers in which knowledge from other disciplines is integrated with chemical engineering are especially welcome.

The Chemical Reaction Engineering section presents papers on a wide range of topics including reaction kinetics, applied catalysis, simulation and optimization of different types of reactors, unsteady-state reactors, multiphase reactors, and fundamental investigations of the processes of heat, mass and momentum transfer that take place along with chemical reaction. Research works addressing critical areas of reactor engineering (e.g. reactor materials, control strategies, reactor safety and environmental issues), and emerging reactor technologies (e.g. membrane reactors, chromatographic reactors, unconventional fluidized beds, electrochemical reactors, micro-reactors, etc) are particularly welcome.

Types of Contribution

Original papers—these should be complete and authoritative accounts of work which has a special significance and must be presented clearly and concisely.

Review articles—these will normally be commissioned by the Editor or the Reviews Editor. Prospective authors of a review article should consult with either Editor to check the suitability of their topic and material before submitting their review.

Rapid communications—will be accepted for the early communication of important and original advances. Such accounts may be of a preliminary nature but should always be complete and should not exceed the equivalent of 3000 words, including figures and tables.

Letters to the Editor—Letters commenting on work published in the journal should be sent to the Editor.

The journal will also publish Book reviews.

Language

All papers submitted to the Journal should be written in good English. Authors for whom English is not their native language are encouraged to have their paper checked before submission for grammar and clarity.

Authors in Japan please note: upon request, Elsevier Science Japan will provide authors with a list of people who can check and improve the English of their paper (before submission). Please contact our Tokyo office: Elsevier Science Japan, 1-9-15 Higashi-Azabu, Minato-ku, Tokyo 106-0044, Japan. Tel.: (03) 5561 5032; Fax: (03) 5561 5045.

Manuscript Preparation

Three copies should be provided in double-space typing on numbered pages of uniform size with a wide margin to the left.

Correspondence address

The name, complete postal address, telephone number, fax number and e-mail address of the corresponding author should be given on the first page of the manuscript.

Abstract

A brief summary (50-200 words) of the contents and conclusions of the paper and an indication of the relevance of new material should be included at the beginning of the paper. Authors of papers in French should provide a translation of the Abstract in English.

References

These should be indicated by numerals in square brackets, introduced consecutively in the text and must be listed at the end of the paper in numerical order. Journal titles should be abbreviated according to the Chemical Abstracts Service Source Index, 1970 edition, and supplements. The abbreviated title should be followed by the volume number, year (in parentheses) and page numbers.

Equations

These should be numbered (1), (2) etc.

Illustrations

It is imperative that authors supply the original and two copies of each illustration. Artwork should be supplied as black ink tracings or as high contrast black and white glossy photographs. High quality computer graphics are also acceptable. Because artwork will generally be reduced in size before printing, any lettering must be sufficiently large (3–5 mm) to be legible after reduction. All illustrations should preferably require the same degree of reduction and must be clearly numbered. Legends to illustrations must be submitted on a separate list. Illustrations can be printed in colour when they are judged by the Editor to be essential to the presentation. Further information concerning colour illustrations and the costs to the authors can be obtained from the publisher.

Units

The use of SI units is preferred.

Referees

When submitting a paper authors may suggest up to 3 referees, supplying the full name and address in each case. However, the final choice of referees will remain entirely with the Editor.

Accepted articles on disk

The final and accepted text should be submitted on a 3.5 in diskette (in addition to a hard copy with original figures). Double density (DD) or high density (HD) diskettes formatted for MS-DOS or Apple Macintosh compatibility are acceptable, but must be formatted to their capacity before the files are copied on to them. The files should be saved in the native format of the word processing program used. Most popular wordprocessor file formats are acceptable. It is essential that the name and version of the word processing program, type of computer on which the text was prepared, and format of the text files are clearly indicated.

Copyright Transfer

All authors must sign the 'Transfer of Copyright' agreement before the article can be published. This transfer agreement enables Elsevier Science to protect the copyrighted material for the authors, but does not relinquish the author's proprietary rights. The copyright transfer covers the exclusive rights to reproduce and distribute the article, including reprints, photographic reproductions, microform or any other reproductions of similar nature and translations, and includes the right to adapt the article for use in conjunction with computer systems and programs, including reproduction or publication in machine-readable form and incorporation in retrieval systems. Authors are responsible for obtaining from the copyright holder permission to reproduce any figures for which copyright exists.

Proofs

Corresponding authors will receive proofs of their paper. (Authors will not receive proofs of Letters, in order to achieve rapid publication.) They are requested to return corrected proofs as soon as possible. No new material may be inserted in the text at the time of proof reading. A "note added in proof" will be accepted only if permission has been obtained from the Editor.

Offprints

Twenty-five offprints are provided free of charge. Further copies can be ordered at prices shown on the offprint order form which accompany the proofs.

Page charges

There are no page charges.
