Editorial Information

Instructions for authors and copyright status form are printed in the first issue of each volume. Please conform to these instructions when submitting manuscripts.

Manuscripts for publication should be submitted to the Editor, Leonard V. Interrante.

Correspondence regarding accepted papers and proofs should be directed to the Journal Publishing Operations at the address above.

The American Chemical Society and its Editors assume no responsibility for the statements and opinions advanced by contributors.

Registered names and trademarks, etc., used in this publication, even without specific indication thereof, are not to be considered unprotected by law.

The document number appears after the bibliographic information for each entry. A document number is a nine character code that is unique to each article and is assigned during the editorial production of the manuscript. It serves as a link between the documents in the printed product and the electronic products (CJACS Plus Images and journals on CD-ROM) and makes it easy to retrieve the full text of the exact article.

Claims are handled by Member & Subscriber Services.

Supporting Information is noted in the table of contents with a ■. It is available as photocopy ($12.00 for up to 3 pages and $1.50 per page for additional pages, plus $2.00 for foreign postage) or as 24× microfiche ($12.00, plus $1.00 for foreign postage). Canadian residents should add 7% GST. See Supporting Information notice at the end of journal article for number of pages. Orders must give complete title of article, names of authors, journal, issue date, and page numbers. Prepayment is required and prices are subject to change. In 1995, electronic Supporting Information is available to current journal subscribers via the Internet using either gopher or World Wide Web protocols. Most often, the material is available as PDF files, which may be viewed using Adobe's Acrobat Reader, a program which is freely available on the Internet. However, some articles may include computer programs, PostScript files, word processing files, experimental data in a standard format (e.g., crystallographic parameters in CIF format), etc. To download the Supporting Information, users will need to enter their journal subscriber number, which can be found on the mailing label. Detailed instructions for using this service can be found on the Internet. With gopher, connect to pubs.acs.org, go to the "ACS Publications" selection and then to the "Supporting Information" selection. Read the README file in this directory for detailed instructions. When using a WWW client (e.g., Mosaic, Netscape), connect to the URL "http://pubs.acs.org/", select the "Supporting Info. for Journals" link. For further information on electronic access, send electronic mail to gopher@acsinfo.acs.org, or phone (202) 872-4434. For information on microforms, contact Microforms & Back Issues Office at the ACS Washington address or phone (202) 872-4554. Supporting information except structure factors also appears in the microfiche edition.
