

EDITORIAL

This issue contains, for the second year, the abstracts of lectures and posters to be presented during the annual meeting of the Society for Complex Carbohydrates. This year this American organisation is organising a joint meeting with the Mid-West Connective Tissue Workshop, which will take place in Ann Arbor, Michigan, in November.

Also on the American front, Glycoconjugate Journal is pleased to announce the appointment of an American Associate Editor. Dr. Kenneth O. Lloyd, of the Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, has agreed to help in the further development of the journal.

This, and the appointment of Glycoconjugate Journal as the official journal of the Society for Complex Carbohydrates, will accentuate the international nature of the journal.

Manuscripts may be submitted to the American Editor at the following address:
