

PUBLISHER'S FOREWORD

20th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATIONS IN KYOTO, JAPAN

The first issue of the International Journal of Multiphase Flow was published in October 1973. By the end of 1994, the 20th volume had been completed in a year which also saw the successful launch of Annual Reviews in Multiphase Flow, a new supplement to the journal's six regular annual issues. There was therefore cause for celebration at the 2nd International Conference on Multiphase Flow, held in Kyoto, Japan, in April 1995, when 150 internationally renowned scientists attended a reception to mark the journal's success, and the particular contribution of the Editor-in-Chief, Professor Gad Hetsroni. Five of the journal's Associate Editors were also able to be present.

The accompanying photographs show several of the guests at the Swan Banquet Hall of the Kyoto International Conference Hall, which proved to be an ideal venue. In a short speech, Professor Hetsroni reviewed the journal's success story to date, and looked forward to even greater achievements in the next 20 years.

