

Publisher's note

At the same time that Professor K.H.J. Buschow assumes responsibility as Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Alloys and Compounds, we are pleased that Professor Gin-Ya Adachi of Osaka University has agreed to join the Editorial team. Gin-Ya Adachi's editorship comes at a timely moment, as the Journal of Alloys and Compounds continues to expand its scope in the area of materials science, combined with the increasing research activities in Japan and other Asian countries.

The principal editorial team is therefore now as follows:

Editor-in-Chief:

K.H.J. Buschow

Physics, Metallurgy, Hydrides

Editors:

G.-Y. Adachi

Chemistry and Materials Science

H.F. Franzen

Chemistry

Authors are invited to submit their paper to one of the above editors. Further details on submission can be found on the inside cover.
