SCOPE

The Journal of Cellular Biochemistry publishes descriptions of original research in which complex cellular, pathogenic, clinical, or animal model-systems are studied by biochemical, molecular, genetic or quantitative ultrastructural approaches. Submission of papers reporting genomic and proteomic approaches to identify and characterize parameters of biological control in a cellular context are encouraged. The areas covered include, but are not restricted to, conditions, agents, regulatory processes, or differentiation states that influence structure, cell cycle & growth control, structure-function relationships, or assembly mechanisms in cells, viruses, or supramolecular constructs, and signaling mechanisms mediating transcription. This scope extends to cell structure and function; organelle assembly; regulation of cell organization, reproduction or differentiation; stem cell biology, non-coding RNAs, the architectural organization and compartmentalization of nucleic acids and regulatory proteins within the nucleus and cytoplasm; the dynamics of intranuclear trafficking, placement and assembly of regulatory machinery for genetic and epigenetic control of gene expression; and to the development, organization or remodeling of tissues. Manuscripts are to be submitted to the Managing Editor.

CATEGORIES OF MANUSCRIPTS CONSIDERED FOR PUBLICATION

Articles are full-length papers presenting complete descriptions of original research which have not been published and are not being considered for publication elsewhere.

Fast Track articles are concise papers which present original timely research of exceptional significance and should make an important contribution to the field. Fast Track manuscripts must be concise: limited to 12 double spaced typed manuscript pages, a maximum of 35 references, and 4 items for the presentation of data (e.g. figures, tables, micrographs). Authors who wish to have their manuscript considered for publication in Fast Track should include a brief indication of reasons why the manuscript is suitable for "fast tracking" in their letter of transmittal. The names, addresses (including e-mail), telephone and fax numbers of five potential reviewers must also be provided in the transmittal letter. Fast Track manuscripts should be submitted to one of the Executive Editors.

Prospects are topical overviews on emerging areas of research. They summarize key problems, concepts, experimental approaches, and research opportunities which characterize a subject area. Prospects should not include previously unpublished research results. They are generally invited by the Editors; authors who wish to submit a Prospect should first consult with the Editors.

Viewpoints include news items, meeting summaries and announcements, book reviews and letters to the Editor. Submitted Viewpoints will be reviewed rapidly and appear in the next printed issue of the Journal.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ARTICLE SUBMISSION

Journal of Cellular Biochemistry has a completely digital submission, review, and production process. We therefore ask for production-quality files at submission of your article. Following the guidelines below will expedite the processing, review, and publication of your article should it be accepted. Manuscripts submitted in incorrect formats will be returned for resubmission.

- Please submit your manuscript online at <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/jcb-wiley>.
- Click on "Check for Existing Account". If you do not already have an account, click on "Create an Account". Be sure to enter Keywords.

- Follow instructions carefully. Please review that your submission has uploaded correctly before clicking on the "Submit" button.

- On completion of a successful submission, a confirmation screen with manuscript will appear and you will receive an e-mail confirming that the manuscript has been received by the Journal. If this does not happen, please check your submission. Contact jcb@med.uvm.edu for the editorial office or ts.mcsupport@thomson.com for ScholarOne Support if you require assistance.

Text

Submit your text in DOC or RTF format.

Do not embed figures or tables in this document; these should be submitted as separate files.

Tables

Tables should be created with a word processor and saved in either DOC or RTF format. Do not embed tables in your text.

Figures

To ensure the highest print quality, your figures must be submitted in TIF or EPS format according to the following minimum resolutions:

- 1200 dpi (dots per inch) for black and white line art (simple bar graphs, charts, etc.)
- 300 dpi for halftones (black and white photographs)
- 600 dpi for combination halftones (photographs that also contain line art such as labeling or thin lines)

Vector-based figures (e.g. figures created in Adobe Illustrator) should be submitted in EPS format.

Color Figures

In addition to the above resolution guidelines, color figures must be submitted in a CMYK colorspace. Do not submit color figures as RGB.

Unacceptable Figure Formats

Do not submit figures in any of the following formats: JPG, GIF, PSD, CRD, PCT, PPT, PDF, XLS, DOC, BMP, 123 (or other Lotus formats).

VIDEOS: Files should not be uploaded to the submission site, they should be sent to production in the event that the article is accepted.

Title Page must contain:

- Complete article title 16 words or less
- Names & affiliations (institutions) of all authors, with the corresponding author indicated by an asterisk.
- Institution(s) at which the work was performed with city & state. Affiliations must be listed at the departmental level. Each distinct affiliation should be listed as a separate entity, with a superscript number that links it to the individual author(s).
- Complete name, address, telephone number, fax number & e-mail address of corresponding author.
- A running head of not more than 45 characters, including spaces.
- Bullet point keywords (in bold).
- Total number of text figures & tables.
- All grant information should be provided in the following format: Contract grant sponsor: ___ ; Contract grant number: ___ .

Abstract: This should summarize the major findings and conclusions in the paper in not more than 250 words compressed into a single paragraph. The abstract should be intelligible without reference to the rest of the paper.

MATERIALS AND METHODS:

For all studies involving the use of animals, the following conditions should be met:

- a. All research animals must have been obtained and used in compliance with federal, state, and local laws and institutional regulations.
- b. The Journal recommends that animals be maintained in accordance with the guidelines of the NIH (Guide for the Care and Use of Laboratory Animals, 1996), the European Communities Council, or equivalent regulatory guidelines in other countries. Any veterinary accreditation should be noted in the manuscript.
- c. The author must have received permission from their institutional Animal Care and Use Committee, and the manuscript must indicate that such approval was received.

LITERATURE CITED:

Reference should be made only to articles that are published or in press. Unpublished results and personal communications should be cited parenthetically in the text. Authors are responsible for the accuracy of the references. References in the text to the literature should be made by author's name followed by year of publication:

... studies by Briggs (1993) reveal ...

... studies by Briggs and Porter (1994) reveal ...

... an earlier report (Briggs, 1994) ...

... earlier reports (Briggs, 1993; Briggs and Porter, 1993, 1994) ...

If there are more than two authors, use the first author and et al. The final list must be alphabetized and include only references cited in the text. Each entry must include the names of all authors, complete title of the work cited, and inclusive page numbers. Abbreviations of journal titles should follow those used in Index Medicus.

Examples:

Journal Article:

Wright CD, Mülsh A, Busse R, Newman P. 1998. Generation of nitric oxide by human neutrophils. Biochem Biophys Res Commun 29:813–820.

Book Cited:

Whistler P, Wilks S. 1989. Methods in carbohydrate chemistry. New York: Academic Press. p.244

Book Chapter Cited:

Smith A. 1990. Transport of antigens: mechanisms and biological and regulatory consequences. In: Ariano MA, editor. Biosynthesis of heme and chlorophylls. New York: Wiley-Liss. p 230–278.

Legends: Each illustration must have a legend and be numbered consecutively with arabic numerals. Abbreviations pertaining to the labeling of figures should be listed once, alphabetically, and placed before the first figure containing these abbreviations.

Tables: Each table must be submitted as a separate file.

Illustrations: Use illustrations sparingly; they should not duplicate information already made clear in the text. All color figures will be reproduced in full color in the online edition of the journal at no cost to authors. Authors are requested to pay the cost of reproducing color figures in print ($500 per page of color). Authors are encouraged to submit color illustrations that highlight the text and convey essential scientific information. For best reproduction, bright, clear colors should be used. Dark colors against a dark background do not reproduce well; please place your color images on a white background wherever possible. Please contact at jcbprod@wiley.com for further information. All graphics and lettering must be legible after reduction in size. Illustrations must be numbered in order of appearance with roman numerals and keyed into the text.

Conflict Interests: Potential financial interests must be disclosed to the Editors in the cover letter. Funding sources supporting the work should also be cited. Authors must disclose commercial considerations, such as an equity interest, patent rights, or corporate affiliations, including consultancies, for any product or process mentioned in the submission. This information will be acknowledged at publication in a format agreeable to both the Editor and the responsible author. Rejection of the manuscript or retraction may occur if undisclosed financial interests are found after publication.

Supplementary Online Material: Authors may submit supplementary material for their articles to be posted in the electronic version of the journal. There are no restrictions on file types, however please keep in mind that the more universal the file type the more accessible it will be to the community. All supplementary material must be submitted online as "Supplementary Material" for peer review.
