Publisher's Note

New Editor

We are pleased to announce that Professor Rainer Bischoff, University of Groningen, Groningen, The Netherlands has agreed to join the team of Editors of the Journal of Chromatography B as from 1 November 2001.

Professor Bischoff received his Ph. D. degree in Chemistry in 1984 at the University of Göttingen with practical work performed at the Max-Planck-Institute for Experimental Medicine in Göttingen. After a career that led him to Purdue University (West-Lafayette, IN, USA) as a postdoctoral fellow, he spent 11 years in applied research at Transgene, a biotechnology company in Strasbourg (France), and 3 years at AstraZeneca R&D in Lund, Sweden. In his current position at the University of Groningen, Professor Bischoff focuses on developing novel methods for protein and peptide analysis. His research group has collaborations with the Faculty of Medicine for disease markers and the Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences in the area of affinity-based sample preparation methods. He has about 60 publications in these areas and is inventor on 6 issued patents and 2 patent applications.

We are sure that you will all join us in welcoming him to his position.
