ANNOUNCEMENT

Symposium on Applied Mathematics dedicated to the late
Professor R. Timman

Delft University of Technology

January 11, 12 and 13, 1978

The Department of Mathematics of the Delft University of Technology will be organizing a symposium on Applied Mathematics dedicated to the late Professor R. Timman. The objective of the symposium will be to illuminate the broad influence of Professor Timman in the field of applied science.

The programme will consist of a memorial lecture given by W. J. Beek, five general lectures given by T. Y. Wu, J. N. Newman, T. F. Ogilvie, J. V. Wehausen and L. van Wijngaarden, and twelve specialist lectures given by O. M. Faltinson, J. A. Geurst, A. J. Hermans, T. van Holten, W. P. A. Joosen, R. E. Kleinman, J. H. McCarthy, L. Noordzij, R. Nottrot, H. S. Rutten, N. Salvesen and J. A. Sparenberg.

The symposium will be held at the Delft University of Technology on January 11, 12 and 13, 1978. For further information please contact Dr. M. W. C. Oosterveld, Secretary of the Organizing Committee, Netherlands Ship Model Basin (NSMB), P.O. Box 28, Wageningen, the Netherlands.