

Editorial

The United Kingdom has just completed an extended programme of research into the behaviour of various hazardous wastes on land fill sites. We hope to publish a number of the more important papers within the Journal and this edition contains some contributions from the Harwell Laboratory.

It is hoped that future issues of the Journal will review specific areas of work in a similar way. Forthcoming topics under consideration are hazards in laboratories, marine hazards and transport problems.

F.S. FEATES