

As a biochemical engineer, I was fascinated by the last section which takes up more than half the book. It has 17 chapters on such topics as viruses, bacteria, mycobacteria, fungi, rickettsia, chlamydia, parasites, envenomations, allergens, latex, malignant cells, recombinant organisms, prions, endotoxins, and wood dust.

Gary F. Bennett

PII: S0304-3894(02)00013-4