

Publisher's Note

Professor Wonyong Choi

The Publisher is delighted to announce the appointment of Professor Wonyong Choi as Editor.

Wonyong is currently Associate Professor in School of Environmental Science & Engineering at Pohang University of Science and Technology (POSTECH) in Korea. He received his B.S. in Chemical Technology from Seoul National University in 1988 and his Ph.D. in Environmental Chemistry from California Institute of Technology (CALTECH), Pasadena, in 1996.

Wonyong's fields of specialization include semiconductor photocatalysis for environmental and energy applications, environmental photochemistry, advanced oxidation processes, and solar photocatalytic hydrogen production. He is also interested in various physicochemical methods for the destruction of recalcitrant pollutants, environmental chemistry of polychlorinated dibenzo-p-dioxins, and redox reactions on metal nanoparticles.

Wonyong has received a number of awards for his achievements in environmental science and engineering and is a member of several journal editorial boards. He is also co-author of over 104 papers published in peer-reviewed journals and has presented over 132 oral talks and posters at international conferences and meetings.

Authors are invited to submit articles to Professor Wonyong Choi online at <http://ees.elsevier.com/hazmat/>.