

JMR

Journal of Magnetic Resonance

AssignFit is a program for the assignment of orientation dependent NMR spectral frequencies. It works by minimizing the difference between experimental data and data calculated from a biomolecular structural model. The program is provided with the XPLOR-NIH package.

Editor: Lucio Frydman