Journal of Natural Products 2012 ASAP

The Editor and corresponding author wish to retract this Rapid Communication on the basis that statements made therein have been invalidated due to the reporting of an incorrect structure of a toxin. The corresponding author asserts that the enzyme inhibition data and molecular docking studies reported in this Rapid Communication were conducted properly; however, the reported compound is incorrectly attributed. The corresponding author acknowledges the error and notes that the results were reported in good faith.

The original Rapid Communication was published ASAP on April 25, 2012, and withdrawn on June 29, 2012. The PDF content of the original ASAP Rapid Communication accompanies this Addition/Correction as Supporting Information.
