SECTION ON EDUCATION AND LEGISLATION, A. PH. A.

The past few years have witnessed many changes in the education deemed necessary for the pharmaceutical professions as well as the enactment of important legislation relating to pharmacy in all its phases. A public expression of opinions on matters of educational and legislative interest, with the discussions resulting therefrom, is important as a guide for further action and the harmonizing of diverse views. The meetings of the Section on Education and Legislation provide opportunities for presenting your views and for a discussion of them by those equally interested and capable of offering intelligent comment. The fact that this is a joint meeting with the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association makes possible a wider interchange of ideas.

Research in pharmaceutical education by pharmaceutical educators was the basis of several papers at the Miami meeting and this work should be continued. Comments on new and modified courses to be offered in the four-year curriculum will be of value. Correlation of college teaching and board examination material would be helpful to both. The social aspect of pharmacy school courses is deserving of more attention. Reports upon legislative activities are always timely.

Your cooperation in the matter of presenting papers and joining in the discussions is earnestly sought. Titles for inclusion in the printed program should be accompanied by short abstracts (50–100 words) and should be received by the undersigned before July 1st.

C. W. BALLARD, Acting Secretary. 115 West 68th Street, New York, N. Y.

JAPAN PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY.

Abstracted from the Japanese Retail Pharmacist.

The 52nd general meeting of the Japan Pharmaceutical Society and the society's lecture meeting were held on April 16th and 17th, at the Imperial Academy Hall, Kanda, Tokyo. The meetings were attended by many representing pharmacy, horticulture and industrial chemistry. The following new officials were elected: President, Dr. Kintaro Ueno; Vice-President, Dr. Kotaro Nishizaki, former president of the Imperial Hygienic Laboratory of the Department of Home Affairs; Secretaries, Dr. Heihachiro Kondo (professor at the Tokyo Imperial University), Dr. Katsuzaemon Keimatsu (professor at the same university), Pharmacy-General Dr. Matajiro Watanabe; eleven councilors.

The following are some of the more important lectures delivered:

"On Hydnocarpus Oil and the Method of Manufacturing Fatty Acid Ethylester," by Ryuji Kobayashi of the Hygienic Research Laboratory of the Home Department.

This research has been undertaken at the request of the Lepra Prevention Society. The laboratory secured raw material from Siam and manufactured hydnocarpus oil on a large scale and a clinical study has been undertaken in various leper hospitals throughout the country.

"The Method of Manufacturing Ephedrine," by Messrs. Kozo Shinozaki and Shinji Tanaka.

Formerly, ephedrine has been manufactured by means of the Nagai-Kanao method. However, the importation of the German synthetic ephedrine has threatened the domestic industry as the German artificial product has been found to be as good as the natural product. Experiments have been made by means of such methods as Eberhard, Mans & Johnson, Skita & Keil, E. Spath and G. Koller. Messrs. Shinozaki and Tanaka have used the following two methods in their successful experiments: the electrolysis reduction of benzaldehyde and contact reduction.

EUROPEAN HISTORICAL SOCIETIES.

The Society for the History of Pharmacy has issued a second part on "Karl Wilhelm Scheele—His Life and His Work." A print has also been sent out to members of the Society showing the "Star Pharmacy" at Nuremberg, about the year 1710, also another picture showing Christ as apothecary, from an oil painting by Marie Appeli in the German International Museum at Nuremberg for the year 1731. The prints are suitable for framing.

The French Society for the History of Pharmacy has also continued its interesting work under the direction of M. E. H. Guitard. A number of early apothecaries have been briefly sketched and some of the bulletins have interesting illustrations. Both of these societies are rendering valuable service.

RESEARCH IN SUBSTITUTES FOR SANTONIN.

Research has been pushed on by Dr. Tatsuo Kariyone, head of the biology department of the Municipal Hygienic Laboratory of the Home Department, into substitutes for santonin which Japan has been importing from Soviet Russia to the amount of two million yen per year. Dr. Kariyone has been making a research into various medicinal herbs. Henopogium oil produced from the Japanese herbs could not meet the requirement of Japan Pharmacopæia, but experiments have been successfully made at the Herb Garden at Kasukabe for the purpose of raising herbs that can be turned into oil that will meet these requirements.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The JOURNAL OF THE A. PH. A. is in receipt of invitations from many schools of pharmacy and desires to express appreciation and thanks for these favors.

marks; Editor J. H. Finley of the New York Times was the principal speaker and Dr. Welch made a brief address.

The annual banquet of the Alumni Association of the Pharmacy School was held on June 2nd. The toastmaster of the evening was R. E. Lee Williamson. President R. A. Pearson and Honorary President of the Alumni Association, Charles Morgan, spoke briefly. President Carson P. Frailey of the National Drug Trade Conference and Secretary of the National Drug Manufacturers Association attended.

LEGAL AND LEGISLATIVE.

NARCOTIC DRUG LAW CONSTRUED.

The Washington Supreme Court: State vs. Helmer, decided that a statute made it unlawful to possess narcotic drugs unless such drugs had been lawfully obtained. The law also provided, in part, as follows:

In any prosecution for the violation of the provisions of this act it shall not be necessary for the indictment, complaint or information to set forth any negative allegation, nor for the plaintiff to prove that the defendant does not come within any of the exceptions herein contained; but such exceptions shall be considered as a matter of defense and the burden shall be upon the defendant to show that he comes within such exceptions.

In a prosecution for unlawful possession of a narcotic drug, the supreme court held that, while the state had the burden of proving beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant possessed the drug, if the defendant desired to rest his defense upon his lawfully obtaining possession of the drug, he had the burden of proving such lawful acquisition to the extent of creating in the minds of the jury a reasonable doubt as to whether or not he had unlawfully acquired possession of the drug.

OREGON STATE FEDERATION OF PROFESSIONAL SOCIETIES.

Oregon State professional societies have affiliated in an effort to secure members of the Legislature, who in the opinion of the bodies will serve the best interests of the citizens. The societies associated for the purpose and concerned with medicine, pharmacy and more or less related service, are: Oregon Chapter, American Physiotherapy Association; Oregon State Graduate Nurses Association; Oregon State Medical Society; Oregon State Pharmaceutical Association; Oregon State Veterinarians Association.

RHODE ISLAND PHARMACY LAW AMENDMENTS.

Pharmacy laws in general and pre-requisite requirements in particular were strengthened under the amendments recently passed by the Rhode Island Legislature and signed by Governor Case. The future registered pharmacist in Rhode Island must be 21 years of age, a citizen of the United States, of good moral character and temperate habits and a graduate from a four-year course in Pharmacy of not less than three thousand hours of instruction of which not less than twelve hundred hours shall have been devoted to lectures and recitations and not less than fifteen hundred hours shall have been devoted to laboratory work in a regularly incorporated educational institution authorized to confer degrees in the state in which it is located and which is approved by the Board of Pharmacy. Exemption is allowed to graduates of any college or school of Pharmacy or a department of Pharmacy of a university approved by the Board, who matriculated thereat prior to October 1931. Applicants must pass a satisfactory examination before the Board and shall also file proof satisfactory to the Board of four years of practical experience and pharmaceutical training under the supervision of a Registered Pharmacist. Actual attendance at college may be credited as pharmaceutical training not to exceed three years. Legislation was also included to allow reciprocal registration to Pharmacists of other states which previously had been allowed only by the rules and regulations adopted by the Board.

The amended law also abolishes the Regis-
