ERRORS IN "COMMENTS ON SOLUTION OF MAGNESIUM CITRATE."

Errors of omission occurred in the article by Frederick Kleinschmidt, "Comments on Solution of Magnesium Citrate," JOUR. A. PH. A., 20 (1931), 48. In eleventh line sub-figure "2" was omitted from formulas ( $C_6H_5O_7$ )<sub>2</sub>, and at end of the article the equal sign between potassium hydroxide and potassium glucosate was omitted.

THE CAPPER-KELLY BILL.

It is to be hoped that in the further consideration of the Capper-Kelly Bill it will be held to its original purpose, a matter that should receive serious consideration because of its importance to the retail trade in its various divisions and indirectly affecting all citizens. The N. W. D. A. Bulletin says: "Throughout the debate on the bill the opponents of the measure manifested an astonishing ignorance of the intent and scope of its provisions and many who have heretofore pledged themselves to vote for the measure supported destructive amendments which they declared were necessary "for the protection of the consumer."

We are quoting elsewhere a discussion of a related subject by Lieutenant Governor Huber of Wisconsin.

Further consideration of resale price maintenance legislation was postponed beyond this session of Congress by vote on February 3rd of the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce.

The action of the Committee involved both the Capper-Kelly Resale Price Bill (H. R. 11) and the bill (S. 240), introduced by Senator Capper of Kansas, to govern the distribution of trade-marked articles.

Postponement of the consideration of the Capper-Kelly Bill was agreed to by the Committee after the bill had been passed January 29th by the House carrying four amendments. The other bill (S. 240), concerning the resale of trade-marked articles, had been introduced early in the session by Senator Capper and had not been reported by the committee to the Senate.

CANADIAN HOSPITAL PHARMACY.

The Canadian Hospital quotes Dean G. A. Burbidge in the following: "Our Act always made hospital pharmacy work illegal unless conducted by a registered pharmacist, and to become a registered pharmacist in Nova Scotia one must serve four years in a drug store in addition to taking a 2-year course at the Maritime College of Pharmacy. This store service was felt unnecessary for hospital work and a handicap for hospitals that might desire to engage a pharmacist. Hence the Act was amended so that any person with matriculation qualifications may take the College course and become a hospital pharmacist. If such a person desires to become a registered pharmacist, he or she may do so by completing four years' drug store service. For the present the College course for hospital pharmacy is the same as for ordinary registration, but it may be thought desirable to add to it or to so modify it to better suit hospital needs. It is not the intention, however, to have a standard for hospital pharmacy in any degree lower than for drug store service. This matter was discussed fully by Dr. H. L. Scammell, field representative of the hospital department of the American College of Surgeons. Dr. Scammell expressed himself as strongly favoring the policy adopted in this province.

INFLUENCE OF MAGNESIUM SALTS ON STRYCHNINE OR COCAINE POISONING.

Hypodermic injection of 0.2 Gm. of magnesium sulphate per kilo body weight in rats causes a slowing of the respiration; with 0.4 to 0.7 Gm. narcosis lasting for thirty minutes is produced; with 0.8 to 1.0 Gm. the narcosis lasts for an hour; and longer with still larger doses. Combined injection of magnesium and strychnine increases the mortality among rats, death resulting from paralysis of the respiratory center. Cocaine combined in the injection with magnesium sulphate exerts an antagonistic effect on the central nervous system, but the cardiac action is a summation of the effects of the two drugs. Magnesium sulphate, cannot, therefore, be employed as an antidote for strychnine or cocaine poisoning.—S. V. Ziganov (Zhur. exper. Biol. Med., 12 (1930), 252; through Chem. Abstr., 24 (1930), 2196).

FUNDS SUBSCRIBED TO ST. LOUIS DRUG SURVEY.

Drug manufacturers, wholesalers and other interests in the drug and allied trades have thus far pledged a total of $18,956.50 to the St. Louis survey now being carried on under the direction of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The total cost of conducting the thorough study of the operation of nine drug stores in St. Louis and one in a nearby small town is estimated at from $100,000 to $125,000; about one-half of this amount will be provided by the federal government, the remainder must come from other sources. According to the committee, there are many who have not subscribed who have either not been approached or who have not had the importance or the scope of the work properly brought to their attention.

GENEVA NARCOTIC CONFERENCE.

President Hoover has commended legislation for favorable action authorizing an appropriation of $35,000 for the expenses of participation by the United States in the Conference on Limitation of the Manufacture of Narcotics to be held in Geneva, Switzerland, on May 27, 1931.

ALLEGED COUNTERFEITING OF ALLONAL.

Caught, it is charged, in the act of selling allegedly counterfeit "Allonal" to a druggist, a man was arrested in New York City last month. Indicted by the Grand Jury, he was held in $2500.00 bail for trial in general sessions court.

The alleged sale was made in the doorway of a building on Broadway, where the man apparently had arranged a meeting with his customer to deliver the product. The accused was trailed to the spot by a special investigator and Detectives Barrett and Vaughn of the safe and loft squad of the New York Police Department, who had been assigned to work with the investigator in breaking up drug counterfeiting.

EFFECT OF CHAIN STORES ON LIFE OF COMMUNITIES.

BY HENRY W. HUBER.*

The following paragraphs are quoted from the U. S. Daily of February 2nd:

"The day of reckoning has come with chain stores that are fast driving the country store-keeper to the wall, with consolidations of enterprises to stifle competition and boost prices on the consumer and with a growing financial dictatorship that tells the farmer what will be paid for his crops—not what the crops are worth in labor and industry.

"The chain store is a vital question, that strikes to the very lifeblood of society. This question is not only attracting the attention of the people of Wisconsin, but of the whole Nation.

"What has become of the neighbor who ran a grocery store and bought the products of the near-by farmer? He has been crowded out by the chain grocer. Maybe members of the community may save a few pennies on a package of raisins or a dozen oranges, but they have lost a real citizen in their community. In the place of the home grocer has come the clerk for the chain grocery, whose home is in some far-away city and who is interested only in sales, the profits of which take wing out of the community.

"The chain store issue is a form of monopoly that strikes at the very root of the home. Ordinarily, in discussing a monopoly the effect has been so far away that people cannot readily understand the evil of the system. But in the chain store monopoly people will become interested. It is the greatest evil of any system of monopoly that has ever come into existence, because it aims at the home.

* Lieutenant Governor of Wisconsin in U. S. Daily.

"Should the chain store monopoly securely fasten itself upon Wisconsin, our children's children will be like peasants and the property which rightfully belongs to them will be owned and controlled by absentee landlords in the large community centers."
