

Publisher's note—new editorial organisation

We are pleased to announce that both Professor Sergio Pinzauti (University of Florence, Italy) and Professor Jun Haginaka (Mukogawa Women's University, Nishinomiya, Japan) have agreed to join the team of Editors of the Journal of Pharmaceutical and Biomedical Analysis as from 1 January 2002.

Professor Haginaka's main research interests are the analysis of drugs and their metabolites by chromatographic and electrophoretic methods; preparation and application of protein-based stationary phases; preparation and application of molecularly imprinted polymers.

Professor Pinzauti's research interests are in general in advanced methodologies for analytical profiling of drugs and in particular in electroanalysis, validation, experimental design, chemometrics, bioanalytical methods, capillary electrophoresis, chromatography, mass spectrometry and preformulation studies.

We are sure you will all join us in welcoming Professor Pinzauti and Professor Haginaka to this position, in which they will no doubt make significant contribution to further strengthening the high reputation of the journal.

In addition to this new appointments we would like to inform our readers that in this new editorial organisation Professor Jacques Crommen (University of Liège, Belgium) will focus his editorial activities on special issue papers and therefore has been appointed special issue editor as from 1 January 2002.

Authors from all geographical regions can continue to submit their manuscripts to one of the editors handling regular papers:

Jun Haginaka, Faculty of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Mukogawa Women's University, 11-68, Koshien Kyuban-cho, Nishinomiya 663-8179, Japan

Henk Lingeman, Department of Analytical Chemistry, Free University, Amsterdam, The Netherlands.
Submission Address: Bottelroosweide 3, 3448 ZA, Woerden, The Netherlands

Craig E. Lunte, Department of Chemistry, University of Kansas, 2010 Malott Hall, Lawrence, KS 66045, USA

Sergio Pinzauti, Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences, University of Florence, Via G. Capponi 9, 50121 Firenze, Italy