

Electronic Submission to the Journal of Pharmacy and Pharmacology

We are delighted to announce that the Journal of Pharmacy and Pharmacology is moving to a system of electronic processing, whereby submission, refereeing and author contact will take place online via the Editorial Manager™ platform. The online system, which can be accessed at www.editorialmanager.com/jpp, will greatly simplify and accelerate the reviewing process, thereby reducing the time from receipt to initial decision to below the 6–8 weeks that we already achieve for the vast majority of submitted papers using the present system. It will also mean that the postal time lags experienced by many of our authors and referees will be effectively negated, as well as reducing costs for all concerned.

We have chosen Editorial Manager due to its efficiency, ease of use and accessible interface. As you will see from inspection of the web site, authors are requested to register, after which uploading of papers will be a simple and rapid process. This system was chosen after extensive research and it is our belief that all those involved will notice tangible benefits immediately. We encourage you to register at your earliest convenience so that we can include you within the new format as rapidly as possible.

As always, we wish to express our appreciation to all those who have been involved in helping us develop the JPP so that it now embraces not only cutting edge science but also cutting edge processing technology from this point onwards. The editorial team feel that the Journal is continuing to go from strength to strength. We therefore very much look forward to working with you in making this latest improvement another positive step in the development of the Journal of Pharmacy and Pharmacology.
