

Online submission as of October 1st, 2007

© Springer-Verlag 2007

Springer has introduced an electronic manuscript submission, review and tracking system (Editorial Manager™) for the Journal of Solid State Electrochemistry designed to ease the handling of manuscripts for authors, editors and referees and to speed up the publication process:

Authors submit their manuscripts online.

The Editor-in-Chief, the Topical Editors, the Managing Editor and the Referees will also retrieve the manuscripts online.

All communication with the editorial office is by e-mail.

From October 1st 2007, all manuscripts must be submitted via Editorial Manager™.

For uploading your manuscript to Editorial Manager™, please log on to the site <http://www.editorialmanager.com/jssel/> or use the button “submit online” at the journal’s homepages in www.springer.com10008. Please read the detailed information given on the screen and follow the instructions. The Managing Editor and the Editor-in-Chief will be alerted by the system immediately after your manuscript has been received completely and has passed a first formal check in Springer’s Journal Editorial Office (JEO). For the general preparation of your manuscript prior to electronic submission, please follow the detailed “Instructions for Authors”.
