

211,782.—Purification of paraffine oils. THOMAS MARRIN.

Treatment of the oil with sludge acid, and neutralizing the decanted and washed paraffine oil.

211,783.—Liquid dryers for oils, paints, etc. A. W. PRATT.

A compound consisting of oil, rosin, caustic soda and a solution of chloride of manganese.

Feb. 4, 1879.

211,909.—Alloys for metric gold coin. WM. W. HUBBELI.

Gold, 30 pts. ; silver, 1.5 ; copper, 3.5 pts.

211,928.—Compositions for drying paints and oils. A. W. PRATT.

To the ingredients described under No. 211,782 is added a certain quantity of some lead-salt.

211,961.—Processes for bronzing wood, porcelain, glass, metal, etc. R. BOETTGER.

The articles are coated with a thin film of soluble glass, and the powder applied to the wet surface by means of a sieve or duster.

212,016 and 212,017.—Manufacture of white pigments. H. KNIGHT.

Precipitated zinc sulphide, barium sulphate and magnesium carbonate, are mixed, calcined and ground.

212,058.—Rubber oils. G. L. SCOTT and CYRUS McCUMBER.

A composition consisting of india rubber, linseed oil, a variety of rosins and gums, together with benzol, naphtha, turpentine and lead preparations.

212,077.—Manufacture of alloys, etc. N. W. WILLIAMES.

Claim : The hardening and toughening of metal castings and alloys, by applying to the surface of the molten metal pieces of horn or analogous material.

Feb. 11, 1879.

212,094.—Manufacture of hydraulic cement. I. A. FRANCIS.

Proposes to utilize in this manufacture coal-dust, coal ashes and sewer mud, or refuse lime from tanneries, and parting sand from foundries.

212,150.—Artificial fuel. F. F. E. MUCK.

Consists of coal-dust and decomposed fucus.

Feb. 18, 1879.

212,331.—Flavoring compounds for tobacco. D. STERNBERG.

Claim : A solution of valerian-root and the following ingredients : cassia-fistula, tonka-bean, peruvian balsam, orange-blossom oil, essence valerian, butyric ether, orange-blossoms, orange-peel, tamarinds or prunes, vanilla-bean and castor.