

Technical and Advisory Committees of the American Oil Chemists' Society 1944-45

APPPOINTMENTS of the chairmen and personnel of most of the technical and advisory committees of the American Oil Chemists' Society have been completed, and the committees are actively engaged in work on numerous problems of interest to the membership of the Society. An effort has been made to divide the work of these committees as equitably as possible and to induce some of the younger and newer members to participate in this field of the Society's activities.

The number of technical, administrative, and advisory committees has grown larger year by year as the interests and activities of the Society have expanded. The last annual directory listed 22 such committees. At the annual meeting of the Governing Board held in New Orleans on May 13, 1944, five new committees were authorized, namely, Postwar Planning Committee, Public Relations Committee, AOCS Award Committee, Special Referee Sample Committee, and a special committee to investigate the present method of nominating and electing officers and suggest possible improvements in the present procedure. It was also recommended that the names of the chairman and personnel of the Nominating Committee be published along with the other standing committees. Since the close of the annual meeting the appointment of an additional subcommittee on Standard Samples and Supplies was requested.

After correspondence with previous chairmen and members a few committees were not appointed because of lack of pressing problems to come before them, but these can and will be appointed whenever the need for them arises. These latter committees include the Committee for the Study of Analysis of Cottonseed for Lint, Sampling Committee, and Soap in Refined Oil Committee.

Governing Board

Klare S. Markley, principal chemist; chief, oil, fat, and protein division, Southern Regional Research Laboratory, New Orleans, Louisiana—president, American Oil Chemists' Society.
Robert R. King, technical director, Interstate Cotton Oil Refining company, Sherman, Texas—first vice-president.
Samuel O. Sorensen, technical director, Archer-Daniels-Midland company, Minneapolis, Minnesota—second vice-president.
John R. Mays, chemist, Barrow-Agee laboratories, Memphis, Tennessee—third vice-president.
Foster D. Snell, president, Foster D. Snell, Inc., Brooklyn, New York—fourth vice-president.
J. C. P. Helm, chemist and owner, Helm laboratories, New Orleans, Louisiana—secretary-treasurer.
Lamar M. Kishlar, manager of research, Ralston Purina company, St. Louis, Missouri—president, 1943-4.
H. S. Mitchell, chief chemist, Swift and Company, Chicago, Illinois—president, 1942-3.
W. G. McLeod, director of product control and research, Oscar Mayer and Company, Madison, Wisconsin—president, 1941-2.
Henry A. Schuette, professor of chemistry, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin—president, 1940-1.

A. O. C. S. Award Committee

H. E. Longenecker, chairman, The University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh 13, Pennsylvania.
H. S. Mitchell, Swift and Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago 9, Illinois.

H. R. Kraybill, American Meat Institute, 59 East Van Buren street, Chicago 5, Illinois.
O. E. May, Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry, Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.
F. D. Snell, Foster D. Snell, Inc., 305 Washington street, Brooklyn 1, New York.

Bleaching Methods Committee

Egbert B. Freyer, chairman, Spencer Kellogg and Sons, Inc., 389 Ganson St., Buffalo 3, New York.
R. T. Milner, Northern Regional Research Laboratory, Peoria 5, Illinois.
R. J. Houle, Lever Brothers Company, Hammond, Indiana.
Ralph A. Marmor, A. E. Staley Manufacturing Company, Decatur, Illinois.
Henry Odeen, Bennett-Clark Company, Inc., Nacogdoches, Texas.
J. H. Sanders, The Procter and Gamble Company, Chemical Division, Ivorydale 17, Ohio.
A. D. Rich, Filtrol Corporation, 634 South Spring St., Los Angeles 14, California.
N. F. Kruse, Central Soya Company, Inc., Decatur, Indiana.
Harold Ory, Ralston Purina Company, St. Louis 2, Missouri.
G. Worthen Agee, Barrow-Agee Laboratories, Inc., Memphis, Tennessee.

Cellulose Yields Committee

L. N. Rogers, chairman, The Buckeye Cotton Oil Company, Pulp Dept., Memphis, Tennessee.
E. C. Ainslie, The Buckeye Cotton Oil Company, P. O. Box 1724, Atlanta, Georgia.
M. G. Boulware, The Southern Cotton Oil Company, Memphis, Tennessee.
C. H. Cox, Barrow-Agee Laboratories, Inc., Memphis, Tennessee.
W. H. Hude, Southern Chemical Cotton Company, Inc., Chattanooga, Tennessee.
E. H. Tenent, Woodson-Tenent Laboratories, Box 2135, Memphis, Tennessee.

Color Committee

G. Worthen Agee, chairman, Barrow-Agee Laboratories, Inc., Memphis, Tennessee.
Morden G. Brown, Spencer Lens Company, 19 Doat street, Buffalo, New York.
M. M. Durkee, A. E. Staley and Company, Decatur, Illinois.
E. B. Freyer, Spencer Kellogg and Sons Company, Inc., 389 Ganson St., Buffalo 3, New York.
J. J. Ganucheau, Box 360, New Orleans, Louisiana.
K. S. Gibson, National Bureau of Standards, Washington 25, D. C.
N. C. Hamner, Southwestern Laboratories, 1105½ Main St., Dallas, Texas.
V. C. Mehlenbacher, Swift and Company, Research Laboratories, Chicago 9, Illinois.
R. T. Milner, Northern Regional Research Laboratory, Peoria 5, Illinois.
Harold Ory, Ralston Purina Company, St. Louis 2, Missouri.
Anderson W. Ralston, Armour & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago 9, Illinois.
W. H. Schmidt, Lever Brothers Company, Edgewater, New Jersey.
E. O. Seabold, The Humko Company, Box 448, Memphis, Tennessee.
R. C. Stillman, The Procter and Gamble Company, Ivorydale 17, Ohio.
Procter Thomson, The Procter and Gamble Company, Ivorydale 17, Ohio.
H. P. Trevithick, Bureau of Chemistry, New York Produce Exchange, 2 Broadway, New York 4, New York.
G. J. Heider, Wilson and Company, Inc., Box 1230, Chattanooga 1, Tennessee.

THANK CHEMICAL RESEARCH

for the widened use of alloys!

Metals and alloys are in the headlines. No longer are they standardized commodities. For specialty steel makers have been called upon to develop metals with specific properties to do specific jobs.

As a result we have today alloys that are lighter, stronger, and with many qualities long hoped for but never previously achieved. These new alloys are being used to help shorten the war. And tomorrow they will render a much enlarged service in peacetime pursuits.

The widened use of alloys—the result of many newly discovered properties—is a tribute to chemical research. Thank the chemist also for his control methods to assure exacting uniformity of quality.

Baker's Analyzed C. P. Chemicals and Acids are tools used by the chemist both for product research of alloys and for their quality control. These laboratory reagents are the choice of the nation's finest chemists and are stocked by the leading laboratory supply houses of the country.

Here's the reason. They are dependable. They bear the actual analysis on the label, which enables the chemist to save time and obtain accurate results. So on your next order specify Baker's Analyzed when you send your order to your favorite laboratory house. J. T. Baker Chemical Co., Executive Offices and Plant: Phillipsburg, N. J. AIR DRIVEN STIRRER

REPLACES FOR MANY PURPOSES, STIRRERS
WITH ELECTRIC MOTOR DRIVE

AIR DRIVEN STIRRING APPARATUS, A.H.T. Co. Specification. A new model, of simple design and high torque, especially at low speeds; with piston drive, for operation at variable speeds by means of compressed air or vacuum. Operates on pressures as low as 2 lbs.

The piston drives a sturdy machined flywheel, 3¼ inches diameter, and attached stirrer shaft. Air under positive or negative pressure reaches the piston chamber through a hollow tube, 4 inches long x ⅜-inch o.d., by which it can be attached to support stands.

Stirring rods are of Monel metal with a brace which eliminates "whip" and insures satisfactory operation in deep containers. Maximum speed, without load, at 15 lbs. air pressure is approx. 2500 r.p.m., which speed requires approx. 1.3 cu. ft. of compressed air per minute.

9226. Stirring Assembly, Air Driven, A.H.T. Co. Specification, as above described, with adjustable chuck, stirring rod with brace and 4-blade propeller 2-inches diameter. Complete with support with heavy semi-circular base for vessels up to 12 in. diameter and 30-inch rod, and clamp holder but without glass jar.

Length of stirring rod, inches.....	12	18
Each.....	17.50	18.50

9227. Stirrer only, with stirring rod but without support, clamp holder or glass jar..... 13.00 13.50
