

CROLL-REYNOLDS Jet-Venturi

Fume Scrubbers

*minimize odors
clean and purify air
and other gases
without fan or blower*

ADDITIONAL APPLICATIONS

to recover valuable solids use as Jet Reactors

SEND TODAY FOR COMPLETE CATALOG

Croll-Reynolds CO., INC.

Main Office: 751 Central Avenue, Westfield, N. J.

CHILL VACTORS • STEAM-JET EVACTORS • AQUA-VACTORS
FUME SCRUBBERS • SPECIAL JET APPARATUS

Five distinct flames are available in the Selecta-Jet blast burner offered by Fisher Scientific (Pittsburgh) for working all types of glass tubing, pulling capillaries, making glass-to-metal seals, and constructing glass systems of every variety.

• Names in the News

Albert C. Zettlemoyer (1948), professor of chemistry, Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa., served as chairman of the American delegation to the Third International Congress of Surface Activity, September 12 to 17, Cologne, Germany, where he presented two papers to the Congress.

Eldred K. Olson has been named chief chemist, quality control laboratory, by the Staley Manufacturing Company, Decatur, Ill., succeeding Lisle R. Brown (1945), who retired September 1 after 36 years with Staley.

Richard E. Schuman has been promoted to manager of operation and planning, research division, at Staley.

Carter Litchfield (1957), formerly with the Procter and Gamble Company, Cincinnati, has joined the Department of Biochemistry and Nutrition, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Tex.

Charles V. Simpson, Waterville, Minn., was elected president of the American Soybean Association at the 40th annual convention, Memphis, Tenn., August 23, 1960.

Pierre Budowski (1949) has returned to the Department of Animal Nutrition, Agricultural Research Institute, Rehovot, Israel, after study at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Tex.

H. Neal Dunning, formerly with the Bureau of Mines Laboratory, Bartlesville, Okla., has been appointed head of a new department of Physical Chemistry Research, General Mills Inc., Minneapolis, Minn.

James M. White, research fellow at Duquesne University, has been named Project Leader in this department.

John C. Dittmer (1960) has moved from the A.R.C. Institute of Animal Physiology, Cambridge, England, to the Department of Biochemistry, University of Southern California, Los Angeles.

August F. Gehrke (1949), formerly with Pillsbury Mills, Minneapolis, has returned to Germany and is in Karlsruhe-Rueppurr.

Leonard N. Norcia (1955) has moved from the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation to the School of Medicine, Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa.

George E. Barker (1949), formerly with the Quaker Chemical Products Corporation in Conshohocken, Pa., is now in Chicago with the Van Straaten Chemical Company.

A. J. Bauman (1959) has gone to the City of Hope Medical Center, Duarte, Calif., from the California Corporation for Biochemical Research, Los Angeles.

R. A. Hagberg has joined the Capital City Products Company, Columbus, O., as sales manager of the Fatty Acid Division.

Armour Research Foundation, Chicago, Ill., will aid Argentina's newly formed National Institute of Industrial Technology in formulating a program of assistance to Argentine industry. It is hoped that the three-month program will make industry aware of the value of research.

General Testing Laboratories Company Ltd., Vancouver, B.C., have acquired Norman L. Armstrong Ltd. and are now located at 325 Howe street.