

PEOPLE

Mark B. Spitz was named general manager of four subsidiary companies of Cargill, Inc.: Tennent Strapping Systems, Griplock of Canada, Elastomers, and Agricultural Chemicals. . . . James F. Lawrence named general manager of resin production and sales of Cargill, Inc. . . . American Association of Cereal Chemists named the following officers for the coming year: Howard C. Becker, president, Walter Bushuk, president-elect, Joseph G. Ponte, Jr., national secretary, Joseph Giertz, director. In addition, the following awards were presented: Dwayne O. Andreas and Martin I. Sosland received AACC Honorary Membership; Byron S. Miller and Raymond J. Tarleton received the William F. Geddes Memorial Award for outstanding service to the Association. . . . Synthetic Organic Chemical Manufacturers Association announced the following officers elected to 1-year terms: Elwood P. Blanchard, senior VP, Normand Phanuef, VP, Julius Goldman, treasurer, and Heinn F. Tomfohrde, III, president. . . . J.E. Quinty named sales manager, Western Operations, for the Fatty and Dibasic Acids Group of Emery Industries, Inc. . . . Durkee Industrial Foods Group/SCM Corp. has announced three new appointments in its Southern Region, Louisville, KY: Himus Sims to regional technical director, Fred Rudolph to Q.A. manager, and Richard Vonnahme to Q.C. laboratory supervisor. . . . Celanese Corp. appointed Alfred E. Brown to director of scientific affairs and Brian M. Rushton to president of Celanese Research Co., and announced the election of Frederic C. Hamilton as a member of its Board of Directors. . . . J.M. Huber Corp., Clay Div., has appointed David E. George as manager of field sales. . . . Stepan Chemical has promoted Edward A. Knaggs to director of commercial development, Paul G. Bay to technical director as well as manager of corp. research, and Charles W. Given to director of corp. planning. . . . Dorr-Oliver has announced the formation of an international food sales and marketing group and has named Lawrence Engel manager of the food group, David Eddington manager of corn processing, and Gerrit de Vries manager of sugar sales. . . . The Industrial Div. of CPC International, Inc. has announced the appointment of Morris J. Danzig to VP research and development. . . . Drew Chemical Corp. has appointed J. Inocencio Tan, Jr., to area manager, Philippines: ■

Morris J. Danzig

Raymond J. Tarleton and Byron S. Miller receive AACC Geddes Memorial Award.

David E. George

PLACES

Farmland Industries has dedicated a 2,000 tpd soybean processing plant. Crown Iron Works designed and fabricated the extraction room equipment, and the general contractor was W.A. Klinger, Inc. . . . BASF Wyandotte Corp. announced the start of construction for a multi-million dollar expansion of its polyol plant at Washington, NJ, with scheduled completion for mid- to late 1977. ■