

Internationaal Congrescentrum RAI

Amsterdam The Netherlands

Oct. 29 - Nov. 3, 1978

PURPOSE: To present, by means of lectures, demonstrations, and exhibits, the most current information on uses of vegetable proteins for nutritional and functional purposes in a wide range of present and future foods. Methods of utilizing available protein flours, grits, concentrates, isolates, and textured products will be discussed and exhibited in detail. The program is designed to attract and inform anyone interested in or responsible for the regulation of foods or food ingredients, public or private institutional feeding programs, food assistance or emergency feeding programs, and the commercial preparation or use of protein ingredients in food products.

Sponsored by The American Oil Chemists' Society

World Protein Conference II