NOTICE: On April 1, 1984, I will have re-opened my office in Decatur, Illinois after returning from a two-year permanent assignment in Mexico. I was in residence in Merida, Yucatan, Mexico as chief consulting engineer engaged in remodeling and expanding an existing soybean processing plant and the associated oil refinery producing bottled liquid soy oil, hydrogenated fats, and lecithin.

After April 1, 1984, I will be available for consultation, engineering design, plant location studies, and plant efficiency studies with respect to hexane loss and other operating costs for the oilseed industry for domestic or international assignments.
