Crown Ethers and Cryptands

By: G. W. Gokel, University of Miami, USA
Series: Monographs in Supramolecular Chemistry

Crown Ethers and Cryptands is the third in a series designed to reveal the challenges, rewards, fascination and excitement of this important branch of molecular science to a wide audience and to popularise it among the scientific community at large.

It provides the beginner or generalist with a perspective on the field and its early development. It also describes the syntheses, binding phenomena and complex structures of crown ethers and cryptands, and offers a representative sample of applications.

Many fine scientists have contributed to this field and the information in Crown Ethers and Cryptands is well referenced to review articles and monographs, as well as to the original literature.

MENDELEEV COMMUNICATIONS

Mendeleev Communications is a prestigious new primary journal, produced as a collaborative venture between The Academy of Sciences of the USSR and The Royal Society of Chemistry. It publishes original papers directly in English, giving the international chemical community rapid access to important new research from the Soviet Union in the shortest possible time.

The journal contains preliminary accounts of novel and significant results of wide general appeal or exceptional specialist interest and covers all branches of chemistry. In format and range of subject matter it closely resembles its 'sister' publication, the popular RSC journal Chemical Communications.

Important features include:

- ★ Primary publication in English of original Soviet chemistry
- ★ Two stages of rigorous refereeing – once in the USSR and once in the UK – to maintain the highest possible standards
- ★ Editorial Boards in both the USSR and UK composed of eminent scientists who will advise on refereeing policy
- ★ Rapid publication – appearance of papers within 12 weeks of receipt in the UK
- ★ High quality production and editing
- ★ News section containing details of forthcoming international conferences, letters and information about The Academy of Sciences of the USSR
- ★ Essential reading to keep up-to-date with current chemical research
- ★ Mendeleev Communications is NOT a translation journal
