

Editorial

This issue of the Journal of Applied Electrochemistry contains selected papers which were initially presented at the 2nd International Symposium on Electrolytic Bubbles which was held at Imperial College, London on 31st May and 1st June, 1988. This meeting was jointly promoted by the Electrochemical Technology Group of the Society of Chemical Industry (SCI) and the Electrochemistry Group of the Royal Society of Chemistry. The journal gratefully acknowledges the permission granted by the SCI to publish this material. The editor is personally grateful to Geoff Kelsall of Imperial College for his valued help in the organization of the meeting.
