

Editorial

This issue contains selected papers from the 7th European Symposium on Electrochemical Engineering held in Toulouse, France, in October 2005.

The symposium was sub-titled Multiple Faces of Electrochemical Engineering. I am grateful to Theo Tzedakis of the University Paul Sabatier, Toulouse, for his valued assistance with the procurement and processing of these papers.

Professor A.A. Wragg (Editor)
Exeter, August 2006