

Publisher's note

With great regret we inform our authors in the Western Hemisphere that Professor Dietmar Seyferth has resigned as regional editor for this territory. His contribution to the Journal of Organometallic Chemistry has been large and we regret to lose his involvement and wisdom.

At the same time, we are pleased to announce that Dr. R. Bruce King, who has been associated with the Journal of Organometallic Chemistry since 1964 in several capacities, as author, Editorial Board member, and Editor of the Annual Surveys, is now taking over as U.S. Regional Editor.

He will be responsible for papers originating from the United States, Canada, South America and Japan.

With effect from July 1st, 1981, all papers from these areas should be addressed to him as follows:

Professor R.B. King
Department of Chemistry
University of Georgia
ATHENS, GA 30601 (U.S.A.)

We sincerely welcome him as Regional Editor.

The Publisher