

COMMITTEE

APPOINTMENTS OF THE AMERICAN OIL CHEMISTS' SOCIETY

By W. D. HUTCHINSON
PRESIDENT

This Society is very fortunate in having so many of its members interested not only in its work and welfare, but co-operating in the programs which the Society has undertaken. A society whose members are willing and ready to serve its interests can move but in one direction and that is forward. We can look to the future with optimism as long as each member continues to do his part to strengthen and perpetuate the Society. The growth of our Society alone during the past year was a manifestation of the interest which the chemists of the industries served by this Society are taking in the efforts of the Society to serve various trade organizations and every industry connected with oils and fats.

We wish to extend a hearty welcome to every member who joined our Society during the past year and to ask their support in its work. If any member is interested in any particular work and is willing to serve, we will be only too glad to have an opportunity of placing him on some committee where his efforts may aid in some constructive undertaking.

Due to the lateness of our annual meeting, it was not possible to make a thorough canvass as to the desires and wishes of the various members. It was necessary to make up the committees largely from those names appearing on previous committees, but we feel that those appointed are especially qualified to do the work of their particular committee.

We now wish to thank the faithful standbys who have done so much in the past for the advancement of the Society and for the effort and time which they are going to spend in reaching the objectives which the chairmen of the
