

August 1 Is Deadline for Philadelphia Abstracts

GAZING INTO HIS CRYSTAL BALL, W. C. Ault, program chairman of the Delaware Valley meeting of the American Oil Chemists' Society, to be held October 10-12 in Philadelphia, foresees a fine scientific program and reports that titles and abstracts of papers are already being received. Deadline for information on titles, authors, and abstracts is August 1, Dr. Ault announces. Details should be sent to him at the Eastern Regional Research Laboratory, Philadelphia 18, Pa.

Except for a student session, the program is being largely limited to reports of original work, according to Dr. Ault, thus making for a maximum of interest and value. The student session, being arranged in cooperation with colleges and universities in the area, is intended to acquaint seniors and graduate students with opportunities in the field of fat chemistry. Lectures will be given by outstanding leaders, acquainted with educational, industrial, and governmental research organizations.

Fred H. Smith, Sharples Corporation, is in charge of registrations and reservations. P. E. Ronzone, of C. F. Simonin's and Sons Inc., is general chairman, also exhibits chairman. Sessions, exhibits, and registration will all be located on one floor of the Bellevue-Stratford hotel.

The Governing Board and various technical and administrative committees of the Society will meet during the fall meeting.
