

Short Course Registrations Are Announced

REGISTRATIONS for the 1959 short course on drying oils, to be held August 10-14, at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, are announced by M. W. Formo, general chairman, as follows:

- R. E. Beal, Northern Regional Research Laboratory, Peoria, Ill.
 J. A. F. Bonnier, Sherwin-Williams Company of Canada Ltd., Montreal, Quebec
 Ronald R. Demisch, Imperial Oil Ltd., Toronto, Ontario
 Donald Dudziak, Cargill Inc., Minneapolis, Minn.
 Peter Fanto-Kurtos, Linoleum Aktiebolaget Forshaga, Goteborg, Sweden
 Ronald L. Friedman, Shell Chemical Corporation, Union, N. J.
 Don S. Fritz, HumKo Company, Memphis, Tenn.
 Dennis Garns, Iowa Soya Company, Redfield, Ia.
 Ward A. Graham, Stratford Engineering Corporation, Kansas City, Mo.
 Bror J. Grondal, Salem Oil and Grease Company, Salem, Mass.
 P. W. Grounds Jr., Procter and Gamble Company, Cincinnati, O.
 C. A. Hoffman, Iowa Soya Company, Redfield, Ia.
 Robert A. Hovden, Cargill Inc., Minneapolis, Minn.
 W. Evans Johnson, Union Bag-Camp Paper Corporation, New York
 W. J. Johnson, C. & T. Refinery Inc., Charlotte, N. C.
 G. W. A. Kaars Sijpesteijn, N. V. Nederlandsche Linoleumfabriek, Krommenie, Holland
 Emmett V. Kenefick, Cargill Inc., Minneapolis, Minn.
 William R. Kochevar, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, Red Wing, Minn.
 W. O. Lundberg, Hormel Institute, Austin, Minn.
 Roger A. Lutz Jr., C. & T. Refinery Inc., Richmond, Va.
 William Maik, Canada Packers Ltd., Toronto, Ontario
 E. R. Mueller, Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, O.
 J. J. Owen Jr., Union Bag-Camp Paper Corporation, Savannah, Ga.
 Joseph A. Pawlak, Spencer Kellogg and Sons Inc., Buffalo, N.Y.
 Frank Schurb, Cargill Inc., Minneapolis, Minn.
 Robert Scott, Dominion Oilcloth and Linoleum Company Ltd., Montreal, Quebec
 John Sheperd, Cargill Inc., Minneapolis, Minn.
 Louis A. Sweet, HumKo Company, Memphis, Tenn.
 A. P. Tulloch, National Research Council of Canada, Prairie Regional Laboratory, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan
 Howard J. Wright, Cook Paint and Varnish Company, North Kansas City, Mo.
 Joseph R. Yaste, Central Soya Company Inc., Decatur, Ind.
 Walter S. Zarowski, Edible Oils Ltd., Fort William, Ontario
- The complete program of the short course was announced in the July issue of the Journal by the program chairman, D. H. Wheeler, of General Mills Inc., Minneapolis. Wednesday afternoon has been left free for plant or laboratory visits in the Twin Cities area.
- Day chairmen, respectively, will be L. V. Anderson, Minnesota Linseed Oil Paint Company; Max Kantor, Cargill Inc.; W. O. Lundberg, Hormel Institute; A. R. Baldwin, Cargill Inc.; and Mr. Formo.

Registration for the course has been set at $65, payable in advance to the American Oil Chemists' Society at 35 E. Wacker drive, Chicago 1, Ill. Board and room will be payable to the university on arrival. The student fee will be $15. A Minnesota tourist kit will be sent to each student with acceptance of registration. Anyone interested may attend.

In charge of the annual short courses is the Education Committee, of which J. C. Cowan is now chairman, succeeding K. F. Mattil. Dr. Cowan is with the Northern Regional Research Laboratory, Peoria, Ill.

• New Members

Active

- Bruce T. Alexander, research supervisor, Chemical Products Division, Girdler Catalysts, Louisville, Ky.
 Matti Tapio Antila, directory of laboratory, Raisio Tehtaat Oy, Raisio, Finland
 James Earle Bennett, chief of materials control and chemical services, Pillsbury Company, Springfield, Ill.
 Won Young (William) Choi, production manager, Pyung Hwa Soap Manufacturing Company Ltd., Seoul, Korea
 Martin E. Ginn, research chemist, Monsanto Chemical Company, Dayton, O.
 Allen H. Howland, general manager, Original Bradford Soap Works Inc., West Warwick, R.I.
 Lincoln Douglas Metcalfe, head, analytical section research division, Armour and Company, Chicago, Ill.
 Thomas David Parks, research and development, section head, Procter and Gamble Company, Cincinnati, O.
 Daniel Steinberg, chief, section on metabolism, National Heart Institute, Bethesda, Md.

Individual Associate

- Andrew Meserve Rankin, sales manager of by-products, Continental Can Company, New York, N.Y.

Annual Awards Established

The Protective Coatings Division of the Chemical Institute of Canada, Ottawa, Ontario, has announced the establishment of two annual awards, $100 first prize and $25 second prize, for technical papers submitted by members of the Institute and by undergraduate and graduate students of Canadian universities. The papers, which must be concise, informative discussions of approximately 3,000 to 6,000 words and containing 200- to 300-word abstracts, will be rated on the following points: originality, scientific importance, practical value to the paint, varnish, or lacquer industries, completeness of discussion, significance of deductions, and quality of composition. Further details of the awards are available from the Chemical Institute of Canada, 18 Rideau street, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada.

President Reviews Year

ADDRESSING the 37th Congress of the International Association of Seed Crushers at Cannes, France, on June 2, 1959, the president, Guy Chipperfield, commented that the year since Brussels had been a difficult one. Apart from low-priced whale and palm oil, butter, and lard, the combination of the drought in the Philippines and the unrest in Indonesia affected both the stability of prices and the relative consumption of the various vegetable oils.

Mr. Chipperfield mentioned the problem of U. S. surpluses and subsidies and recommended the desirability of exploring outlets in so-called "backward" countries rather than embarrass markets accustomed to normal quantities. He also discussed efforts to improve the quality of copra, the need for a universal metric system, and adjustments to the European Economic Community.

A. R. Baldwin

Max Kantor