Northeast Section

Sixth Annual Unit Process Symposium

The Northeast Section of AOCS will hold a one-day symposium entitled "Nutritional Aspects of Fats and Oils," at Military Park Hotel, Tuesday, April 4, 1967.

The speakers are all acknowledged leaders in their respective fields of study and will be presenting topics of current interest; in addition, they will be available for informal discussions during the luncheon period. Repeating the arrangements of previous years, each speaker will be seated at a different table, and those registering early for the symposium may list their preferences for choice of table seating.

The speakers for the all-day symposium and the topics to be presented are as follows: P. R. Holt, Director, Gastro Intestinal Unit, Department of Medicine, Saint Luke's Hospital, "Physiologic and Clinical Studies of Medium Chain Triglycerides"; Hans Fisher, Professor, Department of Animal Science, College of Agricultural & Environmental Science, Rutgers University, "Pectins, Cholesterol and Arteriosclerosis"; E. Kendell, Professor of Biochemistry, Goldwater Memorial Hospital, Columbia University, "Relationships Between the Pattern of Carbohydrate Nutrition and Lipid Metabolism"; J. L. Knittle, Assistant Professor, Rockefeller University, "Studies of Adipose Tissue Cellularity (Obesity)"; Donald McKay, Chairman of the Department of Pathology, Columbia University, "Disseminated Thrombosis Produced by Oxidized Lipid Diets"; H. M. Sinclair, Professor of Biochemistry, Oxford University, "Function of Essential Fatty Acids."

This symposium has been the responsibility of the chairman, Hans Kaunitz of Columbia Presbyterian Hospital. The co-chairman is Robert Casparian.
