

AOCS-AACC Joint Meeting Followed by a . . .

Casa Montego at Montego Bay, newly-selected hotel for the AOCS-AACC post-convention tour to Jamaica, enjoys a priceless setting: in the distance Doctor's Cave Beach and the Caribbean; in the foreground, the lush Jamaican forest.

CARE TO SPEND SOME TIME next April rafting through a lush bamboo jungle, noisy with birds? Or watch banana boats loading at Oracabessa? Live in a room with a view so fantastic that opening the blinds is a major event of the day? Splash your way up a 600-foot high waterfall? Feast on pawpaw, mangoes, naseberries, soursofs, and ortaniques, washed down with the finest rum in the world? Or just lie on a sun-baked, palm-fringed beach and watch the cool trade winds ripple the surface of the Caribbean?

Whatever your pleasure, you'll be able to make it yours this April during a six day post AOCS-AACC Joint Meeting "Holiday in Jamaica." Site of the holiday adventure will be Montego Bay, poshest of the island's resort areas. The hotel, Casa Montego, one of the area's most fashionable.

Montego Bay's past as a port is rooted in sugar and bananas, but its present is firmly committed to its position as Jamaica's largest resort area. Like Kingston, Montego Bay is an international marketplace, with a wide range of small shops, cafes, and museums. Within walking distance of the hotel is the town center, bustling with straw goods vendors, market women and donkeys. This is a free port where fantastic bargains of imported goods are everywhere.

Seven miles east of town stands famous Rose Hall, in its day the finest great house in Jamaica, now a gaunt ruin of pink and grey slavehewn stone.

For golfers there are two fine championship courses: a par 72 at Half Moon-Rose Hall, and the magnificent par 71 Tryall course. There is also an excellent 9-hole layout at the Country Club, as well as tennis courts, facilities for horseback riding and a wide range of ocean sports.

But Montego Bay's principal drawing card is famous Doctor's Cave Beach, described as one of the ten most beautiful natural beaches in the world. Within a stone's throw of the Casa Montego, it is the center of the hotel's activities and the location of some of the best evening entertainment on the island.

The tour's departure date from Washington, D.C. is Friday, April 5, at 11:45 A.M., with arrival at Montego Bay at 4:50 P.M. The tour returns April 10, leaving 3:15 P.M. and arriving at Miami 5:35 P.M. The cost of the five nights and six days, Modified American Plan (breakfast and dinner) will be $375 per person (double room). Single rooms are available at additional charge.

Independent arrangements for those wishing to extend their stay at Montego Bay or visit other islands in the area may be made through the tour travel agent.
