

AACC-AOCS JOINT MEETING

EXHIBITS

An unprecedented variety of exhibits was available to all at the March 31-April 4 combined meeting of The American Oil Chemists' Society and The American Association of Cereal Chemists. The facilities of the Washington Hilton Hotel were ideal for attractive and convenient arrangement of booths, and for easy access for viewers. New equipment and products were displayed to the best possible advantage, with ample time for company representatives to answer questions about the exhibits and about the companies manufacturing the materials on view.
