Shiga Prefecture bans phosphate detergents

In Shiga Prefecture, a regulation to reduce eutrophication of Lake Biwa was introduced in the General Assembly on Sept. 14. The regulation includes a provision banning the sale and use of phosphate-containing detergents. Despite the vigorous opposition of the Japan Soap and Detergent Association, the regulation was approved on Oct. 16. The rules will become effective about June 1980. The effect on the detergent industry is not yet known.
