Perkin Editorial Board

The attention of readers and authors of papers is drawn to the setting up of a Perkin Editorial Board which has amongst its responsibilities the following :

1. To advise the Editor on scientific matters concerning journals associated with the Perkin Division: this includes refereeing and standards for the acceptance of papers.
2. To act as final arbiters in cases of appeal by authors in connexion with the rejection or modification of a paper.
3. Where desirable, to recommend changes in the format, content and style of journals within its remit.

The Board reports on its activities to the Journals Committee and the Perkin Divisional Council of the Royal Society of Chemistry. Suggestions and criticisms from readers and authors concerning matters within the remit of the Board are most welcome.

Professor L. Crombie
Chairman
